G.I. Joe Collectibles Bring Strong Prices at Bunte Auction Services

Early GI Joe Action Figure Sets, sold for $3,120.

U.S. & German Hats brought $3,000.

Article & photos by Kevin Bunte

It turns out G.I. Joe action figures are still popular with grown-up boys. Bunte Auction Services offered a wide variety of these figures, as well as an assortment of uniforms at the semi-annual Doll, Toy, and Train auction held this past April 23rd and 24th at their Elgin, Illinois gallery. While there was strong interest in much of the sale, the biggest seller included a lot containing the much desired G.I. Joe Air Cadet uniform, still in the original box, which ended up with a new home for a price of $9,000 (prices include 20% buyer's premium).

Early GI Joe Figures & Accessories brought a high bid of $9,000.

Winchester Lever Action Saddle Ring Carbine, sold for $2,640.

German Luger Pistol Brings $1,900 at Tumbleson Auction Co.

Article & Photos by Tumbleson Auction Co.

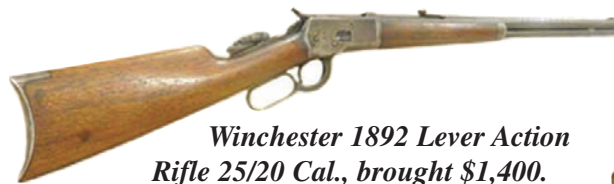

On Saturday, March 5th & Sunday, March 6th, Tumbleson Auction Company held a fantastic two day estate auction at their auction center in Princeton, Illinois. There were several collections that crossed the block in this sale, appealing to a wide range of collectors. Collections included over 175 firearms; Military collectibles, knives, ammo and gun related items, as well as Framed advertising prints and a collection of coins.

1110. Auto-Ordnance Thompson 45 ACP Special, sold for $1,625.

Early MI Carbine 30 Cal w/30 Round Banana Clip, sold for $875.

Winchester 1892 Lever Action Rifle 25/20 Cal., brought $1,400.

G.I. Joe Collectibles Still Popular With Grown-Up Boys

Article & photos by Kevin Bunte

A G.I. Joe accessory kit brought $900, while 3 early GI Joe figure sets sold for $3,120. While these prices were strong, the market for Victorian dolls is still relatively soft, with many of those dolls bringing under $100.

Saturday and Sunday were both double ring sales that packed the 30,000 square foot gallery. These sales also included Native American items, guns, military collectibles, edged weapons, and 19th-21st Century antiques and collectibles. The Native American collectibles included a beautiful collection of silver and turquoise cuff bracelets, the highest selling for $450, and a silver and turquoise necklace that brought $660. This sale also included a large assortment of beaded items with prices varying.

While there were items from approximately 50 different consignments and estates, a large portion of it came from one Chicago area estate. Normally, collectors of guns and Militaria tend to be males, but this collector turned out to be a woman. A rarity to be sure. With approximately 150 guns being offered, the crowd was highly competitive. A Colt 1849 pocket percussion revolver brought a total of $1,320, and a Colt Python double action revolver brought $2,160. The auction continued on the a strong path with a Sharps 1859 conversion carbine selling for $1,560 and a Winchester lever action saddle ring carbine found a new home for $2,640. The crowd stayed on for the Militaria portion of the sale with strong prices continuing. A German WWII canvas 6-clip holder for MG 38-40" brought $540, while a reproduction Prussian style helmet even brought $1,800. A group of U.S. and German helmets sold for $3,000.

At the end of the sale only the anglers remained, looking over a large assortment of lures, rods, and reels. Tackle boxes with lures included sold for as much as $570 and $600.

Antique Motorcycle Club of America

The Antique Motorcycle Club of America was founded in 1954 by a group of antique-bike fans in the New England area (pictured from left are T.A. Hodgdon, Emmett Moore, Henry Wing Sr., and Henry Wing Jr.). AMCA Founders In the decades since, the AMCA has grown to become one of the largest organizations of antique-motorcycle enthusiasts in the world, with 11,000 members in the United States and more than a dozen other countries.

Owner with three-wheeled motorcycle From the beginning, the purpose of the club has been the "preservation, restoration and operation of old-time motorcycles." Members of the AMCA own, restore, preserve, study or just admire motorcycles that fall into the antique category, meaning they are at least 35 years old. Although the Club is based in the United States, fans of motorcycles from all countries are welcome, and ownership of an antique motorcycle is not required to become a member.

