Exposure

YouTube: With the recent purchase of a GoPro camera, I have gotten more involved on YouTube. The focus in my videos are to create videos that will be long lasting, educational, and entertaining. By long lasting, the videos are useful for viewers today and years to come. I encourage you to Subscribe to my channel, "Andrew Buss." Here are a few videos:

Tournament Success

2017: On top of running the second largest bass fishing circuit in the states of Indiana & Michigan, the R & B Bass Circuit, I also compete in them. In the West Division, I and partner finished 4th Place Overall out of 63 competing teams. After the hassle of registration, I would fish just like the other competitors, but return early to set up, then run, the weigh-in. The fruits of my labor can be seen at www.randbbasscircuit.com

August 26: At the Grand River (Grand Have, MI), I finished Second Place and won the Big Bass Award (right) at the Michiana Bass Angler's single's event. I was able to catch a mixed bag of largemouth and smallmouth bass—some came from the river, while others were caught on Lake Michigan. The big bass weighed 4.2 pounds.

July 22: On Paw Paw Lake (Coloma, MI), I weighed 15.00 pounds to finish Fifth Place (left) in the SouthWest Michigan Big Bass Challenge. While I did trick a few smallmouth with crankbaits, all five fish weighed were largemouth bass that were caught with soft plastics and jigs under and around docks.

July 15: A Victory and Big Bass Award (right) were earned at the Michiana Bass Anglers single's event on Austin Lake (Portage, MI). Once again, I weighed all largemouth bass caught with soft plastics and jigs under and around docks.
