Shooters,

You are finding this match report a month late and I apologize. The first match of our Winter 22 BPCR season went "a little rocky" as Dick Hennebry said. Coralee and I have been terribly busy and somehow found time to prepare at the last minute. Then she came down with a nasty cold and didn't get far from the couch on match day! ARG!! We got through it, but it was sure a reminder about how much she does for all of us. Coralee had some beef barley soup ready to heat up, and we managed not to burn it, and Bev Reed made dinner rolls and Momma Lorraine whipped up a big pan of pumpkin bars. We made do, to say the least. It was sure good.

The match went smoothly and we had some great shooting take place. Mary Zang shot well and won AA class with a 27. Jeff Woodring shot a master score of 31 to win AAA. Your current Wyoming State Champion, Cole Sauer, put up a good score of 32 to be high master, and also smoked a 243 on the paper target to be high paper. Our fifth station paper target this month was 10 shots prone at 100 yards with 4 sighter shots. Things got a little interesting in Grand Master class with Michael and I tying with 34's. We settled it in a shoot off and Michael soundly thumped me! I think maybe young grasshopper had gotten a little mouthy and old master had to slap him around a little....lol. Great Shooting Michael!

Thank you all for all of the support and friendship. The fun and memories we have made over the last several years is priceless and we are so pleased to be entering our 6th Winter Season.

take care, Cody
