Springtime Success for Tuscola, Illinois' Rural Life Antique Show & Sale

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

The central Illinois town of Tuscola recently hosted what's become a big part of a growing family of antiques events in the Midwest: the spring edition of the Rural Life Antique Show and Sale. Antiques enthusiasts from far and wide flock to the area on the first weekend of each March, when several shows specializing in country & primitive antiques all open their doors to the public for Illinois Amish Country's Spring Antiques Weekend. Founded in 2011 by local antiques dealer Donna Kidwell, the Rural Life Antiques Show & Sale now boasts dozens of exhibitors coming from as far away as New York State.

Out & About

I hope that all the mothers out there had a wonderful Mother's Day. While at work, daughter Tia was admiring how many men waited until the last minute to get a gift for their mothers. She even had a gentleman that bought the card and the gift and then asked Tia for the pen to sign the card, as he was going right from the store to his mother's house.

The farmers are out and about with their tractors.

Looks like almost all of my local fields are ready to go.

My local farmers market is just starting to get their flowers in.

Todd and I have started on our deck. We take on a project every week. We try to get some help from which ever child is home at the time. Brandon has helped out the most. Kenzy makes it home to tell us it is looking good. Tia has helped apply her math and memory skills, to help make the lists of items we either need or need to order. Hoping to have it finished in a few weeks.

When Out and About this weekend, be sure to check out:

The Rural Life Antique Show & Sale: An Important Part of Illinois Amish Country's Spring Antiques Weekend

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

Tuscola, Illinois is a quintessentially Midwestern town, home to around 4,500 folks and the seat of Douglas County. The imposing Douglas County Courthouse dominates the town center, but the area is known much better for something else: its large and growing Amish community, founded in the 1860s and now numbering nearly five-thousand strong. A significant tourism industry has grown right along with them too, with dozens of shops selling Amish-made products ranging from rustic furniture to handmade cheeses.

As you might imagine, the picturesque area is natural location for country-oriented antiques shows. The "A Gathering on the Prairie" show was the first of the now four antiques shows participating in the Illinois Amish Country Spring Antiques Weekend, and just celebrated its thirteenth season. It and two other antiques shows are located in Nearby Arthur, Illinois, with this Rural Life Antique Show & Sale just down the road in Tuscola.

Donna Kidwell, ably assisted by her husband Richard, founded the show in 2011. She's uniquely qualified for the task, having operated Tuscola's Winterberry antiques shop for a quarter of a century. "It's an exciting antiquing area, especially during the spring and fall shows," Donna told me. "And with dealers coming from all over the country, you never quite know what will turn up."

New York's James Wm. Lowery Fine Art & Antiques was among those dealers. They brought classic Americana with an emphasis on New England furnishings, as did nearby Craig W. Illa Antiques. A colorful stack of painted 19th century chest could be found there, alongside a circa 1800 wooden-works tall case clock in a simple maple case.

Want something a bit more funky? How about the great selection of 19th century cast iron mechanical banks at Z & K Antiques, or Over Hill Over Dale Antiques' overwhelming array of period advertising of every description. And while the focus of the show is on country & primitive antiques, you'll find exhibitors specializing in everything from decorated stoneware and early lighting to vintage toys and more. And remember, your weekend's not over yet, as you've got at least three other shows to visit just a short hop away from Tuscola!

This Spring Illinois Amish Country Antiques Weekend was just the beginning of the region's 2016 events. April 21st through the 23rd brings the Amish Country Quilt Show, followed by the venerable Moultrie-Douglas Combined County Fair in July. And tens of thousands of visitors come each Labor Day Weekend for the Amish Country Cheese Festival, as they've done for more than forty years. Just visit www.illinoisamishcountry.com for all the details of those events and more. For more information about the Rural Life Antique Show and Sale, head your browser to www.rurallifeantiqueshow.com, or give Donna Kidwell a call at 217-253-6250.

And don't worry if you missed this spring edition of the show: all of the Amish Country Antiques Shows, including of course the Rural Life Antique Show & Sale, will be back for the Autumn Amish Country Antiques Weekend. Be sure to pencil in November 11th and 12th, the dates for this year's fall festivities. And as always, keep an eye out for listings of the Rural Life Antique Show & Sale in the Auction Action Antique News!

Classic New England furnishings from New York exhibitor

James Wm. Lowery Fine Art & Antiques: the wonderfully carved Sheraton mahogany card table (attributed to Samuel Field McIntire of Salem, Mass.) priced at $3,200, the large scale Harriett Emeline Pittman theorem on velvet hanging above at $2,200. 315-638-1329

In another corner of James Wm. Lowery Fine Art & Antiques' display sat this elegant mahogany Sheraton chest ($2,685) with turned legs and "cookie" corners, supporting an imposing 19th century dairy cow weathervane figure priced at $12,500. 315-638-1329

Anchoring the display of Sherman Alden Antiques: this imposing 18th century curved settle that once resided in a Cape Cod tavern, a full 8' in length and priced at $3,400. 508-524-1227

White Horse Antiques came with American country artifacts of all descriptions, including this double wall basket priced at $195.

