

Video description Transcript unavailable

Companies
Luxury brand weighs EM exposure

If luxury sales are doing best in emerging markets then why are brands such as Chanel investing so heavily in London? David Hayes visits the fashion house's new 12,600 sq ft Bond Street store to speak to president of fashion Bruno Pavlovsky.

June 20 2013 Filmed by Steve Ager. Produced by Seb Morton-Clark.

Editor's Choice

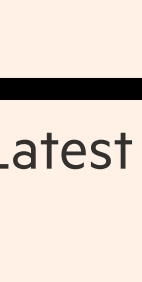

Capitalism 5 min
Why capitalism needs to be reset in 2020
FT journalists look at opportunities for reinvention and reform of enterprise

World 14 min
Mexico's migrant crackdown
How Mexico became Donald Trump's border wall

Work & Careers 8 min
How Lush took on the cosmetics industry
FT's Daniel Thomas on one of the pioneering ethical brands that are increasingly on trend

Analysis Brexit 16 min
Can UK scientists still lead the world after Brexit?
The life sciences sector makes £70bn a year for the economy

Latest Videos

World 2 min
Trump says US not seeking war with Iran
US president speaks after targeted killing

Companies 3 min
The aircraft boneyard in Australia's 'red centre'
A desert facility at Alice Springs gets a boost from storing grounded Boeing 737 Max airliners

News 1 min
Bush fires rage in Australia
Wildfires in New South Wales are worst in state's history, say fire authorities

Capitalism 5 min
Why capitalism needs to be reset in 2020
FT journalists look at opportunities for reinvention and reform of enterprise

How easy or hard was it to use FT.com today? Leave feedback