“In the end, that’s what this election is about. Do we participate in a politics of cynicism or a politics of hope?”–Barack Obama

Now you don't

As I have previously explained (“Sandy Hook Elementary School: closed in 2008, a stage in 2012”), the school appears to have been non-operational during at least the four years prior to the events of 14 December 2012.

There is lots of confirming evidence, with or without the Wayback Machine’s indirect proof—that if there was no internet activity on specific days, probably there was none during the interval within which they fall—that confirms it had been closed.

In addition to not being compliant with the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), video footage shows that it was being used as a storage facility, where even The Newtown Bee reported that it was laden with asbestos and other bio-hazards. No student should have been there.

More proof it had been abandoned

Moreover, no activities of the kinds that are commonplace at elementary schools, such as spelling bees with winners, students of the month, teachers of the year, and so on, were being announced from 2008-2012:

And, in response to the republication of “The Newtown School Board Meeting and the meaning of silence” on James Tracy’s memoryholeblog.com, John Luv offer the following telling observations:

MAY 12, 2014 AT 8:32 PM

Mr. Fetzer, you need to pour over hard copy newspapers from the Hartford Courant or the Danbury Newspaper, not the Newtown Bee that cover the time frame of 2008 to 2012. I know that you will not find one word of Sandy Hook Elementary School with the exception of the issue of 12-14-12 in any of those papers. You will find plenty of information on the other Newtown Schools concerning Honor Rolls, budgets, meetings, cancellations, etc. This hard copy proves that the name Sandy Hook Elementary School was not in print for that four year period.

I have been looking for old Hartford and Danbury Newspapers from the 1980s and 1990s. Old print hardcopy newspapers can’t be forged like internet articles. There is an article in print out there that details the closing of Sandy Hook Elementary School. Key years in those newspapers to check are 1980 around May or June and also 1995/1996 when Fairfield Hills Hospital in Newtown closed. There would be information out there in hard copy world when this school actually closed. When this article is found, the actual newspaper can be used as evidence and made public for all to see.

Most of us who have researched this event from day one know that the school was clearly closed. Let's all look for the actual newspaper that mentions this fact. It could have been closed as early as 1980 based on the conditions of the parking lot alone. It could have been closed in conjunction with Fairfield Hills in the 1990s. Archived articles can be compromised. A Hoarder's copies of newspapers should still be intact. Government agents are very smart, but they are not perfect.

After all, how much easier to manage the deception if they did not have to deal with the evacuation of some 600 or more additional students and around 75 members of the staff, including the administration, the custodians and the other teachers, who were invisible on 14 December 2012. 600 students would be hard to conceal. Where are they?

No students, no buses, no EMTs, no ambulances, no Med-Evac chopper

No students, teachers or staff / no buses, no EMTs, no ambulances, no Med-Evac chopper

Not only was it unnecessary for there to be a surge of EMTs into the building and no reason to summon Med-Evac helicopters, but there was not even any need for buses, who would simply been a distraction. As we know, none of the above were there because they simply were not needed. It was a mock terror drill.

As Wikipedia reports, "On January 31 [2013], the Newtown school board voted unanimously to ask for police officer presence in all of its elementary schools; previously other schools in the district had such protection, but Sandy Hook had not been one of those", which would make sense if the school had already been closed.

Who was responsible and why

We know this was a drill and not a bona fide emergency, where Governor Malloy, during a press conference held that day, explained that he and the Lt. Governor had been "spoken to" that something like this might happen. But what could he possibly have meant by that? What kind of "something like this" might happen?

There are only two alternatives. Either (1) he had been told that a shooting would take place in his state that would result in the deaths of many children; or (2) he was told that a drill would be conducted that would be presented as a live event. Since he took no steps to insure that (1) did not occur, the answer has to be (2).

Barack Obama and Project Longevity

And Governor Malloy received a visit from Attorney General Eric Holder less than a month before this event, where he must have been the person who spoke to him. And if Eric Holder was involved, then his boss, the President of the United States, has to have been involved, too. And we now have more proof that was indeed the case.

