The Federal Government Distance Learning Association (FGDLA) is a nonprofit, professional association formed to promote the development and application of distance learning in the Federal Government. We actively foster collaboration and understanding among those involved in leveraging technology and instructional media in support of the education and training needs of the Federal Government. FGDLA is a chapter of the United States Distance Learning Association (USDLA)

Our Target Audience

Our membership draws from the Federal Government, Department of Defense, and from Sponsors in the Commercial sector.

What We Do

- Encourage collaboration among members of the Federal Government who have expertise in distance learning activities.
- Offer free membership to the USDLA and a free subscription to Government Elearning! Magazine
- Organize events for Government professionals such as the FGDLA track at past SALT conferences, webinars, and the Government Distance Learning Symposium (GLTS)
- Present awards to individuals and organizations who have contributed to excellence in distance education

The Government Learning Technology Symposium

The GLTS is co-located with the Government Video EXPO (GV EXPO) and includes two days of sessions. These may include solo speakers, teams, panelists, round-tables, or other formats. The FGDLA is also sponsoring a Learning Technologies Arena on the Expo floor.

Finally, on Dec. 8, we are hosting our annual awards luncheon, recognizing Federal Government individuals and organizations for excellence in distance learning.

Our Program

The overall theme for the GLTS is "Learning Technology". Topics include:

- Instructional Design as it applies to distance learning
- Technology in Distance Learning (LMS, LCMS, authoring tools, and more)
- Accessibility (508 compliance)
- Adaptability (SCORM, XAPI)
- New Technology (gaming, simulation, mobile learning)
