

AMY McWHIRTER

Dynamic | Engaging | Professional

Areas of Expertise

Corporate Event Host, Emcee, Host, Trade Show Presenter, Consultant, Corporate Speaker, Moderator.

Experience

Information Technology, Cybersecurity, HealthCare & Medical, Manufacturing, Electronics, Construction, Graphics, Government and other industries for corporations and Fortune Global 500's.

What You Get

1. Engaged audiences: Amy consistently draws people in, drives event forward, maintaining focus and connection.
2. More qualified sales leads and enhanced event outcomes.
3. Skilled communicator: Authentically maintaining audience interest and transforming technical concepts into relatable conversation.
4. An expert: Audiences assume Amy is a subject expert and often company or industry insider.
5. Polish: Projects your company, messaging and brand with high energy, charisma and credibility.
6. Highly Adaptive: Matches tone and messaging to each audience.
7. Partner: Custom completed scripting prior to event and last-minute changes and improv handled with ease.

Creating connections and driving engagement at your next event

Maximize the return on your event, conference, meeting and trade show investment with Amy McWhirter.

Amy's authentic, engaging style connects with audiences in a way that creates true connections between people, to emotions and key takeaways.

Corporations, organizations and event planners spend significant time, effort and money making their events a success, and ensuring the best ROI possible. A seemingly small addition - hiring a professional host - can make a big difference in the outcome of their event and the experience and engagement of audiences.

Clients appreciate Amy's warmth, professionalism, credibility, energy, enthusiasm, flair for becoming part of the team, and ability to truly engage, empower and connect with audiences.

"Becoming the brand" for whomever she is representing, Amy's focus is always on aligning presentations and moderation to her client's identity.

Her skills in improvisation and quick thinking inspire confidence that any unplanned changes in live settings will be handled with ease.

She is a partner to your company's team, working closely to ensure more qualified sales leads, successful events, audience engagement and maximum ROI!

What clients are saying:

"Several times a day our own employees asked me if we hired someone new because she was that believable. If you didn't know firsthand she was a professional speaker you would think she is visiting our customers and talking about our technology on a daily basis."

- Renee Schouten, Director of Marketing | INX

"I just wanted to say a formal thank you for being such an amazing Host/Professional/Moderator/General Giver of Calm at the IFS World Conference. The client is delighted. The show was complex and the demands from all directions a tricky balancing act. Thank you for your humor and ability to 'read the room'. I am not sure you can 'rock' a software conference but we came very close!"

-Elsa Ford, Producer, Live Events | IFS World Conference

"Simply Amazing! That is how I would describe Amy. She is the most professional and fantastic presenter. Her stage presence, her ability to hit the message consistently on target every time, her ability to absorb and learn the technology, and her skills in making script change recommendations for the best message, makes her absolutely unique. I have worked with Amy in three different companies now, and over a number of years. I would highly recommend Amy, as I have yet to meet or see any other presenter that is even close to what Amy delivers. " - Yama Habibzai, Chief Marketing Officer | Densify

"Just wanted to say big thank you again for last night. The event went really well and you were key to that success. Brilliant MC, Charismatic, dynamic with our guests...just what we needed!"

- Pere Ramirez, Operations Manager | Tarsus Group

"When it comes to professional, attention-grabbing and consistent presentations for any public venue, Amy is a must have! She has the perfect combination of energy and professionalism that instantly lends credibility to practically any presentation. You really brought my script to life and truly spoke to the audience." - Mike Guillory, Manager WW Marketing Communications | Texas Instruments

"I have gotten so much positive feedback about you as the host for our live event! And I second that! You looked so natural and relaxed! It was a pleasure to work with you again and great job! "

- Tracy Niehaus, Marketing Manager | Honeywell Intelligated

"Amy is amazing to work with. She is a true professional. She adjusted easily to our last minute changes and provided excellent suggestions to make our events more impactful. I would highly recommend Amy. She is a pleasure to work with." - Tom Chadwick, Senior Business Marketing Manager | Elekta

