Democratic Party Leader Wendy Williams Files for County Commissioner District Four Race

June 19, 2018: Wendy Williams, Chair of the Citrus County Democratic Executive Committee, has filed to run for County Commissioner District Four. Williams' primary focus will be alleviating poverty in the county. She says, "We can attract industries that pay higher wages and preserve the natural beauty of Citrus County. It's not one option or the other."

Williams has been a Citrus County resident since 2006. She holds a Bachelor's degree in administrative studies from Nova University (now Nova Southeastern University) and has over 15 years' experience in small business administration and marketing. She currently works as an independent contractor providing marketing and public relations services. In 2015-16, she implemented the Rapid Rehousing and Homeless Prevention program at United Way of Citrus County, assisting over 150 families in maintaining or obtaining permanent housing during the ten-month program. "I understand the frustrations of families trying to build a better life, while struggling with minimum wage opportunities. These families deserve and want better opportunities. The abundance of recreational activities combined with the low cost of living makes Citrus County a desirable location for industries who can bring those better opportunities," said Williams. "I am very excited to enter this race. My vision and willingness to fight for a better future for Citrus County makes me the best choice in the District 4 Commissioner race."
