

New Work for January at Cazenovia Artisans

Our members are always busy, always creative, always ready to try something new. Every month, we will bring you a few examples of new work by our artisans and artists. Stop by and see for yourselves.

Barb Decker's Boa and Snakeskin Scarves

Barb Decker is always trying new techniques at her loom, creating new patterns in woven fiber. Here are two new patterns she has just created. She has dubbed the snakeskin pattern "Keith Richards", and then named the peacock feather one "Cher"! These scarves have a luxurious drape to them. And if you don't see both when you come in, worry not, she has more on her loom!

Tad Retz's Watercolors

Tad Retz joined us as a Consigning Member less than a year ago. We continue to be overwhelmed by all the talent this young artist displays. In addition to his oils and acrylics on boards, he has just brought in some new watercolors on paper. They are recognizably by the same artist, yet show the breadth of his vision as an artist.

Taddeus Retz
Griffith Observatory, 2016

Taddeus Retz
Church on 20th Street, 2016
Watercolor
$150.00

Deb Wester Cow Selfies

For years, Deb Wester has been gazing at cows. And now they have begun gazing back. Her new cow paintings really express an intimacy with her continuing subject matter: the beauty of our own natural and rural surrounding. Come see her cow selfie portraits today.

Susan Machamer's Big Beautiful Bracelets

These sterling silver bracelets are just gorgeous - shiny, substantial, and stylish. A little black dress, one of these bracelets, and you will be good to go. They range in design and size, and come with textures or embellished with 14K bezels and rubies. Come try them on!

©2017 Cazenovia Artisans | Cazenovia, NY

Web Version

Forward

Unsubscribe

Powered by Mad Mimi®
A GoDaddy® company