Top Selling Antique & Vintage Items of 2018

The old saying that for every season, there's a reason, seems to be spot-on these days when it comes to those looking for antiques, vintage and collectible items. The Ashford Institute (AIA), a professional-level distance learning program related to the study of antiques, appraising and the decorative arts, recently released the results of its annual in-depth 2018 survey of trends and movements within the antiques and collectibles marketplace. The school's poll includes a yearly compilation of statistics from a sampling of over eighteen-hundred students and graduates that are actively engaged within the business side of the decorative arts community.

Ashford, which has been conducting the industry related survey for over ten years now, says it uploads the poll results every January to the school's web site for review and dissection. The primary focus of our survey according to Sharon Tomey, one of the Institute's chief strategists for compiling the raw data, says the goal has always been towards gauging meaningful interest by the public, in regard to current and popular trends related to the antiques, vintage and retro inspired marketplace. "Our results are based on actual sales and requests for particular items," says Tomey.

As in past years, the Ashford poll seems to note the unabated move towards modernism in collecting. "Mid-Century is still very much the thing," said Tomey, "but we're beginning to see that movement spread out into other fields as well."

Also of interest for many who participated in the survey, was the general consensus by a number of store owners that there was definitely a younger vibe to the shopping experience than ever before. "I've been selling antiques and vintage for twenty-years," said poll participant Mike Schol, "and I've never seen so many young folks be into thrifting and vintage - it's definitely a good sign." While Tomey cautions people not to read too much into such anecdotal tales, she does acknowledge that on average store owners are beginning to notice a younger demographic appearing than before. "Whether or not this will last remains to be seen," said Tomey, "but it's certainly encouraging."

Some of the other movers-and-shakers from this year's poll included vintage fashions and textiles - which had a strong showing over previous years - as well as costume and vintage jewelry which continued its surge in popularity and price. Other notable stalwarts included toys, specifically Star Wars items, and American Western memorabilia - all of which drew high ticket prices according to many of the survey's respondents.

For readers wanting to view the full results of the school's 2018 survey you can find them online at: <https://www.ashford.com/2018-survey-results.html>.

The weather here has been really nice this past week and weekend. Hopefully everyone was able to get out and enjoy not only the sunshine but some antiquing. There has been plenty to choose from in the past few weeks and the upcoming weeks ahead. Always be checking that auction calendar and upcoming events pages.

The girls are back at college. It was nice having them home. Mekenzy finalized her summer job and is taking some summer classes online. We will also be visiting some Graduate Schools at the end of summer for her, as she will graduate early from Bemidji University in May 2020. Tia is off to Northern University in Boston, Massachusetts this summer for her internship she applied for. We had to finalize Brandon's senior graduation party dates, food and invites. So, we were a busy family for this visit home.

Tia was busy dog sitting all weekend. Although I don't know who was having more fun? Tia or Katie the dog? I'm sure Katie was enjoying all the lavish attention Tia was giving her. Katie even had a spring adventure & came home with some burrs.

Tia was worried she wouldn't be able to get them out, but she did.

Meanwhile my travel & work companion Zetti received his annual winter/spring haircut. Here is his before & after pictures.

Antiques Abbreviations

by Mike Paul

A while ago a reader asked about explaining some of the abbreviations they encounter in auction ads. This got me thinking about the abbreviations auctioneers use and why we use them. After a phone call to Gloria I offered to put together a listing.

By definition, an abbreviation is a shortened form of a word or phrase used for brevity. Within context and reason it identifies certain aspects of a piece to the buyer without needlessly going into detail. A lamp buyer will know what a "bracket lamp" is. It's unnecessary to say, "Victorian cast iron wall bracket with mercury glass reflector, chimney & drop in finger font". Most auctioneers use abbreviations in order to keep the size of the ad affordable. However it can be too much of a good thing and some of the more arcane descriptions can confuse or mislead the reader. To a person who collects a particular category most abbreviations in that category are readily recognized. To anybody else they are probably gibberish. Even a novice farm toy buyer won't need a three day weekend to decipher IH, McD & JD. WWI & WWII are obvious but would most folks recognize CW (Civil War) out of context? Coins, firearms, Hummels (152/A TMK3 UB K255 HB, anyone?) and other categories all have their own abbreviations that often are exclusive to that field. But if you are a glassware buyer does it really matter if you can't translate a 28g, o/u, d-bbl, ss w/syn stock and vr?

