2008 Port Norfolk Holiday Tour of Home

December 7th is not only Pearl Harbor Day, it is also the day of Port Norfolk's 2008 Holiday Tour of Homes. This year's tour begins with a free Christmas Concert performed by the Port Towne Magic! Show Choir in the Port Norfolk Community Center, 432 Broad Street at 3:00 P.M. Please join us!

The tour features five homes and one church: 551 Florida Avenue, circa 1915, Owner Harry DeHart; 151 Florida Avenue, circa 1910, Owners Judy and John Higgins; Culpepper's Boat Rental, a unique storefront home, 3009 Bayview Blvd., circa 1900s, Owners Danette and Daryl Culpepper; 2801 Bayview Blvd. circa 1898, Owner Theresa Cyrus; 229 Mount Vernon Avenue, circa 1900, Owners Tammy and John Lifsey; and Broad Street United Methodist Church, 300 Broad Street, circa 1914, Pastor Marion Brown.

Port Norfolk businesses will be participating by offering entertainment and discounts the day of the tour. The Lofty Bean will have musical entertainment by Glare throughout the day and offer customers a cup of gourmet coffee for the special tour price of $1.00. Pizza Box will be open and give tour participants a 10% discount off price of meal. The Stove will give tour participants a 15% discount off Sunday Brunch, reservations suggested.

I still need volunteers to serve as host/hostess for homeowners on tour and for ticket sales at the community center on December 7, 2008. Please call me if you can help, Yvonne Lerner-DeSiano, 399-7526.

Advanced price for tickets is $10.00 and may be purchased at the following Port Norfolk establishments: The Lofty Bean, The Pizza Box and Village Hair Design. Advanced tickets are also available at Anderson-Wright and Kitchen Koop located in Olde Towne Portsmouth. Tickets will be sold on the day of the tour for $12.00 at Port Norfolk Community Center, 432 Broad Street, Port Norfolk, Portsmouth, Virginia 23707.

Taking the tour is a great way to begin the Holiday Season. It is also a great way to support your neighborhood. So don't forget to mark the date on your calendar Sunday, December 7, 2008 from 3:00 and 7:00 P.M!