Through its network of 59 affiliated Chapters in the U.S. and abroad, the AMCA provides a way for antique-bike fans to share their interest with others in their local area. Chapters typically host regular meetings, plus activities like bike shows, swap meets and antique-bike road runs.

At the national and international level, the AMCA maintains a calendar of National Meets and Road Runs that include some of the premier antique-motorcycle gatherings in the world. National Meets typically include a large vendor area, where members can sell everything from antique-bike parts to entire motorcycles that are at least 35 years old. In addition, National Meets offer a full schedule of other activities, ranging from seminars and bike shows to motorcycle field games and antique-bike racing.

Judging All National Meets also feature the AMCA's National Judging Program, in which members' motorcycles can win awards in three categories: Restored, Original Condition or Period Modified. Instead of competing against each other, bikes entered in the AMCA Judging Program are evaluated on a 100-point scale against the standard of the same motorcycle as it would have appeared when it originally left the factory.

National Road Runs provide an opportunity to use these classic machines for their intended purpose—riding on back roads in some of the most scenic parts of the country.

In addition to those events, AMCA members also get access to a number of benefits, including a high-quality magazine six times per year, online forums where they can seek advice from experts, and the AMCA Virtual Motorcycle Library, featuring downloadable copies of hundreds of old and rare sales brochures, parts lists and repair manuals. Plus, AMCA members receive discounts on admission to some of the country's premier motorcycle museums.

Mostly, though, people join the AMCA to meet up with others who share their interest in machines from the classic era of motorcycling. For some, that means the satisfaction that comes from investing thousands of hours in bringing a rusted hulk back to its original perfection. To others, it means preserving artifacts of the past so that they can be appreciated by future generations, or the simple pleasure of enjoying a two-lane road at an unhurried pace—just like motorcyclists generations ago.

Does that sound like you? Why not join with thousands of other like-minded antique-bike fans by becoming a member of the AMCA? Visit www.antiquemotorcycle.org

HISTORY OF THE FOSTORIA GLASS COMPANY 1887 - 1986

The Fostoria Glass Company began operations in Fostoria, Ohio, on December 15, 1887. This site was chosen because natural gas at a recently opened field in the area had been offered at a very low cost to attract new industries. However, the field was so short-lived that in 1891, Fostoria moved to Moundsville, West Virginia, where there was an abundance of gas and coal, and other needed materials were close by.

During its first ten years, Fostoria made pressed ware, but early in the 20th century Fostoria realized the importance of developing fine quality blown stemware.

In 1924 the company was one of the first to start a program of national advertising, and the first to produce complete dinner services in crystal. Besides their regular line of blown, etched and pressed patterns they did custom work such as providing glass with government seals for officials in Washington. All the presidents from Eisenhower through Reagan ordered glassware from them. At one time Fostoria was the largest maker of handmade glassware in the United States, employing nearly 1000 people. The AMERICAN pattern, introduced in 1915, is still being produced by Lancaster Colony (who bought the Fostoria company in 1983), making it the most successful pattern in the history of glass making. Fostoria's business peaked in 1950 when they made over 8 million pieces of glass.

In 1986, after struggling with an outmoded plant and foreign competition, Lancaster Colony was forced to close the Fostoria Company, ending nearly 100 years of glass making.

International Nippon Collectors Club

The International Nippon Collectors Club was founded in 1982 by a group of Nippon enthusiasts with a vision to form an organization through which fellow collectors with a common interest in Nippon would exchange knowledge and share friendship. The club now has membership representing every state as well as Canada and Japan. There is such diversity within Nippon-era porcelain that it takes years of study and information exchange to become what is referred to as a "knowledgeable collector."

The first glance when pulling up the INCC's website conveys the word "quality." The site is well designed and presented and the photography is outstanding. The top of the homepage has the name of the club followed by the invitation "Welcome to the exciting world of Nippon porcelain collecting!"

The rest of the homepage is very simple, including photos of Nippon pieces and links to eight sections - INCC Information, Membership Information, Nippon Photo Galleries, Back Stamps, Conventions, Reproduction Alert, Books & Publications and a Nippon Tour. Both the photo galleries and the reproduction alert provide a tremendous resource to collectors and dealers alike, serving our entire industry.