We caught him! Robbie Parker, crisis actor, at long last exposed!

Samuel Davis Delaney

Samuel Travis Delaney

We have located the one person who is going to blow the lid off THE MOCK TERROR, Sandy Hook School, shooting. He is infamously known as “Robbie Parker”, the father of Emilie Parker, who was allegedly killed during the 14 December 2012 Sandy Hook School shooting. Actually, his name isn’t Robbie Parker. His name is Samuel Travis Delaney.

Growing up, Samuel Delaney lived on Brookhurst Drive in Richardson, TX. He is approximately in his mid-forties. He and his brother, Matthew Delaney, were born to Travis and Cynthia Delaney. He was married to a Elizabeth Bellanti, though they have no children and recently divorced. And lest I not forget, Samuel Travis Delaney, is a professional actor. (See [Robbie’s Press Conference] and [The 911 Call].)

Robbie the actor:performer:entertainer

Samuel Travis Delaney (aka “Robbie Parker”) is an actor, an entertainer and a musician who uses multiple aliases, including Robbie Parker, John Matthew Walker, Samuel Adams (his favorite beer, we were told) and Eugene Rosenberg, which is his alias on YouTube. (See [facebook, Robbie Parker] and [facebook, John Matthew Walker].)

Robbie Parker = John Mathew Walker

Robbie was the “poster boy” as a grieving parent who lost his daughter Emilie, in what we now understand was a cleverly contrived psychological warfare campaign known as “the Sandy Hook shooting”. This chameleon-like con-man, it appears, had one and only one purpose—to help to sell a lie. We have even uncovered his audition tape for Sandy Hook. Truth can be felt and lies sensed . . . the unforeseen glitch.

Audition tapes

Robbie’s Press Conference

Robbie’s press conference was viewed around the world on 15 December 2012 but was just beyond the scope of Samuel’s acting capabilities, making his behavior at that press conference painfully awkward and even uncomfortable to witness. To those who were paying attention, it set off loud alarms:

At the press conference, “Robbie Parker”, the grieving father, is already plugging his daughter’s “Emilie Parker Fund”, making us cringe. This strategically timed announcement, implemented the money-making scheme. Surely, monetary compensation for Samuel Travis Delaney’s part was his principal motivation in this reprehensible ploy.(See [Emilie Parker Fund].)

Indeed, the very first post on the “Emilie Parker Fund” (after the cover photo was updated) was a pitch for donations:

“Alan Prothero and I have set up an account at America First Credit Union to help Robbie Parker and his family with their immediate needs due to their loss of their beautiful girl in the shooting this morning in Conn. You can put funds in the account or give them directly to me or Alan. Please contribute what you can and spread the word: Emilie Parker Memorial Account at America First Credit Union. Account #9056862.”

But he committed a gaffe. The announcement was not simply premature, but grossly too early. Several posts later, “We’ve had an update. The school is still on lock down, I assume pending investigations. Robbie and Alissa have very limited information. They haven’t been able to see Emilie, and they do not know if she is still in the school or if she was one of the ones rushed to the hospital. We apologize for the misinformation that we gave you earlier. But we know still that sweet Emilie was a victim. We just don’t know any detail about what exactly happened to her.”

Not knowing if this child, Emilie, had been hurt, let alone murdered, the fund account was created before the child’s death was even known to have occurred. The essence of a parents true grief, at losing a child, emanates from a parents heart break and is nothing less than palpable. Not duplicated nor sold as a bartering tool to serve a political agenda. A deception so vast , whereby making it unable to withstand longevity. The deplorable actions of Samuel Travis Delaney as well as other participants involved demands accountability.

Samuel Travis Delaney is most often pictured with pork-chop style, 70s sideburns. And as you can see, while playing his role as 'Robbie Parker' you can still make out the former shapes of those sideburns, due to a sunburn.

