

New Work for January in Cazenovia Artisans

Our members are always busy, always creative, always ready to try something new. Every month, we will bring you a few examples of new work by our artisans and artists. Stop by and see for yourselves.

Sue Ellen Romanowski's Framed Quilts

Sue Ellen's quilts have always been works of art. And now they are framed to really show them off. Shown on the left is "Wind Blown", a beautiful image of a tree in winter. The piece started out as a blank slate of white fabric. She then painted the tree, the sky, and the rocks. The rest is thread work and is just amazing. And above is "Games We Play", which has exquisite turquoise thread work on top of a colorful, playful quilt.

Beautiful Everyday Objects: Jim Burke's Whisks

Everyone needs a whisk in their kitchen. And these whisks are just great: beautiful, colorful, comfortable in the hand, and nicely priced. These make great gifts!

Barb Decker Has New Tricks on Her Loom!

When we called Barb Decker to talk to her about these terrific new scarves, she was so excited to tell us all about them! It is a new technique for Barb, called "turned taquete", a version of a threaded twill that makes for different patterns on each side. One side is checkerboard, and the other has bars on stripes. It "sucks up yarn" Barb says, so it makes for a warmer, thicker scarf. But because she uses soft chenille yarn, it still has a lovely drape. There are only two in the shop now, but there are three more on the loom. Come and get yours today!

Look at This Amazing Secretary by Marilyn Fegan

Marilyn loves to find old pieces of furniture and turn each into something new. Here is a really terrific writing desk that she has embellished with a classic black and white checkerboard theme, and trimmed with red accents. There is a cupboard at the top, and the writing desk pulls out. This is an absolutely one of a kind piece. And once it is gone, we will never see anything like it again!
