Small breeds run the risk of suffering from hypoglycemia. Though it is very easy to treat, it can be deadly if not treated right away. Hypoglycemia is when there is a sudden drop in glucose/blood sugar. Puppies are especially susceptible between the age of 5-20 weeks. It can be triggered by stress, fatigue, changes in food, sudden changes in feeding schedule, change of environment or low body temperature. Taking your puppy home is a very exciting time but can be very stressful and scary for your new puppy. It is important to watch them closely for the first few days.

Signs of Hypoglycemia: *Collapsing *Depression *Disorientation *Listlessness *Drowsiness *Muscle Weakness *Refuses to eat or drink *Seizures *Shivering *Tremors *Unresponsive *Vomiting *White Gums

Treatment: *Give a small amount of Karo or pancake syrup (not sugar free), or honey. *Coat the puppy's gums and continue to monitor closely *Repeat every 5-10 minutes as necessary *If puppy does not show improvement within 15-20 minutes call your veterinarian

By signing you understand what hypoglycemia is, the symptoms, and what to do if your puppy starts to show symptoms of hypoglycemia. You understand that untreated hypoglycemia can result in permanent damage or death of your new puppy.
