Inferno is the latest book in the series starting with the Da Vinci Code. It was just released earlier this year and it was a great read! Robert Langdon (main character)'s action packed journey through all of Europe was fantastic, teeth gritting, as well as chilling. This book was an amazing combination of action and mystery so if you've even slightly enjoyed any previous book by Dan Brown, I would recommend it to you.

This book was so amazing I read it in one sitting. I waited half an year to be able to buy this book so the day I got it, I just kept on reading and reading until I was finally over with this fantastic novel. It is a must read by any standards and I would give it a five out of five for an excellent read.