A trio of early cranberry scoops at Kreekside Antiques and Collectibles were priced from $195 to $225. 765-419-1712

Two Masonic-themed finds from Kreekside Antiques and Collectibles: the 19th century hand-carved armchair priced at $950, the 1918 Emblematic Chart at $250. 765-419-1712

Double-sided wood Vermont Funeral Director trade sign measuring 26" x 49", from Sherman Alden Antiques - $725. 508-524-1227

From Good's Antiques, a 6' long walnut & glass jeweler's display case, asking price $1,250. 262-642-9523

Two black folk art fabric dolls from Sparrow's Nest Antiques: the "Mammy" version priced at $195, the other at $145. 402-467-2550

Early button-eyed mohair Teddy Bears at Sparrow's Nest Antiques were priced at $295 and $395. 402-467-2550

Period American furniture is always the focus at Good's Antiques, where I found this one-piece Minnesota pine stepback cupboard sporting its original pale blue paint ($2,750) and 36" x 66" brown cupboard with four raised panel doors - $895. 262-642-9523

At Michigan's The Country Gentleman, this early pine table ($1,650) sported a 28" x 38" surface with breadboard ends; a humungous 52" tall Massachusetts horn-beam was priced at $1,550.

There were plenty of exceptional country and primitive finds at Sparrow's Nest Antiques, my pick this unusual sponge-painted shelf with folk art landscape, 44" in length and priced at $895.

Early lighting is a specialty at Missouri's Hauke Antiques, among the inventory this 18" tin and horn lantern priced at $725. 573-486-0254

An early 19th century sea chest in old green paint (40" long, $300) anchored this stack of chests at Craig W. Illa Antiques, the other examples priced at $195 to $225. 573-769-4299

More classic country Americana from Mary de Buhr American Antiques: the 19th century quilt rack (36" x 40") priced at $850, the 30" x 82" chimney cupboard with raised panel doors and "H" hinges at $1,450. 630-985-9449

I found this lovely 18th century hanging shelf at Mary de Buhr American Antiques, measuring 25" x 36" and in an alligatored old finish - $1,200. 630-985-9449

Painted country furniture at The Rusty Nail included this black-finished open cupboard - 36" wide and priced at $1,995. 608-365-5610

At Z & K Antiques sat this tall Pennsylvania chest 32" in length, $1,250) on turned legs and in old red-over-green paint. Atop it sat three Hamilton & Jones stoneware pieces priced from $795 to $1,250. 217-714-5016

A tale of two boxes from Hauke Antiques: the mid-19th century 24" document chest in a wonderful faux-grain finish priced at $985, the 7" carved folk art box with Native American imagery at $485. 573-486-0254

A standout among the early lighting at The Rusty Nail: this 15" three-light punched tin example priced at $475. 608-365-5610

Shoppers found a wide selection of country furnishings at Dale Frese Antiques, including a classic Galena pottery vessel in a mottled green glaze - standing 12 1/2" in height and priced at $575. 319-270-5973

Original and exuberant comb paint covered this Indiana-found country cupboard from Prairie Dock Antiques, measuring 30" x 42" and priced at $475. 815-645-8140

Michigan's Sherry & Pat Spehar came with great American furniture, my favorite this country Chippendale painted pine chest priced at only $750.

A wonderland of antique advertising awaited at Over Hill Over Dale Antiques, a highlight this rare Stollwerck penny gum vendor in pristine condition - $3,950. 402-578-8330

From Z & K Antiques, a matched pair of 13 1/2", 18th century English Delftware chargers, asking price $1,250 for the set. 217-714-5016

Two Shepard Hardware cast iron mechanical banks from Z & K Antiques: the 1880s Humpty Dumpty example priced at $1,950, the classic Uncle Sam version in excellent original paint at $2,750. 217-714-5016

Antiques & Appraising School Launches "New" e-Course

Article by Charles Green (Asheford Institute of Antiques)

The Asheford Institute of Antiques (AIA), a professional-level distance learning program on antiques, collectibles and appraising, recently rolled out its first ever online "e-Course," at an industry trade gathering earlier this month, in anticipation of the school's 50th anniversary to be held in New York later this year.

Described by school spokesperson Shelly Dumont, as a watershed moment for the Institute, Dumont said the school's first foray into e-learning was consistent with Asheford's innovative and groundbreaking teaching techniques employed over the last 50 years. "When we offer something new, we like to take the time to make sure it's done right," said Dumont at a Q & A session following the announcement.

