PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Well, well, well.... since our President and his incumbent have finally decided to address women let us go back and revisit this. In the 1900's women that wished to vote were imprisoned, beaten, and starved. Finally, in 1918 we had the privilege to vote but it was not passed into law until 1920. Unfortunately many of us have allowed our husbands to go vote and we have stayed home for various reasons and not exercised our freedom. Now that our vote is 56% guess who the candidates are targeting? Yes, you will hear women's voices throughout this campaign and it is our duty to get out and vote. Even though it is not a ritual for Republicans to vote a straight ticket, I must urge you to do so this year. We cannot lose our conservative values again.

Sincerely,
Deborah Guerriero, President DCCRW

Issues
Janet Clesi

Hold on to your hats and have a seat for this one!

- Obama just signed a jobs bill and praised private business. The bill is Jump-start our Business Start-ups (Jobs) Act. Afterward he called for more tax cuts to help small businesses. Can anyone say "Election year conversion?"
- Obama signed Stock Act into law, which bars members of Congress, the President, & Federal employees from profiting from non-public information learned on the job. It essentially bars insider trading among lawmakers.
- Update on ObamaCare – Obama apparently got the word from one of his Supreme Court Justices, (could it be his former Solicitor General?) that the Oral Arguments did not go well for the constitutionality of ObamaCare. Don't be surprised if it goes down that five or so unelected Justices denied the people of their health care.
