

Accelerating Team Performance

You know that teamwork is important and it shouldn't be that hard, but somehow it always is. There are power plays, weak links and miscommunication. At best it is not an engaging work environment, at worst the results suffer. You're looking for more than just general strategies, you want an innovative approach customized to you and the needs of your team. StrengthsPRO's Accelerating Team Performance program will help you strengthen critical partnerships inside and outside of the team while enhancing engagement, creativity and decision making.

The StrengthsPRO Difference

If you've been a manager for more than 5 minutes I'm sure you've already participated in many leadership development experiences ranging from speakers, to workshops, to buddy programs and the like. And yet you're back. Maybe this is because you're looking to renew capabilities you gained from these experiences, but most likely you are interested in transforming in an area that your previous experiences couldn't reach. Something was missing.

We have the missing ingredient to create and sustain that change you desire.

This time you are in the right place. We have the missing ingredient to create and sustain the change you desire. And the best news is that you have it too. You had it all along. That missing ingredient is your personal strengths—the intersection of your character and competence. Unlike other interventions that attempt to reprogram you like a computer by filling you with knowledge and too many or too few tools, our program will build upon your unique foundation and allow you to customize an approach that fits you and your business.

Reflective

We have a dual meaning for Reflective: 1) Content and participation is rooted in individual and organizational reflection on current state and desired results. 2) Methods and outcomes are reflective of the needs of the individual and organization.

Reality Based

You will focus your work on current personal, professional and business realities. We will meet you where you are and take you to where you want to be. Think back to your favorite college class made of lecture and lab, only supercharged, because the lectures are short and engaging and the lab is your work life. Bring your actual challenges, try the tools and methods and make real (time) changes in performance.

Results Oriented

The foundation of reflection and the impact of reality creates momentum toward results. But not the desired results of the Facilitator Coach, rather the results you and the business require. Before we begin we'll create comprehensive goals and methods to evaluate results. It doesn't end there, as sustained results are the goal.