When asked about the differences in curriculum between textbooks and the new e-Course format of the program, Dumont said there was literally no comparison. "In terms of sheer volume, it's almost double the size of the printed version, and comes loaded with interactive videos, multimedia-activities, web-based resource links, and a host of other features we simply can't add into the texts." Dumont went on to say that the e-Course had been in development for almost two years by the school's IT team, before any release dates were even considered.

Industry insiders attending the trade gathering were granted temporary passcodes to the e-Course, and were given full access to the programs options and features at a demonstration held during the event. Director of the school, Charles Green presided over the presentation, and noted during the unveiling, that the program had undergone almost a year of beta-testing by international students prior to its intended release in North America.

A statement issued from the school's Admissions Officer, Tony Drew seemed to indicate a "full" release date for the new e-Course to be some time in mid-July. "We don't want to rush it, but we're really pleased with the response so far," said Drew, "We think the e-Course is really going to be a game-changer when it comes to setting the bar for future antiques and appraising education." The press release went on to say that while the textbooks for the Asheford program were still available, they would likely be phased out in the next five to ten years.

For readers seeking more information about the school's new e-Course program, they can be contacted at: (877) 444-4508 or visit their web site at; www.asheford.com. You can also write to them at; the Asheford Institute of Antiques 981 Harbor Blvd., Suite 3, Dept. 275EC11 Destin, FL 32541-2525, or at their Canadian office at; 131 Bloor Street West, Suite 200, Dept. 124EC11 Toronto, ON M5S 1R8.

Blue & White Pottery/Old Sleepy Eye Collectors Club To Hold Annual Convention

Article & photos by Tammy Green (Blue & White Pottery)

The Blue & White Pottery/Old Sleepy Eye Collectors Club will hold its 35th annual convention June 9-11 at The Embassy Suites Hotel in East Peoria, Ill. Early registration begins at 3:30 p.m. on Thursday June 9.

Room sales will be held throughout the afternoon for those early arrivers and throughout the evening. Members can enjoy the Manager's reception in the hotel atrium from 5:30-7:30 and the club will have it's hospitality room open at 7:30.

Friday, June 10 at 10 a.m. the show & sale will open. This year it is not only stoneware, but good quality antiques as well making it an antique show. There will be everything imaginable at the sale again this year. Last year we saw not only stoneware, but antique tools, linens & quilts, advertising signs--you name it and it was there. Members will enjoy presentation of displays at 11:30, the annual business meeting at 1 p.m. followed by a seminar on German Santas. Later in the evening, the antique/fun auction will begin at 7 p.m. and during this auction there are fun things that will auction along with antiques.

Saturday, June 11 the club auction begins at 10:30 a.m. This years auction will be spectacular with the merging of the Blue & White Pottery and Old Sleepy Eye Collectors Club, there are already a lot of rare consignments that auction include a lunch hour bottom marked Monmouth Monk Humidor, a lunch hour Monmouth Monk coin bank, Miniature 3" salesman sample Western Stoneware sponged bowl, Sleepy Eye Yellow Sugar, an outstanding powder blue stoneware sleepy eye 8" tall pitcher, Western Stoneware Salesman sample bird bath, Whites Utica Boy & Girl under umbrella umbrella stand, Salt glaze spotted pig flask, Sleepy Eye Trivet, Burley Winter Grape Pitcher, JoAnn Bird Bronze Statue. There are also a variety of blue & white pitchers, butter crocks, & salt crocks, rolling pins, advertising rolling pins, sleepy eye vases and steins. This is definately an auction you won't want to miss.

In order to attend convention, you must be a current member of the BWP/OSECC and registered for convention. The only exception is the Friday Show & Sale: any current member can attend the Show & Sale and business meeting without paying convention registration.

The History of The Old Reel Collectors Association

In 1989 Mike Nogay, a dedicated reel collector from West Virginia, decided that it was time for reel collectors to have their own organization. He thought up the name, had the club logo designed, and had ORCA incorporated as a non-profit, educational corporation in the state of West Virginia.

On October 9, 1990 a letter was mailed out to reel collectors that had expressed an interest in the formation of such a club. Finally in January 1991 the first Newsletter of the Old Reel Collectors Association, Inc. was mailed to the original 36 charter members.

From those first wobbly steps, ORCA has grown into an adventurous adolescent. As ORCA passed our tenth anniversary in 2000, we have reached our identity. ORCA's membership currently remains between 800 and 1000 dedicated members.

The original four page newsletter has now grown into a 32-36 page magazine, The Reel News. The first ORCA Convention was held in Pennsylvania in June, 1999. This event was a fully rounded Convention rather than just a tackle show. In 1998 ORCA was the first tackle collector's club to jump into the electronic age, with its own Web Site, and electronic data to help out our members who are on line.

ORCA is headed toward maturity with a full head of steam. There is no longer a question of whether ORCA is going to make it. We have made it, and we are now leading the field in collectible fishing tackle information. We'd love to have to you as part of our group. Visit our website: <http://orca-online.org>
