

Every once in a while, when someone is asked to participate in an activity or ministry of the church, I will hear in reply, “No, I’ve already done my time.” Of course, there are many perfectly good reasons to say ‘no’. Schedules, other commitments, and interests might not align with the request, for example. A previous, challenging experience may make us reluctant to try again. We may find our bodies no longer do everything we could in earlier years. Still, I’m often puzzled by the ‘I have already done my time’ response. Sometimes, such an answer may not reflect the true reason for the ‘no’ because it can be hard or uncomfortable to articulate our real reasons. I have, however, noticed over the years that it is not an unusual standpoint for a person’s strongest allegiance to be to the institution of the church itself, especially the building housing the local congregation. Itself a topic for another day, such a focus often comes at the expense of our allegiance to Jesus Christ and often happens unwittingly.

Continually focusing on God in our lives can help us overcome such a reality. In many of our community and national organizations, including our work places, we are used to the general idea of starting on the “ground floor,” building experience and increasing our participation—often in leadership—and then eventually moving on...perhaps to a new challenge or opportunity or to a different phase of life, such as when the nest is empty or upon retirement. However, the life of the Christian is directed to a different trajectory. This goes beyond mere human institutions (which you may have heard aren’t too popular these days). As Paul puts it, “Only let each person lead the life that the Lord has assigned to him, and to which God has called him. This is my rule in all the churches.” (1 Cor. 7:17, ESV) Unlike a club or group we join and then leave as we wish, God’s call to us is part of our very essence as Christians. It is part of our very being as a people of faith. While the response I began this column with is an institutional one, we are all called all the time to respond to God by making disciples of Christ by using the gifts God has given us—time, talent and treasure—for the transformation of the world. To be sure, we can be called to different ministries at different times in our lives and must regularly make choices about where our gifts can best be used. And, we frequently need to adapt our understanding over different phases of life (for example, a home bound person is usually able to pray which is no small act!). No matter how we look at it, though, the call by God to the Christian comes unabated.

In the hymn “We are Called,” the refrain captures our calling as people of faith. This paraphrase of Micah 6:8 says simply that, “We are called to seek justice, we are called to live faithfully, we are called to love one another, to walk humbly with God.” Living out this vision is not confined to a particular season of the year or of our life. This vision is not limited by personal preferences. It is, rather, to be our very vocation as Christians. I invite you to reflect on how God is calling you to use your gifts in this present time of your life. We won’t all be called to the same arenas (congregation, community, region or world) or the exact same ministries (such as teaching, hospitality, worship, music, children, evangelism, finance, grounds keeping, congregational care and so on) but we will all be called. Though your calling may change and evolve, it is a calling whose time does not expire. Our calling as Christians is not a matter of if but how; not a matter of worthiness but a matter of seeing the blessed creation you are. God’s calling is not institution focused but rather people and Holy Spirit focused with the institution being a tool for ministry. Key questions to ask and commit to prayer, then, are “How is God calling me to be in ministry in the present time? How might God be calling me to be in ministry in coming months/years and how can I prepare myself for that opportunity?” I am excited by how God already makes use of the talents here at Gray Memorial UMC and I will be interested in what you hear as you listen for where God is leading you and God’s church.

Grace and peace,
Rev. Tim

Greetings from the Church Office!

I am so blessed to have such a wonderful church family and I truly appreciate Shirley Bowman's willingness to fill-in for me while I am on vacation! As you are reading this, I am on a vacation to Alaska with my sister!

Our Vacation Bible School is Monday-Friday, July 11-15. Included in this Newsletter is a registration form that can be filled out and returned to the church office. We still need volunteers - speak with Michele Sterner or Denise Witmer if you are willing to help!

The UMW Cookbook Committee is hard at work compiling all the wonderful recipes we received! Soon you will have the opportunity to pre-order the cookbook!

Please remember to notify the Church Office if you move or change phone numbers. It is important to keep the records updated. I hope to create a new church directory sometime this summer, as the 2013 Photo Directory is really outdated.

Until next month.....

HISTORY AND RECORDS: No Report. Mary Lou Brown did report she had gone to the Caribou Historical Society meeting and her Committee plans to update the History of Gray Memorial and give the Society a copy for its archives. She feels it would be good for all area churches to do the same.

MEMORIALS: No Report

SPRC: Bill Thomas, the outgoing Chair of SPRC, reported that Rev. Tim will be away July 10, July 31, and August 7th. He suggests that Mary Lou, Kathie, and Richard fill in on those Sundays in that order. SPRC has completed the 2016 Congregational and Pastor Evaluation report for the District Secretary. Margaret Cyr has told Bill that SPRC may have to pay more for an Organist than originally thought. SPRC had approved paying between $75 and $100 per service. The Council decided it would be a good idea to rewrite the job description for the church organist and then come back to continue this discussion, so the proposal was tabled. All agreed that weddings and funerals were not included in that description. Also a job description for the fill-in organist should also be written. Margaret will be glad to assist.

