Happy Valentine's Day!
Think Spring!

Happy February members! We made it through the deep chill and Punxsutawney Phil is promising an early spring! We had an amazing attendance at the January meeting, and sincerely appreciate our county officials for making the time to dialogue with our members. Looking forward to seeing all of you at the next meeting, February 14th for an exciting presentation regarding free health care for you and your employees. Details enclosed!

President's Corner:

I hope you are all staying busy even through the cold and snow that found us in Northeast Ohio. You will notice some new faces in the organization. Please help me welcome John Bozcar from John Bozcar Homes, and Charlie Borsukoff from JCI Contractors as new members of our board. Also welcome Kristy Vavpetic, who was hired as our new director. I would like to thank everyone for their attendance and input at our last meeting regarding the county's plans to start a registration program. The Commissioners voted on the issue last week, ultimately deciding to keep commercial registration the same, and add registration for residential specialty contractors (i.e. electricians, HVAC, hydronic & fire suppression.) I am thankful to the County Commissioners for taking their time to field questions and concerns, and for considering the opinion of the Builders Association members in making this Please make plans to attend our next meeting, Feb. 14th at the Elks. Our presentation will be on the upcoming RAM clinic and how it can be a benefit to you and your employees. Think Spring!

-John Hogan, President

Commissioners, members, and guests look on as Todd Nagy of the Ashtabula County Building Dept. discusses proposed changes at the January member meeting.
