Holiday Season Special effects

Learn how to move the camera while taking pictures and maintain a clear image.

By moving the camera at the right speed and using the proper settings you can create light trails

Use a tripod

Set the shutter speed for long exposure then start the motion

Start by getting the object in focus then slowly move the camera while holding down the shutter release thus producing a light trail.

The Zoom Burst has a similar effect.

For this effect the camera remains stable and you adjust the zoom of the lens with the shutter open

By using these two method you will produce a magical effect and you won't even have to wait till Christmas eve for Santa.

In Conclusion by experimenting with different lights and camera settings you can create some fantastic images over the Holiday season. Have some fun and relax.
