The Flats

Ginny Collins

A mystery on the frozen edge of Hudson Bay

"You're either born here, or you got a reason"

When the town doctor goes missing in Churchill, Manitoba, all trails lead to The Flats. Teetering on the edge of the Hudson's Bay, this frozen strip of land becomes the focus of a search that unearths its strangest residents, some town secrets, and even a few ghosts. The Flats is a dark comedy about what brings people to the edge of the world, where the polar bears are the least of your worries. (* Language Warning*)
