My mom and my dad divorced when I was 8 years old. Within a year, he remarried and he and his wife moved to Pensacola, FL, where he worked at the Naval Air Station there. I only have a few memories of him before he moved, but I do remember going on several trips to New Smyrna Beach just east of Sanford, FL. I remember one trip to the beach, a young child was accidently hit by a car and I watched as my father ran and scooped the child up and then ran with him to the lifeguard station nearby. I also remember one time there was an air show going on at the Sanford Naval Air Base he worked at, and dad took me over to the pilots of one of the large cargo planes on display and was able to spend some time talking with them. They offered to take me up with them, but I was too scared to go. Wayne Peters, son
