A Mystery . . . The Incarnation

He stood on the edge and looked down and waited.
How long had He been waiting?
Did it seem like the blink of an eye . . . or an eternity?
The sounds of heaven echoed in His ears
"Holy, Holy, Holy" sung round the throne,
the Song of Creation ringing out.
The blur of angels' wings caught the corner of His eye their beating, moving, to and fro, here and there, ever faithful, ever obedient, ever about His will.
His eyes looking forward, His back to all behind him, yet He could still feel the pulse of Love, the heat of Holiness, the weight of Glory . . . and His Presence!
One step and it was all over. One step and it would all begin. One step.
And He waited.

Waiting for the word, this Word of God, as He had a creation
Let there be light! – and the Light of the World made light!
Let there be life! – and the Life made life!
Heaven still within His reach. The earth waiting just before Him.

Waiting, wanting, wishing, willing, promising, purposing, powering, emptying, obeying, loving, waiting.

Waiting for the words to all be spoken in Heaven, in Eden, in Ur, in Canaan, in Egypt, on Sinai, in Israel, in Babylon, in Jerusalem, in Judea, in Galilee.
through Jacob, Balaam, Samuel, David, Isaiah, Jeremiah, through Ezekiel, Joel, Micah, Zechariah, Daniel, and Malachi;
to Adam, Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Judah, Moses, Joshua,
to David, Elijah, Hezekiah, Zechariah . . . and Mary;
The Word of God spoken now waits for the sound and the hearing,
the calling and the naming, the speaking and the sending.

Waiting . . .

NOW comes the Word —
Let it be unto me according to your word
NOW comes the Word —
You shall call Him Jesus for He will save the people from their sins
NOW He leaves and now He arrives —
Yet, how many steps does it take from Heaven to reach Earth?
Does He hold His breath as plunges from Heaven or does He breathe it all in as He enters the earth?
Eternity stops as His time begins,
The Infinite now contained within the womb of a woman
The Word of God now silent for nine months
. . . until a baby's cry.

And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us . . . God with us.

With Joy, Steve

Christmas Traditions

The marvelous traditions of Christmas, such as the Christmas tree, gifts, wreaths, stocking carols, nativity scenes, Christmas cards, and many more, infuse our celebration of this wonderful season with meaning and glowing memories. Unknown to many of us, these wonderful Christmas traditions point to the birth of Christ. It might be interesting for us to take the time to look back at how we got some of these traditions and what they were meant to mean a few hundred years ago.

There is no doubt that today this holy time of year is our most frantic, stressful season. It is therefore only natural that we Christians lament that the real reason for the season seems to have been largely forgotten in the midst of cookie baking, decorating, and many different parties. It seems that the most awesome event in human history, the coming of God to earth as a babe in a manger, "Emmanuel, God with us" or Jesus with some skin on him, has become obscured by Santa, shopping, and merry making. So have we moved away from what makes this the "most wonderful time of the year?"

How can you prepare yourself for this season of celebration, of the coming of Jesus that has been and the one that is yet to come, by looking at some of these old traditions? You might find out some interesting things like I did. I know the words to Clement Clarke Moore's classic Christmas poem: "The stocking were hung by the chimney with care, in hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there." The reality is that hanging one's stockings or socks up to dry was an everyday part of life, because people didn't have a closet full of clothes like we do. They washed them out at night and wore them the next day. Moore used a part of the real story of St. Nicholas, an Arch Bishop, to complete his story "The Night before Christmas." St. Nicholas would slip a gold piece into the drying stocking of a poor family so a father didn't have to sell a child to get his family out of poverty. The father would credit the Lord for keeping his family together, and a tradition was born.

Take some time this Christmas season to learn about some of these old traditions. If you are like me, you will never see them the same again. I know I look at stockings, Christmas trees, and many more things a little differently because I know the stories behind them. I think by learning some of these, it has helped me see Christ among all of the hustle and bustle a little better. It is easier to see Christ when we are always looking for Him.

Merry Christmas and Peace,
Pastor John

The Best Time of the Year!

Christmas is coming. Are you excited? I'm like a big kid when it comes to Christmas. I'm all-in with the holiday celebrations; the bright lights, beautiful music and the good food shared with family and friends. Put up the tree, wrap the presents, put out the cookies and milk for Santa - to me, Christmas is a joyful season to celebrate!

What helps make the season special is best expressed during our services of Worship. I am looking forward to the Hanging of the Greens, the Choir's Christmas Concert, the Annual Christmas Play, all of the planned small group Christmas activities and more. Plus, this time of the year, we get to sing my favorite song; 'Hark the Herald Angels Sing - Glory to the New Born King!'

But here's the thing - not everyone looks forward to this time of year.

During the month of December, at St. Mark, we begin our Advent series about the Redemption of Scrooge. 'Bah Humbug!' perfectly expresses what Scrooge thinks about Christmas. It's his least favorite time of the year. For Scrooge, the only redeeming value in life is making money. He is stingy, greedy, grumpy, bitter and angry. Scrooge is a caricature of what Christmas should not be. We use the term today. 'Don't be such a Scrooge.'

Yet by the end of Charles Dicken's story, A Christmas Carol, Scrooge has a transformation. His life is redeemed. Isn't it curious though that's not what we remember about him? His reputation sticks. And, to use a familiar phrase, it; "Stink, stank, stunk" - as in the children's story, How The Grinch Stole Christmas, by Dr. Seuss.

It seems that we cannot accept that Scrooge was redeemed or that redemption is really important anymore. But if Scrooge can be redeemed, then so can we. Scripture declares, God's grace and blessings are life-changing and are still - free gifts for all of us.

In this series, we will learn a lot about God's Amazing Grace.

Christmas is the Best Time of the Year!

See you in Church,
Pastor Dan

DECEMBER WORSHIP

The season of Advent is always a special time at St. Mark and this year will not be any different. The theme for the four Sundays of Advent this year will be "The Redemption of Scrooge." Ebenezer Scrooge, the harsh and bitter character from Charles Dicken's "The Christmas Carol," is a powerful example of a life that needs redemption. We will look at this beloved story in the light of the Christmas story's gifts of love, grace, and salvation. By looking at Scrooge's in the context of his story, we might be better able to discover God's grace that comes to us in our stories.

This is just the preaching schedule for December. Please look in the newsletter for the calendar for all the worship opportunities and special services available to us in December.

Mulligans Fore Missions Update

We had an outstanding day of golf on October 22, 2018. The weather was beautiful and the fellowship was wonderful. It was a SUPER SUCCESS!!!!

Additionally, we were blessed with a net profit of $18,500 for the Sending Forth Committee at St. Mark United Methodist Church to spend as they deem appropriate.

This event has been sponsored by the Wesley Sunday School Class for the last two years. While we have enjoyed sponsoring the tournament, it has become clear that this is too large of an undertaking for our class. We request that anybody interested in helping organize the tournament next year please contact Peter Manning. We need to help establish a golf committee. The subcommittee positions are signing up golf teams, obtaining door prizes, finding new hole sponsors, and providing meal assistance. Without a properly formed and operating golf committee, this tournament cannot be a success and we will not be able to continue to raise the additional funds.

The date for next year's tournament has been set for October 21, 2019. Please mark your calendars.

Thanks for your support.

Yours in Christ,
Peter