The Association of Collecting Clubs is pleased to designate the International Nippon Collectors Club as an ACC Featured Club Website recipient.

National Milk Glass Collectors Society

The History of the National Milk Glass Collectors Society

In 1984, when a group of milk glass collectors answered an advertisement placed in several trade magazines by Walter Sill, a milk glass collector and entrepreneur from Nashville, Tennessee, history was made.

Regis and Mary Ferson of Pittsburgh, PA had already published a book, Yesterday's Milk Glass Today, in 1981. This sparked the interest of Walt Sill. In 1983, Walt conceived the idea of holding a convention where milk glass collectors could come together and talk and learn about opaque glassware. Walt contacted the Ferson's, who encouraged him in his pursuits, and agreed to come to this newly conceived convention.

Walt, not being sure if anyone else would be willing to travel to Nashville, pushed ahead. He placed ads and sat back and waited for responses. Just a few months after placing the ads, he had reservations from people representing ten states and a total of fifty people with paid reservations and expectations of seventy to one hundred attendees.

The agenda at this first convention is basically the same agenda that is still followed at today's conventions. There was a dealer setup area, exhibit of rare pieces, a trading area, a business meeting and an auction of three hundred pieces of milk glass. Enthusiasm ran high and there was a general agreement that the group should meet again the following year.

Conventions were held in 1985 in Pittsburgh, PA and again in 1986 back in Nashville. In 1987, the convention was held again in Nashville and at this convention the NATIONAL MILK GLASS COLLECTORS SOCIETY was officially organized. The following were elected to office: Jim Slater, President; George Storey, Vice President; Judy Reynolds, Secretary; Kathy Mroz, Treasurer. The first executive board members were: Helen Storey, Terry Baker (Simpson), Margaret Horsman, Stan Sohl, and James Reynolds serving as its Chairman. Mary Ferson, Regis Ferson, and Walter Sill were voted as Honorary Presidents (later modified to Honorary Members).

The NATIONAL MILK GLASS COLLECTORS SOCIETY is dedicated to the preservation, study, and enjoyment of milk glass including all periods and manufacturers, both domestic and foreign. The society promotes research projects, information exchange, and social activities to increase and enhance the knowledge and acquisition of milk glass by its members.

Our official publication, Opaque News, is issued four times a year, in March, June, September, and December. Each issue, averaging between 15-20 pages, contains notices about the society's activities, articles on the history, production, identification, and other concerns relating to milk glass. Listings and color photos of previously unlisted pieces are featured, as well as reports on auction sales, book reviews, and members' activities. Members are also welcome to place ads, free of charge, listing pieces they wish to sell or buy.

Above all, the society seeks to promote communication and good fellowship among its members in the United States and International.

Each year, the society sponsors a convention. The convention is held in various parts of the United States to allow members from different areas to attend. We seem to hit the eastern and middle states more as volunteers are always needed to host, and they seem to be coming from those states. We have been to Texas, Kansas, Ohio, Indiana, Tennessee and Pennsylvania just to name a few. The program includes prominent speakers, an auction of three hundred pieces of milk glass, and arrangements for dealers and individual members to sell, buy, and exchange pieces. Check our Convention page for the upcoming convention and to check out our previous conventions.

Membership entitles you to Opaque News, the society's newspaper, admission to the convention, and all the talk about milk glass you can stand. We have a library from which all members can check out resources by notifying the librarian.

Two of our members have published a book, called, The Milk Glass Book, by Frank Chiarenza and Jim Slater. The members of the society provided the items to be photographed for the book. It is currently available through the Schiffer Publishing Company and other book sale outlets.

The Society has access to original molds and produces a different commemorative covered animal dish each year. The Society owns several plungers that are used to stamp the Society logo and the date and place of the convention for the year the commemorative is pressed. These are then sold at the convention and can be purchased by members only.

If you wish to become a member of the society, please visit our Membership page for additional information at www.nmgcs.org.

Antique Phonograph Society Presentation

Article & photos by Joan Rolfs
(Program Chairman Co-Chair Antique Phonograph & Music Box Show & Sale)

The country's largest antique phonograph show and sale held in Union, Illinois is scheduled for June 10 - June 12. The Annual Phonograph and Music Box Show and Sale in Union, Illinois has attracted thousands of exhibitors and collectors of antique phonographs, music boxes, records and early technology from all over the world.

