

LONDON YOGA FESTIVAL

September 30th, 2017

awareness | community | sharing

This is London's Premier Yoga Event of the Year!

More and more people throughout North America are practicing Yoga.

Participation in Yoga has increased by 80% from 2012 to 2016

London and the surrounding communities are likely following this exploding market trend.

For the first time ever a group of London and area yoga studios and teachers have joined together to create this exciting one-day celebration of Yoga. The proceeds from this amazing event will be benefiting the local Anova (formerly Women's Community House/Sexual Assault Centre London).

We are fortunate to have high quality local facilities and excellent teachers right in our own back yard. Many of them will be playing a key part to make this event one to remember.

Admission to the main hall is by donation. The main hall will be a hub of activity featuring guest speakers as well as demonstrations and yoga classes. There will be a variety of specialty yoga classes offered to the general public for a small fee.

The London Yoga Festival is offering an opportunity for your business to connect and promote your offering to this burgeoning local marketplace.

This will be a unique and high quality event. Your involvement can help to build support for an annual London Yoga Festival.

Please review your sponsorship options below and contact Tony Saddy to discuss how you can "get in on the ground floor" to what promises to be a thriving, annual event.

Namaste,
