ADVENT NIGHT

December 8th

A Potluck Supper (bring your favorite dish) sponsored by the Fellowship Committee, starting at 5:30pm. The meal will be followed by tree decorating and (caroling?).

CHRISTMAS TREE LEGEND

Because it stays green all through the year, the evergreen tree is symbolic of the eternal life offered to Christians through faith in Christ.

The treetop points up to heaven.

A star signifies the star which guided the Wise men to Bethlehem.

The lights represent Christ, the "Light of the World."

Gifts beneath the tree are representative of God's gift of his only begotten son, who brings Peace, Love, Hope, and Joy.

CHRISTMAS EVE CANDLELIGHT SERVICE

7:00pm

DECEMBER 13th-at 2:00pm St. Lucia Day- Service

This is a Swedish Tradition, something new that Joy has not before celebrated.

St. Lucia's Day, festival of lights celebrated in Sweden, Norway, and the Swedish-speaking areas of Finland on December 13th in honor of St. Lucia (St. Lucy). One of the earliest Christian martyrs, St. Lucia was killed by the Romans in 304AD because of her religious beliefs. (Encyclopedia Britannica)

Dear Friends,

'Tis the season to be mindful. Holidays are something else. For some, it's like a Publix commercial with a perfectly cooked feast spreading in all directions. For some, it's like a piddling Charlie Brown Christmas tree. Occasionally, some are over-the-moon with joy. Occasionally, some are down-in-the dumps. Sometimes, we might prove to be a combination of all these scenarios and maybe even a few more.

My gift to you this Christmas is a recipe for meaningful holidays. It does not require you to stock a single grocery item. It does, however, require that you take stock of yourself.

Pr. Bryant's recipe for meaningful holidays is this:

1. Stay centered. Jesus is "the reason for the season." It's all about Jesus. You are not the hub around which everything revolves, not organizing, not gift wrapping, not tree trimming. Sure, those things are great, but are they central? Since everything centers on Jesus, make space for conversation, community, and memory-making. These will mean more in future days than the perfect picture of the tree taken before the cats discover it.
2. Set boundaries. It's wise to know when enough is enough. It's wise to know when to take a step back, to unplug, to unwind, to say "No." Studies show that it's even wise to unplug the bright lights 30 minutes before bedtime so that our minds settle.
3. Watch out for expectations. Often expectations, and particularly those around holidays, can prove themselves to be premeditated resentments. Each holiday is unique. No two are exactly alike. If we measure one holiday by another, our expectations can rob us of discovering new joys and encountering new blessings. We can unintentionally sabotage holidays for self and others by having expectations, especially if those expectations are not communicated, or if others are given no voice in their creation. Others are not responsible for our holiday happiness. We are responsible for making the most of our situation.
4. Limit social media consumption. Social Media is a good thing that can have a bad effect. It can inadvertently cause us to we measure our life, our holiday, and our experience against that of others. It can make us focus on others in such a way that can result in us thinking poorly of ourselves. You have a life unique and specific to you. You also have holidays unique and specific to you. Just because Instagram shows some else having a holiday that seems good to them, it doesn't mean that your good holiday is the poorer for it.
5. Gift yourself. You are worth a gift fit for a king or queen. Give yourself the chocolate doughnut, the pedicure, the hockey tickets, the Disney+ channel, or whatever your heart desires that you can reasonably afford. Self-care is important. Celebrate the gift that is you. (my 2019 Christmas gift to self will be "cheese stars" ---holiday favorites of my childhood)

6. Decorate to suit yourself. Not up for a tree. Why not hang an ornament from the ceiling fan pull gussied up with some garland? Up for a tree? Go ahead and indulge yourself. Only want a poinsettia? Go for it. What brings us joy is not always what brings another joy.

