Tia has also been promoted to concession manager at the ice rink. I already feel empty nest syndrome and they haven't even left yet, we just don't get to see them to often. Advertising the Focus at Huge Miller's Auction Company Sale in Tomah, Wisconsin

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

It was quite a sight as I arrived at the Monroe County Fairgrounds on a brisk December 5th Saturday morning – the second day of the two-day auction. And while day-one featured a range of agricultural, automotive, and soft drink advertising, breweriana was the focus for today. Hundreds of classic signs filled row after row of tables, with many more jumbo examples lining the walls of the building. This December Miller's Auction Company sale was among their biggest and best of the year, with eight-hundred cataloged lots of choice period advertising. As expected, a large crowd filled the hall by the 9am start of the event.

And I don't think a single one of them were disappointed with the quality of the offerings. Period neon signs drew many to the sale, most of which were in exceptional restored condition. That certainly described the Point Special Beer example that lead the way pricewise at $6,200. Other neon sign highlights included another Point Beer version selling for $5,500, and a 36" x 54" Hamm's Beer sign that made a solid $3,900.

The many classic porcelain signs did just as well. Two hard-to-find Fox Head Beer shield signs were a standout, selling for $5,000 and $4,900. A very-clean Goetz Country Club Beer porcelain sign sold for $4,900 too, and an unusual Wooden Shoe Beer sign surprised at $4,100. Budget not that big? Bidders had hundreds of other lots to choose from in all price ranges.

And although signs dominated the sale, I shouldn't fail to mention the two very-different classic cars that crossed the block on day-one. A restored 1923 Ford Model-T Roadster came complete with a trailer to take it home on, and made a respectable $5,900. And of course that previously mentioned 2008 Ford Carroll Shelby Mustang

Convertible that was easily the top-lot of the auction, selling for $31,000.

Some other prices:

- Hyde Park Beer on Tap neon sign - $2,500
- 6' "Beer & Wine" neon sign - $2,400
- 8' "Lounge-Bar" neon sign - $2,100
- 46" Blatz Milwaukee Beer neon sign - $2,100
- Lucky X Lager neon sign - $1,950
- Gibbons Ale neon arrow sign - $1,150
- Hamm's Beer Scenorama motion sign - $1,100

If you missed this December Miller's Auction Company sale, you won't have to wait long - they're having another huge two-day auction right back here at the Monroe County Fairgrounds on February 12th and 13th. Day-one will concentrate on selling 400-plus lots of agricultural advertising and antiques, while 500 examples of automotive advertising will be the focus on day-two of the sale. Miller's Auction Company is located in Hixton, in the west-central part of the Badger State. They conduct auctions of all kinds, either on-site or at their dedicated auction facility at the intersection of Interstate Highway-94 and State Highway-95. Miller's Auction Company can be reached by phone at 715-299-2543, or through their website www.millersauctionco.com. And as always, keep an eye out for that big February auction (and all of their upcoming auction listings) in the Auction Action Antique News!

A restored neon Lithia Beer sign brought $1,525 - a Heileman's Old Style Lager neon sign $1,500.

A classic Heileman's Old Style two-sided neon sign sold for $1,550.

A classic? Maybe not, but this lit plastic Bub's Beer sign still managed a $1,200 hammer price!

Two more restored period neon beer signs: the Burgermeister example sold for $1,200, the Point Beer sign for a whopping $5,500.

Rummage-A-Rama! and Wisconsin Antique Vintage Show Host Over 7,000 People at January Event

Article by Tim Gill (Open Productions)

Rummage-A-Rama! and the Wisconsin Antique & Vintage Show were overwhelmed by the excited crowds at their last event, January 30-31, at the Milwaukee County Sports Complex in Franklin, WI (6000 W Ryan Rd). Seven Thousand customers were in attendance, from as far away as Iowa, to shop for antiques, vintage, furniture, decor, collectibles, memorabilia, and more.

Over 120 local and regional vendors were present at the show, many stating that it was the best show they've had in over ten years. When asked why this event was so popular, Open Productions co-owner, Tim Gill, responded, "Yes, there was certainly nice weather that weekend, but we made a specific effort to increase advertising for the Antique & Vintage portion of the event."

Feedback from customers indicated that they were looking for even more antique and vintage vendors, which Gill stated as a top priority for the March 12-13 event. "Vendor spaces start at just $105 for the weekend, and we're still accepting applications," says Gill. We are particularly interested in those selling furniture, antiques, rustic, salvaged and architectural items, and more.

The March 12-13 show is sure to be a hit as well, which will include vendor space by Hippie Tom, as seen on American Pickers, and an appraisal fair hosted on Sunday, where customers can have items looked at by certified appraisers for just $5 per item.

