

Prop wash

Date: November 17, 2017

Members:

Well we got another decent day to fly and a few members were on hand to take advantage of it.

The wind was calm most of the time and it was a bit cool.

Some pics to look at.

To help warm the area up a bit we brought in the propane heater.

It worked !!

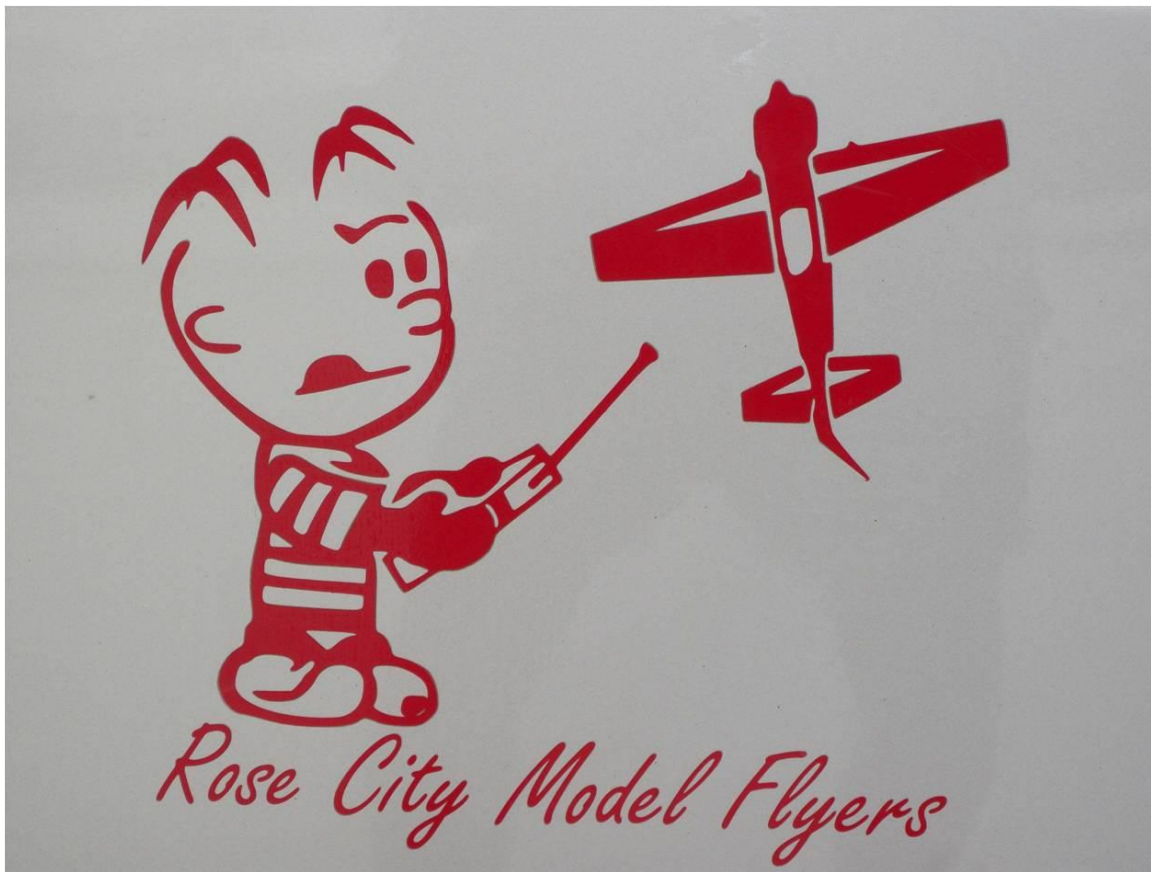

Today proved to be a pretty good day for flying and sitting around at Marshville Air Park. Family and friends, it doesn't get any better !

There was lots of food and lots of chatter.

For those that couldn't make it out, there is always another day and the hope that you can be part of the action.

We will be there, hope you can join us.

Bob

Where the flying season never ends!