Our research suggests that no children were murdered on December 14, 2014 which strongly coincides with the evidence gathered. A planned event of this kind is technically known as a “MOCK TERROR DRILL” and, in this case, was announced prior to 14 December 2014:

mock terror drill

Drills are “as close as we can get to the real thing without people getting hurt. The [new] drills coach officers to directly engage the shooter instead of waiting for specialized SWAT teams to arrive.”- ALERRT Program Research Director J. Pete Blair. Consequently, the program has received $7,000,000 in funding, no less.

Robbie w:tatoos

John Matthew Walker (with tatoos) / Robbie Parker

Ever notice how “Robbie Parker” consistently wears a white t- shirt? To cover that large tattoo? We also feel heavy stage make up was used on Samuel’s other tatoos as well as temporary caps on his teeth. These tactics were employed on many of the actors who participated.

Why Mock Terror Drills?

The sequence of events the public was provided on 14 December 2012 by local and state authorities, coupled with the repetition of that narrative—in spite of its inconsistencies—by a national press that all-too-often has been co-opted by elements within government agencies in effect aids in what is nothing less than promoting a soft fascist agenda. The passive acceptance of this story is being hungrily exploited by those interests at the life-threatening expense of liberty and the rule of law in America. There were a few exceptions, such as this report:

YouTube – Veterans Today –

In order to appreciate the full dimensions of these exercises, the American people have to master a new vocabulary, which is familiar to their planners and participants but strange and remote to the public. The phrases and concepts that require understanding include the following:

1. PSYOPS seek to exploit human vulnerabilities in enemy governments, militaries and populations. PSYOPS and media fakery are in fact the primary weapon the global power elite uses to advance their tyrannical agenda in this day and age.

2. PSYWAR or “psychological warfare”, among the basic aspects of modern psychological operations (PSYOPS), have been known by many other names or terms, including Psy Ops, Political Warfare, “Hearts and Minds” and Propaganda.

a. Various techniques are used, by any set of groups, and aimed to influence a target audience’s value systems, its belief systems, emotions, motives, reasoning or behavior. It is used to induce confessions or reinforce attitudes and behaviors favorable to the originator’s objectives. It is often combined with black operations or false flag tactics. Target audiences can be governments, organizations, groups, and individuals.

b. A psychological warfare campaign is a war for the mind. Its primary weapons are sight and sound. PSYOPS can be disseminated by face-to-face communication, audio/visual means (television and films), the audio media (radio or loudspeaker), visual media (leaflets, newspapers, books, magazines and/or posters). The method of delivery may vary but the weapon is the message that is conveyed and how.

3. MOCK TERROR DRILLS are staged events that are used to send a message to the target audience, such as the American public. In the case of Sandy Hook, it was carefully, if somewhat sloppily, contrived to create the impression that, if we do not get guns under control, traumatic events, such as a mass shooting of innocent children, are bound to occur.

Samuel Travis Delaney and most of the others who participated are government paid actors, used to manipulate gullible Americans. These people who act in these roles are supporting in fascist legislation to disarm the public by influencing their emotions. Social psychologists play important, even crucial roles in planning these events and predicting their outcomes.

Why assist a Mock Terror Drill?

Our research shows that a cluster group of trusted actors (often related family members having political ties) are used for multiple drills. Many times those involved in these acting roles, considered “lower rungs”, are often unaware of the drills politically driven agendas. But as long as they are appropriately paid, they appear to have no concerns.

Information disseminated to them is on a very limited, “need-to-know” basis and, with high probability, is combined with disinformation that provides “cover” or “plausible deniability” in the case of questioning once more even prevents them from honestly confronting the thought that they’ve been used as tools. But money makes a difference.

