Born: 1701 Alsace, France

Married: Anna Lung

Died: 1749 Lebanon, PA

Parents: Christian Wampler & Magdalena Gruner

Johann (Hans) Peter Wampfler was born 1701, in Sparsbach, Alsace, Germany, the son of Christian Wampfler and (name unknown). He married Anna Veronica Lung in 1719, at Zollingen, Alsace, Germany. Anna Veronica Lung was born in Zollingen, the daughter of Jacob Lung and Elizabeth Wildermuth.

Peter immigrated to America with his family on the ship "Lydia", landing at Philadelphia on September 29, 1741. He settled his family on 200 acres of land he purchased in the Swiss and German community in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. Wampflers in America states Hans Peter signed his name as "Wampfler" on the ship passenger list.

Peter died in 1749, in Lebanon Township of Lancaster County. On April 24, 1749, Veronica made application to be administratrix of his estate. Her sons, Michael and Peter, signed her application bond. Their names were spelled "Wampler".

The Wampfler coat of arms shown in the accompanying photograph (above Left) is found on the wall of the city building in Lenk, Switzerland, and was photographed for us by Dr. John M. Wampler of Nashville, TN.

Its base color (Tinctures in the language of Heraldry) is blue (Azure). At the base is a yellow (Or) symbol which is commonly found in the Canton, district and municipality arms.

The second common symbol from Swiss Heraldry found in the Wampfler arms is the six pointed star. Indeed, it is the prominent symbol in the arms of many cities, districts and Cantons.

The final symbol (or Charge) on the Wampfler coat-of-arms is the central green (Vert) plant. While plant charges are not common on other arms, they seem to be relatively freely used on the Swiss arms.

Later, Hans Peter lived in Hinsingen before they left for America in May of 1741.
