

YOU ALL DESERVE TO BE HEALED!

GOD DID NOT CREATE YOU TO SUFFER!

By Raj Christ Jesus

Now, I've brought this up before, because you all talk about wanting to wake up—you're all reading the Course because you want to wake up—or you want to experience enlightenment and something in you knows that there is really such a thing as enlightenment. And you know what? In order for you to experience this, you're going to need to experience healing. And you're going to need for your Brothers and Sisters to experience healing. And you're going to need to contribute to the experience of healing. And if what one needs to be healed from can be justified as real, and the result of that one's failure in some area of his life to deal with himself or his experience intelligently, then that justification simply negates completely the opportunity for healing to be experienced.

Whatever standards of reasoning are being used to justify a problem exists in the different realm, I'm going to say, than the realm of reality where that thing that needs correction doesn't exist. Because, for lack of better words, God didn't create it. God did not create you to suffer. God didn't create your Brother to suffer. God didn't create you to have diseases. God didn't create your Brother to have diseases. God didn't create you or your Brother to have a capacity to mistreat yourself and thereby actually cause justifiable damage or disease that you must therefore suffer through, because you must pay for your flaws and your failure.

God didn't do it. Therefore, whether it's cancer or whether it's a sudden injury from accident, you are not bound. You are not bound to suffer from it for more than an instant. If God didn't set it into motion, it hasn't been set into motion and the experience you're having is not going on in your right Mind.

Because there is another arena, we will say, in which reality is going on and is governed by God, there is awaiting you, escape from whatever mindset you have bound yourself to or whatever false interpretations you have placed upon all of Creation, so that you are misunderstanding it and misbehaving with it in a way that's causing you discomfort.

You all deserve to be healed. You hear that? You all deserve to be healed. There is nothing that exists that can justify your suffering, no matter what. And if you want to experience waking up, if you want to experience enlightenment, you're going to have to stop employing what keeps you from experiencing it.

Now, in metaphysical lingo, let's say, over the last hundred and fifty years, a phrase has come into play and it's not a very kind phrase. But it's one that gets used over and over: "There's a reason for everything." Now, when this is used, metaphysically speaking, it can be used in the most nebulous of ways to imply that if you're having this problem or that problem, well there's a reason for it: "Maybe it's Karma. Maybe it's something that's fouled up in your mind. But there's a reason for everything." Not true.