The Antique Phonograph Society (APS) is sponsoring presentations that are free to the public and collectors on Friday afternoon, June 10th at 5:30 pm in the Wild West meeting room adjacent to the show and sale area. Early buyers, vendors, collectors and public are encouraged to attend.

Featured speakers are Robin & Joan Rolfs who will present an entertaining and informative program titled "The Sound of the Edison Talking Doll." This past year they were involved in a research project with the Thomas Edison National Historical Park and were featured on NPR news and the New York Times. The importance of the Edison doll to sound recording is historically significant: The first cylinders sold to the public under the name "Edison" where the recordings found in the Edison Talking dolls. The young girls who recorded the nursery rhymes were the first paid recording artist. On display will be an Edison doll and talking mechanism. Enjoy this entertaining presentation with fellow collectors and learn about the beginnings of recorded sound.

Location: 8512 South Union Road, Union, Illinois 60180. For more information: Annual Phonograph and Music Box Sale: www.wildwesttown.com/special-events/phonograph-show Antique Phonograph Society: www.antiquephono.org

The History of the W. Nelson McCoy's Blue Bird Pottery

By Dewayne Imsand
An Old "Blue Bird" Pot Shop

W. Nelson McCoy was born in 1820 in Harpers Ferry, Virginia, which is located in West Virginia. In January 1848, he and his wife Ester moved to Ohio's, Muskingum County, Springfield Township, in a community called Putnam. At that time, Putnam was a suburb of Zanesville, but in 1872, it became incorporated into Zanesville.

During the same year as W. Nelson and his wife arrived in Putnam, they had a son whose name was James W. Years later J.W. would go on to establish a well-known pottery, the "J.W. McCoy Pottery".

W. Nelson came to Putnam as a farmer. He acquired some land and built a house. In addition to farming, he also built a small, log building to produce stoneware during the warmer months. The pottery was a small, "Blue Bird" type shop, which was like the ones many of the farmers had at the time. It was primitive in its equipment, and the ware it produced was rough and unfinished. Although during that period, most of the home-owned, "Bluebird" shops operated under primitive conditions.

W. Nelson only produced pottery for a few years, not eight as previously believed. In January 1853, a notice was published in the "Zanesville Daily Courier" stating that a partnership that W. Nelson had with Jeremiah Elder was dissolved. The partnership was in a Putnam grocery store, named Elder & McCoy, which had been established at some uncertain prior time.

On the same date that W. Nelson ended his partnership with Elder, a second notice was published reporting that he had taken another partner, Norman Dodge, in the grocery business. Later W. Nelson bought out Elder, and the name of the grocery was changed to "McCoy & Dodge".

35Considering his job at the grocery, and the labor involved in farming, maintaining his household, supplying clay and firewood for his kiln, one would imagine that W. Nelson only had a small amount of time for actual pottery production. Surely, the volume he produced was small, and it was undoubtedly unmarked, since none that is attributable to him has been found.

Prior to 1853 a grocery store in Zanesville was owned by "James Benjamin & Co.". Sometime after 1858 W. Nelson acquired the major share in the "Benjamin & Co.", and the name of the store was then changed to "McCoy - Benjamin & Co.". Hugh McDonald was another owner besides McCoy and Benjamin.

In addition to the operation of the store itself, James Benjamin had other interests; he was a wholesale dealer in stoneware. The newspaper "Zanes Times Signal" carried an article in 1957 by Norris F. Schneider, who, quoting old sources, said that during the 1870's Benjamin was one of the three major stoneware wholesalers in the region. The other major stoneware wholesalers at the time were J.C. Gillespie, and Hudson C. Ward.

The crock shown is an example of Benjamin's wares. The inscription on it is stenciled in blue ink, and reads, "Jas. Benjamin Wholesale Stoneware Depot Zanesville, O".

W. Nelson is not known to have been associated with James Benjamin in the pottery business in Zanesville. However, he and Benjamin were associated in the pottery business located in Cincinnati. (See the article, "The History of the James Benjamin Potteries and his Connection with W. Nelson McCoy", which is contained on this Web site).

W. Nelson as a long-time, Zanesville businessman, became respected and popular. In 1881, he was elected the mayor of Zanesville, and in 1883, he was reelected. W. Nelson continued managing and working in his grocery and dry goods store until the early 1890's. He died in 1894. For more information visit: www.mccoypotterycollectorsociety.org

Come to see the magnificent miniature works of art called buttons!