This resistance is a important component and facilitates to the “conspiracy’s” success. Their monetary compensation becomes the luring incentive. An especially egregious illustration is the United Way Support Fund that was established several days prior to the shooting. One of the benefits of the internet not only that it facilitates the publication of new information but that it also allows mistakes to be captured and retained, of which this is an especially striking example:

United Way extends condolences three days early

The estimated payout was $281,000 paid to each of the victims’ families, who have raised additional funds from their own websites—some of which were apparently advertised on the web in advance of the shooting. At present, all of the victims, both children and adults, have memorial funds that are currently collecting money. “Sandy Hook Promise,” which actively solicits money for family members and others “impacted by this tragedy,” as well as for lobbying for “mental wellness and gun safety,” currently boasts of over 300,000 people who have made the “Sandy Hook Promise” to turn the “tragedy into a moment of transformation.”

The federal government has also forked over a lot of taxpayer money, including a $150,000 federal grant to Newtown to pay for two “school resource officers” (aka police), and $2.5 million in federal funds from they Department of Justice to compensate the local entities for their trouble: $663,444 to the Connecticut State Police, $602,293 to the town of Newtown, $882,812 to the town of Monroe and $296,838 to other partner agencies.

In addition, the Department of Education has awarded a total of $3.2 million to the Newtown Public School District under Project SERV (School Emergency Response to Violence) to help with ongoing recovery efforts following the shooting. See these reports: US Department of Education awards $1.3 million grant; US Department of Education awards $1.9 million grant. This hush money is sure to keep the lid on things for now.

In addition: The homes of 15 of the 20 Sandy Hook child victims, 1-2 of the 7 adult victims, and all 6 of the Sandy Hook adult non-victims (the Phelps, Gene Rosen, the three Selectmen) have the mysterious sale date of 12/25/2009 at a $0 sale price. In my research I find this indicates the amount reflects a title change where no money was exchanged, and is often used when a home/property mortgage are paid off in “full” (that is, when the title official reverts to the owner rather than to the bank).

The real "Robbie Parker" expresses his contempt

“Robbie Parker” expresses his contempt for the public

It is interesting that all these individuals paid off those properties at the exact same day. The only explanation that I can think of for such a vast number on the same date is that it was a mass payout of some sort to these individuals. We are investigating further to understand just how many of these individuals were invited to testify before congress in favor of gun control proposals by President Barack Obama, where the original conception for Sandy Hook appears to have come from him or Attorney General Holder, who visited Governor Malloy to fill him in on the plan on 27 November 2012.

The Sandy Hook hoax thus represents a triumph for the politics of cynicism over the politics of hope. But the Constitutionality of gun control measures appears to be complex, where The Gun Control Act of 1968 was nullified shortly after passing a hidden amendment for the purpose of preventing any successful challenge to its Constitutionality. The Court therefore could, and most likely would, ignore any attempt to secure a case ruling on it, because The Court knows full well that it was not properly passed. Even his Sandy Hook gambit appears unlikely to attain Barack Obama’s ultimate goal.

But it won’t be for lack of trying: “In his speech at the December 16 vigil, President Obama called for using ‘whatever power this office holds’, to prevent similar tragedies in the future. Nearly 200,000 people signed a petition at the Obama administration’s We the People petitioning website in support of stricter gun control legislation. President Obama later affirmed that he would make gun control a ‘central issue’ at the start of his second term of office, in a speech on December 19; signing 23 executive orders and proposing 12 congressional actions regarding gun control, one month after the shooting.”

Victoria Muramoto has taken a keen interest in investigative journalism, especially in relation to Sandy Hook.

In this newly released featuring Sandy Hook investigator Wolfgang Halbig, we SEE Sandy Hook ‘officials’ running scared after being caught in this abominable cover-up that has imploded in their faces.

Halbig has come up with a list of 16 very simple questions about Sandy Hook that he has so far been unable to get answered, questions that Sandy Hook ‘officials’ should be embarrassed about NOT being able to answer, and questions that left unanswered help to prove that a massive cover-up is still underway and a blatant disregard for the public’s right to know. The entire list of 16 questions can be found here.
