Me and a couple of friends were sitting in a 7/11 shop at a late hour, I recall it was around 2 or 3 in the morning of August. We were sitting in a sort of box formation, one in each corner, with me and my friend facing the window of the shop and looking out at the road.

When all of a sudden, while talking, I happened to look out the window when I saw a ball of light come floating on the road very fast. I guess it only took 3 seconds to pass my visual of the road. I looked at my friend next to me, as he was also a bit shocked. I shocked him twice and asked if he saw that glowing ball, he said yes. After that we continued discussing all sorts of UFOs and aliens, or E.T.
