Bongoville, the site of the supposed encounter

I was looking for coconut on the beach when a creature came out of the palms. it appeared before myself with a box-cutter. The alien then said "coconut the is where". He guided me to a large spaceship where we ate space cream potatoes with intergalactic chicken. After devouring the scrumptious meal with all due haste, we quit for Ethiopia and watched all the malnutrition and monetary individuals, as one may add. It was an event enjoyed by all, even the Ethiopians! I best be off, I have places to go and people to see. Ta ta and aufwiedersehen. Duration of the encounter: 1 hour and a half.

Reliability evaluation:

- false / prank -

one single witness only; no investigation; inconsistent