TRUSTEES: Mary Lou Brown reported on the Total Trustee Portfolio of $234,863.00 which breaks down as the following: The Permanent Fund & J.L. Fund Memorials-$72,553.00; total Permanent Memorials- $127,803.00; total Scholarship Funds-$15,363.00 (No scholarships were awarded this year.);total Local Accounts-$19,144.00. The United Methodist Foundation paid the church $992.09 in interest on funds in the first quarter on4/16/16. Mr. Gordon Buzza of Grant UMC audited our books and found them in order.

The new pillars in the portico have been sealed and one coat of paint applied. After much discussion, Roy Alden, Dave Belyea, Rene St. Peter will work together to repair the church wall facing Prospect Street where the bricks are crumbling. The wiring project in Rev. Tim's office is complete. The heating system in the parsonage has been completed. Scott Branscom will be completing a shelving project in Rev. Tim's office soon. The old piano in the Fellowship hallway to the elevator still is unclaimed. Roy Alden and two high school boys needing community service hours cleaned up the church yard. Roy Alden and Friedrich Wilcox are digging a trench on the side of the church facing Renos to lay crushed rock, then drain pipe to divert the water and hopefully prevent further flooding issues. LED lighting with motion sensors has been installed to illuminate the church parking lot. The Trustees plan to review the church use plans which include use of the church by civic groups, church groups and those planning weddings, funerals, and various other meetings. A leak has been found in the Southwest tower of the church facing Renos. The Trustees plan to hire Greg Theriault to go up in his bucket to find the leak and apply roofing cement to stop the leak. The Trustees have decided to put the AED Box being constructed by Ralph Ferguson on one of the poles in the Narthex instead of the Fellowship Hall. It is felt that is more central a location. The Trustees reviewed the brochure describing the Permanent Fund and agreed to update and clarify the explanations of both the Permanent Fund and the Permanent Memorial Fund. The Trustees have enlisted Jacob Beaupre to build the new sub floor when they get ready to replace the sub floor beneath the dining area.

UMM: Dave DeMerchant said that the men held a short meeting at which time the June meeting was designated as the annual meeting at which a slate of Officers would be presented by the nominating committee and an election held. He also reported the men met to clean out the shed and found a lot of odds and ends from projects and boxes of mouse infested clothing. They took what was salvageable to Catholic Charities after holding a yard sale. The rest went to the landfill.

UMW: There will be a pie sale on July 1st. The cookbook is in the works and should be ready for the fall. Jenny Lyon was excited to welcome Dr. Josette Hunter who spoke to them on the topic of help for incontinence.

WORSHIP: Margaret Cyr reported that the Summer Musicale: Opus XIII will be July 17th, and the publicity is in the works. The musicians will include The Sullivans, Stephanie Plourde, Dan Ladner and Steve Gant. There will be a free will offering for Continuing Music Ministry.

The annual outdoor service is scheduled for August 21st with a rain date of august 28th. Worship Committee will do the Coffee Fellowship that Sunday. S.W. Collins will provide the tent and Diana Locke will find people to help put it up. Bob Thompson will be in charge of the sound system and we will need help getting the digital piano up at the site. Bob Ellinwood will provide a golf cart for transporting only those who need it from garden site to church.

Bobbi will add a separate line in the budget for the Senior Choir as we have a sizable donation just for the choir.

Dan Schall will take part in the worship service on September 11, at 10 am. A free will offering will be taken to help with his music ministry. A light lunch will be provided after the service.

The Worship services will be shortened for the summer as there will be no 2nd prelude, no introit, and no hymn sing. Since no one has come forward to take the piano in the Fellowship Hall it will be dismantled and removed.

Margaret will be posting a sign-up sheet for anyone willing to provide a meal and visit with Judi McKee who is having health problems that keep her shut in. You will note that on the sheet there will be suggestions of items not to include in meals such as green peppers, onions, rice, etc. Also be aware she is diabetic.

PASTOR'S TIME: Rev. Tim reported that 22 people completed the Disciple Class, 4 people became members of BGMUMC, and 3 youth completed Confirmation. The newly confirmed Youth had great support from family and mentors. Also the class met with Florence Gallagher at the Veteran's Home where she held court. Be sure to ask them about that experience. There are 3 weddings planned. Rev. Tim plans to meet with the new committee Chairs starting with Sue White who will take over as Chair of SPRC in July. The new D. S. will be joining us for the August 14th service. Annual Conference was very unusual and tended to focus on human sexuality this year set in motion at Orlando earlier. Over $1 million dollars has been raised to fight Malaria by the conference. The Conference has seen an increase in worship attendance.

Cory Felix will be baptized on Sunday.

There being no further business the Council meeting adjourned at 8:55 pm. The next meeting is scheduled for September 22nd.
Respectfully submitted by Claire Hodgkins, Secretary.
