DCCRW General Meeting

Wednesday, November 3, 2010

Don't miss...

"About Last Night: Election Reflection with Tom Pauken"

at DCCRW's November General Meeting on the morning after Election Day! (Please note date change to Wednesday for this month's meeting)!

Get behind the headlines of November's election coverage
when Texas Workforce Commission Chairman Tom Pauken provides experienced insight into the election results and addresses the pressing issues of jobs and the economy.

Everyone will be tired, but you won't want to miss this special presentation and we hope - a Victory Celebration!

A native Texan, Tom Pauken was elected national chairman of the College Republicans during the rise of the anti-Vietnam protest movement. Enlisting in the U.S. Army in 1967, he served as a military intelligence officer in Vietnam.

Mr. Pauken served on President Ronald Reagan's White House staff. Named Director of the Action agency by President Reagan, he eliminated the use of federal tax dollars to fund Saul Alinsky-style, leftist organizers. At Action, Pauken founded the Vietnam Veterans Leadership Program and implemented Nancy Reagan's "Just Say No to Drugs" campaign. For his meritorious service as director of Action, he was awarded the Ronald Reagan Medal of Honor by his fellow Reagan administration alumni.

Elected Texas Republican State Chairman in 1994, Mr. Pauken helped build up a Republican majority in Texas from the grassroots.

A former venture-capital executive, Pauken is a small business owner and the author of The Thirty Years War: The Politics of the '60s Generation. He currently serves as chairman of the Texas Workforce Commission.

President's Message

By Joyce Hanson

It all comes down to the ✓

It's not much longer now: in a little more than a week, we will know whether all of the incredible hard work that you and your fellow Republican women – and men – are putting behind the mid-term elections will pay off. All of the phoning, walking, stuffing and rallying – will it make a difference?

We'll know when we see those "checks" next to the names of our Republican candidates. Whether you're waiting with a candidate, or at an election night party, or just watching election coverage from home, we will all be subject to a range of emotions. Will it be elation, satisfaction, victorious and even relief? Or something else that we dare not even think about: will the "check" dash our hopes of putting our government back on track through these mid-term elections?

Whatever the outcome, there is one thing I know for sure - that the members of our Republican Women's clubs won't rest (for long) after November 2. There is too much at stake for our families and our communities beyond this election. We may all be gearing up for the holiday season, but at the same time, the wheels are turning among DCCRW board members as plans are in the works to keep up the momentum in 2011!

What you're saying about our POWER2010 Rally

It's hard to believe our first-ever POWER Rally has come and gone: eight months of planning and it was over in a flash! We've had so much positive feedback from the event, I'd like to share with you just some of the comments we received:

"The speakers were outstanding."

"Well organized, relevant/ on target/ Informative and inspiring."

"... Beautifully and professionally done. It moved smoothly and seamlessly."

"Lots of positive vibes."

"The Power Rally was the best Republican activity that I have attended...Also, it was very beneficial to have a large group together to demonstrate our power if we harness it and put it to work. The event was very empowering for women. Let's have more of these events which bring together large numbers of Republican Women!"

In a survey of our club presidents, we asked if we should present another POWER Rally and received a resounding "yes" for 2012.

A personal note of thanks to our POWER Rally Team: One of the best outcomes of working on an event such as the POWER Rally lies in developing and deepening relationships with our fellow team members. It's around the committee table that we learn more about each other, support each other and cheer each other on toward success.

I feel honored to have worked with such an incredible team on this event! Thank you to: Angie King, our event chair, who worked magic for us behind the scenes! And to the committee, who all helped shape the event from start to finish:

Pat Bielefeld – Merchandise, Deborah Brown – PR, Brenda Gaustad – Registration, Marty Forte – Newsletter updates, Debbie Georgatos – Program, Jeni McGarry – Communications, Deborah Guerriero – Decorations, and Kathy Zerangue – Merchandise. Also, Annette Ratliff, who developed the "POWER of Women to Elect Republicans" concept, and Vicki Slaton, for bringing the event idea to the DCCRW table.

What a POWERful group of women you truly are. Congratulations on a great event!

Thanks to Election Workers

DCRP Elections Administrator Jennifer Lang and Jan Woody thank all who have worked so hard to recruit or are serving as poll workers in this General Election. Through your dedicated efforts, we have been able to put a Republican into every Dallas County polling place. Republican women have been a major part of this effort.

If anyone experiences any vote fraud, please report it immediately to Republican Headquarters at 214-369-9555.

2010 Friends of DCCRW

The 2010 "Friends" Program is active. DCCRW recognizes donors for contributions of $100 or more. Plans are forthcoming for a special event for Friends. Our thanks to the following 2010 Friends of DCCRW for their support:

Republican Women Inaugurate Daughters of World War II

Daughters of World War II co-founders Deborah Guerriero and First Lady of Dallas Laura Leppert announce the first annual awards luncheon of their newly-established organization:

Veterans Day, November 11, 2010
2:00 p.m.

Hall of State - Texas State Fairgrounds

Mark Davis - Master of Ceremonies

Honoring Veterans and Presenting Inaugural
"Allies for Freedom" Award

At this event, Daughters of WWII will publicly launch its non-profit, non-political volunteer women's service and educational organization dedicated to promoting patriotism and preserving this crucial cornerstone of America's, and the world's, history.

"Before we lose the personal memory and strength to follow our hearts to honor our beloved, we must begin now to archive for posterity the personal stories, precious letters, photographs and memorabilia of America's WWII military heroes."

The first Daughters of WWII "Allies for Freedom" Award will be presented to an outstanding Allied Veteran, a shining representative of the bravery and contribution of Allied comrades worldwide.

To learn about event sponsorship and table hosting, please call 214-343-1606. For more information on the organization, visit www.DaughtersofWW2.org.

DCCRW POWER Rally a Resounding Success

More than 200 Republicans attended the POWER Rally, which brought together elected officials, candidates and their fellow Republican women and men in a morning of motivational and informative presentations designed to activate the "POWER of Women to Elect Republicans." Keynote speaker Angela McGlowan, author, activist and Fox News political commentator, kicked off the event with a dynamic speech that set the tone for the morning.

Included here are a sampling of the photos by Edgar Vargus of Exposure Soul. To see more photos from the POWER Rally, visit his web site at www.exposuresoul.com.
