

I've Discovered Fury Being Released from Americans Over This NFL Issue (typical, divide & conquer response)

---

NFL Players upset with the U.S.A.'s treatment of African Americans

Many people have immobilized their support of the NFL and their argument is

The players are rich, nowhere else in the world could someone earn millions playing football and no other country would blacks be millionaires.

Whites work extremely hard, difficult, and long hours to earn on avg. 10% of their annual income of NFL players.

We can't merely say, "we're not going to let these black's ruin the beloved entertainment for us."

This is what the product is. This is who they are. We can't state we don't agree with their stupidity and ignorance, only to continue giving them more of our hard-earned money. As we're becoming poor and they're becoming richer, we surely cannot promote this to continue further.

When will this behavior halt? Will they ever be happy? Perchance, they'll be satisfied when they're filthy rich and we're their slaves? No, they still won't be satisfied. We'll have to be beaten and whipped like they claim their ancestors were.

The Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion

Is a guidebook explaining to the world's Jew's, how they'll take-over the world. Written like the 10 commandments, one of the most important methods states...

When referring to the Gentiles, they'll distract us with sports and entertainment while committing their destructive NWO deeds.

As Americans watch the NFL, the television is constantly flashing Masonic/Kabbalist symbols at the viewer. Brady's 5th-ring Super Bowl half-time was just the beginning of complete obnoxiousness and brain-washing.

An anonymous non-NFL supporter's argument is copied beneath,

All black organizations (NCAAP, etcetera) aren't commenced or operated by blacks, thus Jews. (a divide-and-conquer scheme).

Most slave-ship owners were Jewish. Newport, R.I. was founded by rich slave-ship owners. Thus, the oldest Synagogue in the U.S. resides in Newport, Ri. (this information has been withdrawn from their version of events).

Modern African-Americans continue demanding retribution for slavery, yet 0% of them would remove a few generations of African slavery in the U.S. if they had they choice to travel back in time to perform such an act.

1. They were already slaves in Africa. Thus, African slave owners were selling portions of their slaves for cash.
2. When slave-ships failed to arrive on the coast, all slaves were slaughtered. Thus, the ships saved their lives, although, they still faced doom; but were doing so for their future generations.

3. Approximately, 10.7 million African slaves were transported to the New World, but only 400,000 were fortunate to land within the United States > roughly, only 5% !
4. Like the Native American Indians who were literally living in the Stone-Age. (e.g. for bow & arrows, they used rock tips on the arrows) they jumped into the most advanced civilization of mankind's history. The Bronze-Age began 3,500 B.C. Henceforth, a 5,000-year advancement produced by means of a few generations of slavery is, undoubtedly, the greatest advancement, improvement, and acquisition for the smallest sacrifice known in the entire history of humankind. Imagine how much slavery, famine, wars, disease, changing weather-conditions, and an immense list of additional hardships the white's suffered during that length of time.

Of 'course, this I all assuming the Africans would advance at an identical rate as the whites, which's highly unlikely; they didn't have a written language or any of the other basic foundations of civilization when brought into the U.S.A.

5. So, I ask the N.F.L. players, would you prefer we take it all back?

They walk around using cellphones transmitting 4th-dimension invisible signals into outer-space and then back directly into the ear of whoever they choose; and all within seconds. Do they even appreciate it? Do they realize they couldn't even have invented a pencil to write or fork to eat with?

The African Muslims actually support the Middle-Eastern Arabs who are also Muslims; due to the shared religion. They haven't been taught that the Arabs enslaved and murdered tens-of-millions of Africans, while brutally forcing them to convert to Islam. Why aren't they aware to this fact? A: They don't have Jews teaching them this reality and constantly beating-it within their brains centuries after the fact.