

Dear Rachel,

My sweet little honey bunny. You have brought me such joy in our years together. You are a pure hearted person who is always thinking of others. Your compassion is your strength. People are drawn to you because they sense your pure heart.

Even though I can't be with you now, I know you will be okay. I will watch over you from heaven. You will have me as your own special guardian angel. Please grow up happy and strong. Your journey, like everyone's, will require you to have great strength. I know you have that strength because I have seen you demonstrate it many times.

Please do well in school. Make choices that will lead to a happy and successful life. You will make a wonderful wife and mother. I love you from the bottom of my heart.

Love,