7. Know your needs. If cooking is your thing, but you find yourself trapped in the kitchen with "that person," why not have your favorite holiday music playing in the background? Wouldn't it be better to focus on Bing Crosby's voice rather than the voice who keeps reminding you that you don't do like they do it over in Pensacola? And, never underestimate the power of aromas. Step into a room away from the bedlam, perhaps where a lavender candle is lit. Breathe. Rest. Enjoy a glass of sauvignon blanc or hot cuppa. As said to me by a friend, I say to you, "You do you, Boo." Get what you need in healthy ways and you lessen the likelihood of getting what you need in unhealthy ways.

8. And, if all else fails, refer back to number one. The point of Christmas, and holiday hullabaloo, isn't about pumpkin rolls, perfected sauces, or Gevalia Royal Vinter. It's about Jesus, without whom, the rest would prove meaningless.

God bless you---

BACKPACK PROGRAM

"BREAD OF LIFE" BACKPACK PROGRAM

The "2019-2020 School Year" has begun. The "Bread of Life" backpack program for Turner Elementary School is a wonderful outreach to our community. So please be generous in your monetary donations, as we provide food for seven families each weekend. The cost is about $175 per week.

Thank you everyone for your donations and helping with the packing and delivery of the backpacks.

See Charlotte Abrahams for any further details concerning this great program.

STEWARDSHIP IN ACTION

A Big "Thank You" goes out to Ken Wolf for the free lawn service that he has so faithfully provided for us.

DAILY BREAD, INC.

We thank God for the opportunity we have to serve our neighbor through the Daily Bread ministry at JOY.

The need for what we often take for granted, food and basic necessities, is evident in the ministry of Daily Bread.

† Warm meals at a soup kitchen: Whether people are looking for refuge from the streets or a little extra help to get by, a warm meal and a seat at the table can go a long way.

† Daily Bread serves meals to people in need. They also help connect people to resources they need, addressing long term needs and overcoming hunger and poverty and homelessness.

JOY Lutheran Church Team serves hot meals the 4th Friday (Dec. 27th) of each month from 10:45 to 1:30 p.m. Please contact Elaine Heine (215-7928) or Connie Steinhorst (725-6391) if you can help. Thanks to each of you for your support of this ministry. Please remember, DAILY BREAD depends on volunteers.

GOD'S PANTRY

The mission of God's Pantry is to reduce hunger in Florida through community outreach.

Pat Gorski spoke to us November 10th on God's Pantry.

She would like to thank the members of Joy, for your support of God's Pantry, with your Thank Offerings of $349.

CAN YOU HEAR ME NOW?

After nearly a year of meetings with audio consultants, purchasing new mixer, amplifier, and speakers, our 1980's sound system has been brought up to date. Its debut on Christ the King Sunday met with good reviews. We will be making some minor tweaks as we learn the new system, so be patient. But we hope that everyone appreciates our updated audio system and the hard work in putting it together. Thank you to everyone that supported this project and provided additional needed funds.

Thanks to all of you who helped with the Annual Christmas Craft Festival fundraiser in November. Our sale was very successful due to all of the support by our ladies who contributed and worked faithfully and to our congregation and community. A large percentage of our sales was from the Silent Auction that you were all generous to participate in, this included the lovely Dorcas Circle quilts and the beautiful gift baskets. The hotdogs made by the Men's Group are always a big hit, as well as the Bake Sale and White Elephant Sale. Our WELCA ladies' craft circle, Ruth Circle, contributed many handmade items. The local businesses were very supportive with gift cards for in the baskets and the extras were auctioned off as well. Emma's Florist contributed a floral arrangement, Chick-Fil-A made a basket. The Car Show was amazing – thank you Corvette owners. Our Boy Scouts multi-tasked and generously helped the whole day. Many helped put the church back together for Sunday morning worship. So, a very BIG Thank You for your time and energy.

Angel Tree. WELCA and Social Ministry are sponsoring an Angel Tree for children at Turner Elementary School. The tags for the children will be hung on the tree. Please take a name.
