b. At the time each novice horse is entered at the first point show, members must first nominate the horse for a fee of $10 using the horse's registered name and the horse's lifetime earnings for points to count. If a horse is not registered, members must use the horse's nickname combined with the member's last name. The BBRA Secretary must be advised on the registered and nickname of the horse to be kept on file. At each following point show, you must continue to use the registered name and lifetime earnings.

c. If the amount of money is not shown on the entry form, no points will be given to that horse that day. If a member thinks he/she wrote the wrong amount down for the horse's lifetime earnings, they have 72 hours (3 days) from the day of the point show to notify the secretary. Otherwise, horses lifetime earnings shown on the entry form or on the horse's record sheet (whichever is higher) will stand. Any member competing in the wrong class based on lifetime earnings of the novice horse will be fined $20, lose any points they have accumulated, and points will be given to the next horse in line. The money earned will remain as paid out.

d. A horse may enter as many classes for which he is eligible based on money won that day, but points will only count in the lowest class of eligibility for that day. A novice horse cannot be entered twice in the same class.

If money is won in the open on your novice horse or at any other function, your horse is still required to move up in class according to the amount of money it has won.
- i. The BBRA Secretary is empowered to publish an "uh-oh" list in the newsletter. This list will identify all members who have reported discrepancies in the lifetime earnings of their novice horse (but are running in the correct class) and will serve as a notice that these members have contacted the Secretary. The Secretary is not responsible for contacting each member. (This list DOES NOT apply to those members who run in the wrong class) (See 4c above)

GENERAL INFORMATION

Conclusion

These rules cannot cover all possible situations that may arise during a show, nor can they regulate all administrative questions. Where cases are not precisely regulated by a rule, it should be possible to reach a reasonable decision by looking at the Rule Book. The rules assume that Directors and Officers have the necessary competence sound judgment and absolute objectivity. Too detailed a rule might deprive the official of his/her freedom of judgment and thus prevent him/her from finding the solution to a problem dictated by fairness, special factors, and logic. BBRA chooses to be a nonprofit organization; therefore, members, officers and area directors must follow the rules and regulations of a non profit organization.

Warning: BBRA, its Members and Board of Directors are NOT responsible for Contractual, Consequential and or Civil Damages. Under Texas Law (chapter 87, Civil Practice and Remedies code) An Equine professional is NOT liable for an injury to or the death of a participant in equine activities resulting from the inherent risk of equine activities.