Some descriptions, while not technically correct, get the point across. For example "Jewel T", (which is short for Jewel Tea, a grocery chain) takes up less space than "Autumn Leaf", (a pattern name for china offered as a premium by Jewel Tea). This may seem like a trivial difference but similar descriptions over several publications begin to add up.

A listing that encompassed all of the collecting fields would be more of a project than I can take on but the following abbreviations should get you through most ads for antique auctions. If you have others you'd like to add to the list or that you've wondered about, please email them to me at mike@paulauction.com.

A&C - Arts & Crafts. Refers to the style of furniture usually associated with early 1900s Stickley. Often but erroneously referred to as Mission or Prairie.

ABC - American Brilliant Cut. Refers to the "Brilliant" period of late 19th/early 20th century American cut glass

B&H - Bradley & Hubbard. A manufacturer of quality lighting and decorative accessories.

B&W - Blue & White. The glaze colors used on utilitarian stoneware that was often found in the kitchen.

CI - Cast Iron.

COP - Century Of Progress. Typically refers to souvenirs hauled back from the Chicago World's Fair of 1933/34. Even in the middle of the Great Depression, a lot of Wisconsinites made the trip to see the COP.

CRS - Somebody explained this to me once, but I can't seem to remember what they said.

Dmg - Damage.

gl - Gallon. Typically used when advertising stoneware capacity

For Rest - For Restoration. Don't go to the auction expecting a cream puff.

GBCF - Glass Ball Claw Foot. Describes the foot usually found on late Victorian parlor and lamp tables.

GWTW - Gone With The Wind. A style of lamp with a matching font and top globe. Correctly referred to as a parlor lamp but popularly known as a Gone With The Wind, after the movie of the same name.

LRRH- Little Red Riding Hood. Typically refers to the Regal China products that feature her.

MIB - Mint In Box. Any item, but often a toy, that is in the same condition as new and in the original box.

MOP - Mother of Pearl. Polished nacre usually derived from mollusk shells. Typically found in jewelry, ladies dresser articles, buttons and in the windows of RPOG art.

NIB - New In Box. Similar to above but often assumed to be of modern production

NOS - New Old Stock. Old merchandise, often with original manufacturer's tags and merchant's price tags, that has never been sold or used.

NWOT - New With Original Tags, but sometimes used as New With Out Tags. eBay sellers are usually guilty of using this both ways. If buying online, clarify before bidding.

o/b - Outboard. An outboard motor.

OOB - Oil on Board. Art work done on a board, usually Masonite.

OOC - Oil on Canvas. Art work done on canvas.

Pre Pro - Pre Prohibition, prior to 1920. Refers specifically to alcohol related advertising.

Post Pro - Post Prohibition, after 1933. Refers specifically to alcohol related advertising.

QA - Queen Anne. Generally refers to a 1920's or 30's revival style exemplified by a cabriole leg.

Repro - Reproduction. A good definition would require a separate article but you get the idea. Occasionally people will use the slang "Repop" for repro or "Repo" which is inaccurate and what happens to your car when Vinnie pulls up in a tow truck.

RPOG - Reverse Painted on Glass. Less common as ROG. Any item where the design or artwork has been applied to the obverse side of the glass but typically a lamp shade, decorative framed art or advertising items.

RPPC - Real Photo Post Card. Differentiates a post card that was printed, (developed) off your film from one that was commercially printed. These were so popular that Kodak marketed the 3A folder specifically for the RPPC.

RR - Railroad.

RW - Red Wing. Red Wing, or less often, the several other stoneware companies that called Red Wing, MN their home.

/s/ - Signed.

s/g - Salt Glaze. Refers to the type of glaze used on stoneware and to differentiate it from the later, more common, zinc glaze.

TOC - Tin Over Cardboard. A type of sign made of tin wrapped over a piece of paperboard and hung by a piece of short thread mounted to the back side of the sign. Commonly used in the 1930's and 40's by brewing and other industries.

T&S- Time & Strike. Refers to clock movements. Differentiates between time only and striking movements.

Antiques & Appraising School Launches "New" e-Course

Article by Charles Green (Ashford Institute of Antiques)

The Ashford Institute of Antiques (AIA), a professional-level distance learning program on antiques, collectibles and appraising, recently rolled out its first ever online "e-Course," at an industry trade gathering earlier this month, in anticipation of the school's 50th anniversary to be held in New York later this year.