One admission price grants entry to both shows, which occupy the same building, separated by an open aisle with seating. Admission is $5 per person or $3 with a two-item food donation for Hunger Task Force. As always, kids 12 & under are FREE. Parking is also free.

CAROL MILLER INDUCTED INTO WISCONSIN AUCTIONEERS ASSOCIATION HALL OF FAME

Local Auctioneer Carol Miller, of Oconomowoc, WI, was recently inducted into the Wisconsin Auctioneer's Association's (WAA) Hall of Fame. As the 2016 recipient, Miller joins a small group of Wisconsin auctioneers who hold this highly esteemed honor in the auction industry. The ceremony took place at the annual WAA Conference & Show that was held at the Best Western Conference Center in Stevens Point from January 24th through the 26th.

The event included auctioneers from across Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota and Texas, seeking continuing education credits to fulfill their license requirements and upgrade their professionalism. In addition to workshops on ethics and professional conduct, marketing, firearms and sales tax issues, auctioneers were able to attend individual coaching lessons by International Auctioneer Champion Tammy Tisland.

The Hall of Fame honors auctioneers who have established high ethical standards, have a willingness to share with others in the industry, practice honesty and integrity in their business, and contribute to their communities.

Carol and her husband Todd own and operate Baileys Honor Auction LLC and perform live and online auctions, as well as many benefit events. She has pursued her auction education by attending the World Wide College of Auctioneering in Mason City, Iowa, and is also a candidate of the Certified Auctioneer's Institute at Indiana University where she will be completing her third and final year in 2017. Carol is a member of the Wisconsin and National Auctioneers Associations, where she has served in several leadership positions including the WAA President in 2013.

Miller earned a Bachelor's degree from the University of Wisconsin in LaCrosse, was the winner of the Wisconsin State Championship Auctioneer Contest held at the Wisconsin State Fair in 2013, is a renowned antique expert since 1989, and a 2013 'top 7 finalist' in the woman's division of the International Auctioneer's Championship Contest. In addition to serving as Director and multiple Officer positions within the Wisconsin Auctioneer's Association, she has also chaired several committees and is an instructor for the State of Wisconsin for Continuing Education classes.

Miller has also appeared on the TV program called "If Walls Could Talk," an award winning HGTV show that finds historic and interesting items within renovated homes and puts a price on them. Todd and Carol are the parents of two daughters, Lynzie (Peter) and Allison (Jon) and a new granddaughter, Maisy.

Bailey's Honor Auction LLC was named after Emma Bailey, the first female auctioneer, and has been in business for more than 22 years.

Folk Art of Cape Cod and the Islands Jeanne Marie Carley

- Three centuries of folk art from Cape Cod and the Islands • Includes a wide range of forms, including paintings, maritime, trade figures, weathervanes, textiles & more • Identifies the artists where possible & chronicles the ordinary lives of the people of Cape Cod

With over 560 color photos & well-researched text, this book recounts the histories of the hard working, entrepreneurial people of Cape Cod, Martha's Vineyard, and Nantucket and their role in this nation, as told through the folk art primitives the residents produced from the eighteenth to the twentieth centuries. The art displayed includes the works of itinerant painters, domestic weavers and quilters, seminary school watercolorists, and carvers in wood, metal and stone. Among these fascinating items are: paintings including portraits and silhouettes, landscapes and genre paintings; maritime art such as sculpture and scrimshaw; trade figures and signs; carousel art; wood carvings; weathervanes and whirligigs; religious and decorative art; textiles, including quilts and samplers; and gravestones. All of these beautiful and compelling works of art speak eloquently of the human aspirations sparked by the freedom and prosperity offered by the coasts and the bold, clear visual language that ordered these craftsmen's world.

Jeanne Marie Carley is a folk art historian and writer with a background in journalism, art, and genealogy. She has written about American and French-Canadian folk art for books and national magazine articles.

March 1 - that's the planned launch date of TLCI's new online reference guide to all things Tea Leaf. Members of the Educational Team are diligently working to meet that date. For months, they have planned, designed, tested ideas, entered information, and fine-tuned entries and cross-referencing to produce and develop a digital handbook which will be available free of charge to anyone interested in learning more about Tea Leaf.

The result will be a vast source of information on many potters of Tea Leaf, distinguishing marks, body styles and characteristics of pieces from bone dishes to waste bowls, bath wares to rare and unusual. Hundreds of photos will help readers identify shapes and styles of particular pieces. This will be a "living" directory which may never be completely accurate or all inclusive, as more information comes to light and is added to the handbook about the popular ironstone.

Past and present members of TLCI have shared their research and knowledge of Tea Leaf through years of articles in the club's newsletters and at annual conventions. Within

The Tea Leaf Club is dedicated to the study and collection of Tea Leaf Ironstone China and its Variants, produced in England and America from the mid-19th century through the early 1900s. The club boasts hundreds of members from almost every state in the union, as well as from Canada, who collect, study, love, and appreciate the simple beauty and endurance of Tea Leaf Ironstone China.

