Minister's Moment

This weekend we will be continuing a series of messages I'm calling "CONS - Life-Lessons from Legendary Biblical Figures." On Sunday, we will be peering into the life of King David. Last week we learned lessons from his best day - Conquering the giant Goliath. This week we will focusing our attention on his worst day - His indiscretion with Bathsheba.

Sin is a universal dilemma we all face and properly dealing with it is a crucial step in our spiritual development. We will learn, as David, that the consequences of merely shrugging off our shortcomings have a crippling effect on our emotional and physical lives - not to mention the eternal ramifications.

This Sunday's sermon may not be the most popular subject matter, however I feel it will be one of the most important messages I've preached in a while. I sure hope to see you and a friend on Sunday!