Described by school spokesperson Shelly Dumont, as a watershed moment for the Institute, Dumont said the school's first foray into e-learning was consistent with Ashford's innovative and groundbreaking teaching techniques employed over the last 50 years. "When we offer something new, we like to take the time to make sure it's done right," said Dumont at a Q & A session following the announcement.

When asked about the differences in curriculum between textbooks and the new e-Course format of the program, Dumont said there was literally no comparison. "In terms of sheer volume, it's almost double the size of the printed version, and comes loaded with interactive videos, multimedia-activities, web-based resource links, and a host of other features we simply can't add into the texts." Dumont went on to say that the e-Course had been in development for almost two years by the school's IT team, before any release dates were even considered.

Industry insiders attending the trade gathering were granted temporary passcodes to the e-Course, and were given full access to the programs options and features at a demonstration held during the event. Director of the school, Charles Green presided over the presentation, and noted during the unveiling, that the program had undergone almost a year of beta-testing by international students prior to its intended release in North America.

A statement issued from the school's Admissions Officer, Tony Drew seemed to indicate a "full" release date for the new e-Course to be some time in mid-July. "We don't want to rush it, but we're really pleased with the response so far," said Drew, "We think the e-Course is really going to be a game-changer when it comes to setting the bar for future antiques and appraising education." The press release went on to say that while the textbooks for the Ashford program were still available, they would likely be phased out in the next five to ten years.

For readers seeking more information about the school's new e-Course program, they can be contacted at: (877) 444-4508 or visit their web site at; www.ashford.com. You can also write to them at; the Ashford Institute of Antiques 981 Harbor Blvd., Suite 3, Dept. 275EC11 Destin, FL 32541-2525, or at their Canadian office at; 131 Bloor Street West, Suite 200, Dept. 124EC11 Toronto, ON M5S 1R8.

The American Society of Military Insignia Collectors

The American Society of Military Insignia Collectors, commonly known as ASMIC, is one of the oldest and largest organizations of military insignia collectors in the world. Founded in 1937 by a small group of enthusiastic collectors, it is chartered under Ohio law and recognized as non-profit 501 (c) (3) organization. The Society is "home" today to 2,000 dedicated collectors in the United States and foreign nations. Whether an individual is an experienced or beginning collector shoulder sleeve and distinctive unit insignia (patches and DIs), rank insignia, wings, decorations and awards (medals), elite forces emblems, cap badges, specialty markings, or of simply information on heraldry and the symbolism of heraldic devices, membership in ASMIC has many advantages.

ASMIC publishes a quarterly journal entitled The Trading Post and a Newsletter. The Trading Post contains a wealth of information on all aspects of U. S. and foreign military insignia. It includes articles from members, illustrations of old and new emblems as well as an occasional color section depicting American or foreign insignia. Unidentified Insignia are covered in a separate column in The Trading Post

The Newsletter brings word of insignia and dress items for trade or sale via classified and display ads. Society members rely on the Newsletter to advertise for insignia they wish to include in their collections and for announcements of regional and national insignia and militaria shows.

The ASMIC Reference Library contains almost 1000 items available for loan to members. These publications range from back issues of The Trading Post to major reference works published by our members and other militaria experts. The Library also includes many journals from other militaria societies for use by our members

Over the years, ASMIC has produced more than 20,000 black and white line drawings of military insignia, along with detailed descriptions of the insignia and known variations. Most of these drawings are available in our Distinctive Insignia or Cloth Patch catalogs, available to the general public and, at a discounted price, to ASMIC members.

The National Museum of Cambridge Glass

On April 3, 2002, the National Cambridge Collectors, Inc. proudly opened a premier glass museum in downtown Cambridge, Ohio. It houses a superb collection of Cambridge glassware produced by The Cambridge Glass Company from 1902 to 1958.

The museum is located at 136 South Ninth Street, one block south of the main street of Cambridge, and is open April through October with hours of operation shown at the bottom of this page.

At right, you can view an interview conducted with Cindy Arent, one of our NCC Board Members who is the chairperson of the Museum Committee. Click on the arrow to start it. Here is a chance to hear first-hand about our world-class museum. If you'd like to see it a little larger, click on the picture while it is showing and you will be taken to the YouTube page where it is presented in a larger size.