One of the goals of TLCI is to expand knowledge of the history and popularity of Tea Leaf ironstone throughout the years. The club welcomes new members and enthusiastically shares their appreciation for the sturdy, attractive pottery. Here are some comments from those working on this project:

"I am excited for the introduction of the new Online Tea Leaf Guide and excited to see how the project grows as we implement even more features in future years."

"This is a remarkable investment in the future of the Tea Leaf Club and continued interest in Tea Leaf Ironstone China."

"In this information-on-demand world, the Tea Leaf Club has created a reference guide for the next century."

Mid-Century Emergence At The Midwest Antique & Art and Collector's Eye Shows

Article & photos by Cathy Rawson

Over the last three years a strong Mid-Century art and design presence has begun to emerge at the Midwest Antique and Art Show in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The show has always been known for its unique qualities that have distinguished it from other shows in the area but what has been apparent has been its ability to evolve as a show attractive to a broad spectrum of buying clients.

Certainly a part of that evolution is the inclusion and promotion of dealers with quality Mid-Century art and design objects. The April show will feature no fewer than 10 vendors specializing in great mid-20th century furniture, art and special accessories. The offering is hardly kitsch but carefully selected items for both the beginning collector of objects of the 1950-70s and sophisticated collectors interested in creations by the best known and designed objects of the time by the very best designers of the period. Furniture and accessories by Herman Miller/Eames, Dunbar, Milo Baughman, Bertioia, Kofod Larsen, Kovacs and Sonneman lighting, works by Knoll, Adrian Piersall and Mies van der Rohe have all been present and sold at the last several shows. Serious dealers bringing serious merchandise for serious buyers are paying dividends for all concerned. The show evolves and is attractive not only to the traditional Americana audiences but also to the younger, hip generation as well. It is a living, thriving show.

The Midwest Antique and Art and Collector's Eye Shows will open their doors at 10a.m. Sunday, April 3rd, 2016, at the Hawkeye Downs Fairgrounds, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Mississippian Male Human Effigy Bottle Brings $5,500 at Rainbow Traders

Article & photos by Rainbow Traders

Overall the axes, quality flint and known historic Indian artists items were very strong throughout the auction. Beadwork seems to continue to strengthen from its down turn in 2009. Baskets also were strong relative to their recent results also since 2009 & 2010. Further, ancient pottery continued to see strong results.

James McKinney was known to have always carried an arrowhead in his pocket. Beginning in the 1930's as a young man, he hunted the fields, streams and cave shelters of Maries Co., MO. Following his military service in the South Pacific in World War II in which he earned a Bronze Star, as well as playing in baseball for the U.S. Army's traveling team, Mr. McKinney returned home to farm and manage the local MFA Farmers Elevator. Although he helped raise six fine children, coached softball teams for many years, farmed crops and cattle, he continued to expand his relic hunting areas to include Osage, Franklin, Gasconade and other Central Southern Missouri counties. Jim enjoyed showing his collection to school children, and was a familiar presence at many Missouri Archaeological shows. Mr. McKinney was the recipient of several "Best of Show" and "Best Personal Find" awards at Missouri and Greater St. Louis Archaeological events over the years. We were especially honored to present this as the first sale to liquidate his fine lifetime assemblage.

The Vander Vorste family hunted Indian relics in North & South Dakota from the 1920's through the 1950's. Margaret Vander Vorste was especially avid throughout the 1930's and 1940's in finding and preserving relics in the counties of Campbell and Emmons near Pollock, South Dakota. Many of the items contained in this sale were on display in the local museum near Pollock for many years. All items offered herein were personal finds or acquisitions prior to 1960.

After retiring from a distinguished lifetime career in the U.S. Air Force in 1978, Master Sargent Kenneth Mullins assisted his wife Sandra in assembling an impressive quality cookie jar collection. Due to Sandra's passing, Mr. Mullins had decided to share their large outstanding collection with the general collecting community.

Rainbow Traders is celebrating 41 years in the auction business this year! They specialize in antiques, Native American art, real estate and complete estate dispersal service. If you are considering having an auction, you can contact Dennis Arbeiter at 618-372-0248 and visit their website at: www.raibowtraders.com.

Article & photos by Kae Townsend (Townsend Promotions Inc.)

The May Gold Rush at the Olmsted County Fairgrounds in Rochester, MN returns May 13, 14 & 15, 2016. The Fall Gold Rush is August 19, 20 & 21, 2016..

May 1st comes on a Sunday so it is not considered a full weekend. This is the fourth time the May Gold Rush has not been on Mother's Day weekend as this is how the calendar lines up. Previously in the past, Gold Rush was not on Mother's Day in the years 1994, 2005 and 2011.
