

1990: Tiraspol, Moldova

unspecified day of October, unspecified hour of the evening

Source: Alexey K. Priyma,
from the book Unknown Worlds, Moscow 1996

Site in Tiraspol

A woman named Albina Fedchenko, a local resident, returned from her work and found her 10-year old daughter, Inna, in a very agitated state. The girl was deathly pale, and was feeling sick. She told her mother that as she was preparing to go to school she had momentarily set her books and suitcase down when she suddenly experienced a very strong headache, and became nauseated. Her body became stiff and she stretched her hands forward. And in a trance-like state she walked towards the window. There, two huge aliens were waiting for her in the balcony. One alien wore a green overall, the second a yellow and white one. Their heads were shaped like inverted pears and instead of mouths they had just a narrow slit. "Don't be afraid", said the alien in the green suit, taking the girl by her hand. "We are your friends. We have come for you. You will be better off in our place. Better than here, come with us." Terrified the young girl screamed, jerking her hand back from the alien's large hand. She told them she did not wish to go with them. The alien then said, "If you don't come today, we will return another time. We will come back for you." The girl began screaming and crying hysterically, she yelled for her mother and suddenly the aliens disappeared.

Reliability evaluation:

- very low -

one single witness only; no reports from other residents;
invention or false not excluded; possible daydream;
no relation with UFOs; insufficient details