The year 2002 marked the 100th anniversary of the making of the first piece of Cambridge Glass (the Big X pitcher, shown below and to the right). The Museum Grand Opening celebration took during NCC Convention week on June 27, 2002. We're easy to find - here's a map of the Cambridge area.

Museum Contents

Big X Pitcher The museum features over 6,000 pieces of glassware made by the Cambridge Glass Company, with an interpretive area demonstrating how glass was made from gathering, shaping, etching, and engraving.

The Sample Room features the door and shelving from the original factory, and a dining room display features a table setting arranged on period furniture much as it would have appeared in the early 1900s.

Guests can do their own rubbings from original etching plates in the Education Center, and view a movie made in the 1940s by the Cambridge Glass Company.

Pieces of Cambridge Glass and jewelry made from Cambridge Glass are available for sale in the gift shop, along with books and other items throughout the museum.

Arthur, Illinois' A Gathering on the Prairie Antiques Show: The One That Started it All!

Article & Photos by Michelle Goltz

There is nothing else better than getting to a show and seeing so many people walking in, and so many walking out carrying great finds to their cars! I have only gone to 2 shows in Arthur and I must say at first you are always a bit nervous going in to cover a show but once you get in that goes away instantly. Not only are the vendors great, so are all the customers. Everyone is so friendly and always welcoming to a short conversation about a great piece you may both be admiring!

Here is a great little story about a special piece I found to be intriguing that Diane Gish had in her booth. Diane always has a few pieces that just seem to stick out and this show she had 2 pieces, what fun! A beautiful unique vintage piece with a secret compartment in this fabulous little folk art washstand! Aside from that, there's a slanted drop lid that when lifted reveals the wash bowl well, there are 2 mirrors, one of which is surrounded by incised hearts and there's one cabinet door with applied wood decoration and an incised hex sign above it that opens to a curved shelf to house a water pitcher. She also brought something she has had and admired in her home for a few years and decided it was time for it to have a new home, it was a unique bellow made into a coffee table! I was tempted to buy it but it won't quite work with 2 labs in the house.

Make sure you mark your calendars definitely don't want to miss the Arthur "Gathering on the Prairie's" next show on March 2nd. For more information call 217-620-8983 or visit agatheringontheprairie.com.

2020 Cabin Fever Show To Move To New Location

Article by David Hunsicker

The annual Cabin Fever Flea Market, held in West Allis Wisconsin, was successful with 450 people braving the good 17degree weather on March 3rd. Visitors cured their cabin fever by acquiring the many collectibles offered by the vendors. With sadness that was the last show at the West Allis Knights of Columbus after 19 years due to the building being demolished. Visitors and vendors were pleased to learn that Cabin Fever will continue next year in 2020 on March 8th at the New Berlin Banquet Center/Ale House, 16000 Cleveland Ave. in New Berlin, Wisconsin.

Hobbys Unlimited exists to promote the advancement and enjoyment of all hobbies, crafts and collectibles, and to inspire one another to share that enjoyment with others.

For more information contact Dave Hunsicker at 262-338-6064.

NEW EVENT SCHEDULED! TICKETS SELL FAST!

MYSTERY AT THE MANSION
SATURDAY, APRIL 13, FROM 7:00 - 10:00 PM

Mystery, Mayhem, Murder! Join us for a live game of "Who dun it?" in the unmatched surroundings of Hearthstone's beautiful interiors. Guests assume the persona of characters... think heiresses, playboys, millionaires, art dealers and authors (but some may not be what they appear to be!) in an Agatha Christie-type mystery to try to solve a murder. This one is considered challenging. Can you find the solution?

Guests will be sent identity packages prior to the event, and clues, evidence and directed conversation throughout the evening. Costumes are strongly encouraged to add to the fun. All tickets include food, wine, and other beverages served by our docents in the roles of maids and butlers. One of our staff keeps everything on track towards a suspenseful conclusion. Prizes are awarded for best costume, drama and, of course, for guessing the identity of the killer. It's dining, daggers, and danger surrounded by Hearthstone's beautifully restored rooms.

For Tickets, please go to <https://www.hearthstonemuseum.org/events/>
All proceeds support Hearthstone Historic House Museum and its many educational and cultural programs.
