

Amy MCWhirter

EMCEE and Event Host

Areas of Expertise

Emcee, Event Host, Corporate Speaker, Trade Show Presenter, Consultant, Moderator, Awards and Gala Host.

Experience

Information Technology, Cybersecurity, HealthCare & Medical, Manufacturing, Electronics, Finance, Government and other industries for corporations, associations and Fortune Global 500's.

What You Get

1. Engaged audiences: Amy consistently draws people in, drives event forward, maintaining focus and connection.
2. Increased ROI, enhanced event outcomes and satisfaction, more qualified leads, increased revenue.
3. Skilled communicator: Authentically maintains audience interest and transforms technical concepts into relatable conversation.
4. An expert: Audiences often assume Amy is a subject expert and even company or industry insider.
5. Polish: Projects your company, messaging and brand with high energy, charisma and credibility.
6. Highly Adaptive: Matches tone, humor and messaging to each audience, handles variables with ease and improvisation.
7. Partner: Custom completed scripting prior to event and last-minute changes handled with ease, partner in ensuring messaging and event outcomes.

Creating connection and impact. Authentically engaging audiences.

Soulful and captivating, Amy increases event revenue and ROI by engaging with and energizing audiences to connect with key messages and to take action.

Captivating audiences in an authentic way that creates real connection and impact, professional Emcee and Host Amy McWhirter is renowned for her warmly energetic, engaging, natural approach that encourages audiences of all sizes to make the most of their event experience.

Combining an insider's understanding and passion for communication with extensive experience in broadcasting and live events, Amy helps audiences get to the heart of every program and session, making sure messages are loud, clear and compelling.

Amy brings consistent energy, an ability to truly connect with audiences through expression, improvisation and attentive focus, and a deep desire for people to find value in attending conferences, meetings, award galas, and corporate events. As such she regularly works with marketing teams and executives to help craft speeches, presentations, scripting, content, interviews and engagement activities to drive home the central themes and messages of her clients' events and ensure that the audience come away with value.

Authenticity, consistent enthusiasm, professionalism, flexibility, keen awareness to read the room, and your emcee's natural ability to improvise with humor and grace ensure that attendees will participate in dynamic sessions with higher satisfaction post-event.

What clients are saying:

"I just wanted to say a formal thank you for being such an amazing Host/Professional/Moderator/General Giver of Calm at the IFS World Conference. The client is delighted. The show was complex and the demands from all directions a tricky balancing act. Thank you for your humor and ability to 'read the room'. I am not sure you can 'rock' a software conference but we came very close!"

-Elsa Ford, Producer, Live Events | IFS World Conference

"Simply Amazing! That is how I would describe Amy. She is the most professional and fantastic presenter. Her stage presence, her ability to hit the message consistently on target every time, her ability to absorb and learn the technology, and her skills in making script change recommendations for the best message, makes her absolutely unique. I have worked with Amy in three different companies now, and over a number of years. I would highly highly recommend Amy, as I have yet to meet or see any other presenter that is even close to what Amy delivers. " - Yama Habibzai, Chief Marketing Officer | Densify

"Just wanted to say big thank you again for last night. The event went really well and you were key to that success. Brilliant MC, Charismatic, dynamic with our guests...just what we needed!"

- Pere Ramirez, Operations Manager | Tarsus Group

"When it comes to professional, attention-grabbing and consistent presentations for any public venue, Amy is a must have! She has the perfect combination of energy and professionalism that instantly lends credibility to practically any presentation. You really brought my script to life and truly spoke to the audience." - Mike Guillory, Manager WW Marketing Communications | Texas Instruments

"I have gotten so much positive feedback about you as the host for our live event! And I second that! You looked so natural and relaxed! It was a pleasure to work with you again and great job! "

- Tracy Niehaus, Marketing Manager | Honeywell Intelligrated

"Several times a day our own employees asked me if we hired someone new because she was that believable. If you didn't know firsthand she was a professional speaker you would think she is visiting our customers and talking about our technology on a daily basis."

- Renee Schouten, Director of Marketing | INX

"I am so honored and proud to recommend Amy as one of the very best hosts, emcees, TV personalities in the world. Amy's personality, knowledge and rapid brain comprehension provided us the opportunity to double sales. Amy's style, smile and inflection as she speaks is second to none. Do yourself a favor while saving time and being rewarded with the results you expect. Amy by far is the best at what she does. I've witnessed her work first hand for our clients and she knows how to get into your soul."

- Dave Peroni, Principal | The Ad Group Agency