Article & photos by Louise Mann (Wisconsin State Button Society)

The Wisconsin State Button Show is coming to Eau Claire from June 9th-11th! Come to see the magnificent miniature works of art called buttons! Whether you are fascinated with their artistic quality, want to examine their material and construction, or seek to delve into their history, there will be buttons for everyone in all price ranges.

Button collectors will gather in Eau Claire Thursday, June 9th (6pm to 9 pm), Friday, June 10th (11am to 5pm) and Saturday, June 11th (9:30am to 2pm), at the Plaza Hotel & Suites, 1202 W. Clairemont Avenue, Eau Claire, for the Wisconsin State Button Society's State Show. Admission is free. Collectors, dealers, tailors and seamstresses, jewelry and costume designers, and quilters and crafters of all ages are welcome.

There will be many buttons for sale by dealers. In addition, the show will feature educational displays and a judged button competition. On Saturday morning from 10:30-11:30am, a discussion of the educational exhibits will take place in the Showroom.

The National Button Society, organized in 1938, is structured around the study and dissemination of information about these fascinating and never ending items. The Wisconsin State Button Society was founded in 1944 and has local chapters across the state. Members are involved in collecting buttons, appreciating their beauty and learning about their history.

For more information, check the website of the Wisconsin State Button Society, www.wsbs.org or contact Brenda at 715-577-1591, breezesonny@gmail.com.

A Great Show, A Great Town & A Great Club The 24th Year Dodgeville Lion's Club Antique Sale & Flea Market

Article by Bob Kratochwill (Dodgeville Lions Club)

June 12th is the date of the first of two shows to be held this 2016 season. This show again promises to be filled with great items brought by as many as 50 or more dealers. Sixty five dealer spaces are available for your shopping pleasure. Past shoppers will usually find their favorite dealers on hand, Karen Brown is always here with her huge postcard collection as well as a fantastic assortment of vintage Jewelry. Michael Knight of The Green Knight is a book of knowledge on military collectibles and he will have a great assortment of items available. Ted Slaton, Art and Antiques, always has a large selection of vintage and unusual items to view. Local dealers, Jack and Marion Reynolds, have a booth filled with great finds and this show includes a beautifully painted carousel tiger. This is a rare piece and one you want to be sure to view. Don't miss the Lion's Club food stand. Great food at a fair price. Not to be missed is the Dodgeville Lioness home made pie sale. Buy a piece or the whole pie. Several people driving from Madison have commented, "We are really disappointed if we arrive too late and the pies are sold out".

Driving to Dodgeville from any direction is a scenic route and within 60 miles from Prairie Du Chein, Dubuque, Madison, and Wisconsin Dells. The area abounds with many nearby tourist attractions such as the House on The Rock, Frank Lloyd Wright's Taliesin, Cave of the Mounds and Shake Rag Street. Make a fun filled weekend. Don't miss our show and take home a great treasure.

Golf Collectors' Society

A Brief History

The Golf Collectors Society is an international organization dedicated to preserving the treasures and traditions of the game of golf. Founded in 1970 by Robert Kuntz and Joseph S.F. Murdoch, the organization today has over 1400 members from 15 different countries. The philosophy of the Society was and has always remained "a not for profit fraternal organization that encourages members to visit, share information, and to establish friendships based on a common interest, the love of golf. Collecting the Game

The GCS unites those who have a love for the game of golf and its artifacts. Members collect hickory shafted golf clubs, balls, books, tees, ceramics, silver, art, programs, postcards, early golf magazines, and autographs to name just a few. If it was used in the game of golf or portrays the game of golf, it's likely a GCS member collects it!

Society Members

GCS members come from all walks of life. Tour and club pros, notable golf writers, the curators of the world's most prominent golf museums, the guy who lives down the block, all share in the same common interest - golf and the memorabilia associated with it.

Membership in the GCS brings many benefits. Each member receives a Membership Directory and our magazine, The Bulletin, which is published on a quarterly basis. It includes golf history, featured collections and collectors, book reviews, unusual clubs and artifacts, and general news on Society doings. Members are also welcome to attend the frequent Regional Meetings held in every part of the country, as well as the Annual Meeting, held yearly in the early fall.

Annual Dues

Dues are based on a calendar year and are:

$60 for US residents, $65 for Canadians and $70 for international members.
