Buyers Come from Across the Country for Fantastic Collector Cars at W. Yoder 2 Day Auction

Article & photos by W. Yoder Auction

On Thursday, April 28th & Friday, April 29th, W. Yoder Auction Service held a 2 day auction at their facility at N2475 13th Gateway in Wautoma, Wisconsin. Thursday's auction featured primitives, antiques, country store and many collections. Friday's auction was the most exciting day with 13 collector cars from the 1920's to the 1980's, as well as signs, more primitives and collections.

Golfer, driving clubs in back seat, rare great color and artwork, very nice 3-3/4 INCHES TALL, it brought $1,300.

1954 Ford Sunliner Convertible, sold for $20,000.

1951 Chevrolet pickup truck, sold for $14,500.

Harley-Davidson occupational shaving mug, sold for $3,100.

1951 Ford convertible custom, brought $17,500.

The Oregon Woman's Club Antiques Show - A Northern Illinois Tradition for Three Generations

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

The beautiful Blackhawk Center in Oregon, Illinois hosted the Sixty-Sixth Annual Oregon Women's Club Antiques Show on April 2nd and 3rd. After more than three generations hosting the venerable event, the show is bigger and better than ever. More than fifty dealers, some of who you won't find anywhere else, filled the hall with an interesting mix of antiques and collectibles from the 18th century onwards. All of the show's proceeds go back into the community - supporting the local food bank, student scholarships, and more.

Funky stuff at Schoolhouse ranged from a vintage Bakelite shortwave radio ($65) to a new-old-stock fishing bobber store display priced at $95. 815-393-4551

Great painted primitive furniture awaited at Country at Heart Antiques, like this 19th century Pennsylvania dry sink with an ogee-form apron and in old red paint, $895. 815-795-6616

Another period art glass gem from Grape & Cable: this Webster Blue Maple Leaf nut dish, asking price $895. 630-399-6312

Ok, it's not really antique, but this pristine 1974 Batman alarm clock from Gigi's Antiques was still pretty cool, and priced at $80. 815-689-2645

Out & About

We want to wish everyone a
Happy 4th of July Weekend.

May everyone's travels be safe and fun filled with family and friends. Mine will be spent by my pool with our new deck and tons of friends and family. Todd will be smoking pork loins on his Green Egg grill, as that was the meat request. He just loves his Green Egg!

The weather has been kind to our area. The farm fields are looking good. My flowers and vegetables are growing like crazy. Other states have been less fortunate like West Virginia and California. Our hearts and prayers go out to those people in this difficult time.

Blackhawk Center Hosts Sixty-Sixth Annual Oregon, Illinois Antiques Show

If you're coming into the little town of Oregon, Illinois from the north, be sure to take Route 2, one of the most scenic drives in the northern part of the state. The road follows the meandering Rock River from Rockford, through the little town of Byron, and on to Oregon itself.

And just north of Oregon at Lowden State Park, look across the river, and you'll see the majestic image of a Native American gazing over the Rock River Valley. This is no ordinary statue. It's a fifty-foot-tall reinforced concrete wonder that is awe-inspiring. The figure weighs more than half a million pounds, and is said to be the second largest monolithic concrete statue in the world. Sculptor Lorado Taft designed the statue as a tribute to all Native Americans, but it's more commonly associated with Chief Black Hawk.

And whether you're antiquing or not, Oregon, Illinois is worth a look. Just twenty-seven miles south of Rockford and ninety miles west of Chicago, it's often referred to as "the prettiest small town in America." The tree-lined streets are populated with picturesque Victorian homes, and in the center of downtown sits the venerable Ogle County Courthouse. Other Historical attractions abound in the area, including the nearby John Deere Historical Site - where Deere invented the self-polishing steel plow that that opened the prairie to agriculture.

The modern Blackhawk Center, just west of downtown Oregon, is host to the sixty-six year-old Oregon Women's Club Antiques Show. The multi-use facility, a joint effort of the local school & park districts, is a terrific venue for the show, and quite an accomplishment for this town of just over 4,000.

There were more than fifty dealers set up at the show, coming from several Midwest states and beyond. And don't be fooled by the show's small-town location:

you'll find quality antiques here, the dealers drawn by attendance that often exceeds that of the "big city" shows. Of course, the event is a mainstay for many Illinois dealers, including Country at Heart Antiques.

They brought a huge inventory of the country Americana they're known for - classic New England painted furniture and accessories of every description. The American country theme continued in the nearby Robinson Ridge Antiques, where I found an interesting 19th century "well elevator" used to store perishable foods by lowering them down the well-shaft.

Country not you thing? How about the great period fine jewelry spanning the centuries shoppers found at Sunshine Treasures, or the amazing displays of art glass & pottery at both Vine of Time Antiques and Grape & Cable Antiques. In fact, you'll find dealers here specializing in everything from tools and toys to furniture, advertising, and more. Just take a look at the photos and you'll see what the show's all about.

Thanks to Oregon Women's Club for inviting me to the event. They said not to forget to mention the fantastic job that show manager Ron Bry did promoting the sixty-sixth edition of the event, attracting many new dealers to the show - and many new shoppers too. It's an important event for the Woman's Club. Each year the show brings in the lion's share of the funds they use throughout the year to benefit the community. Why not come out next year and have a look (and a homemade meal from the Chana United Methodist Ladies food concession!) at the sixty-seventh edition of the Oregon Woman's Club Antiques Show. For more information about the show, Ron Bry can be reached at 815-732-2219. And as always, keep an eye out for listings of the 2017 Oregon Woman's Club Antiques Show in the Auction Action Antique News!

Roy Walker of Country at Heart Antiques with an early New England chimney cupboard sporting its original blue finish, measuring 80" x 30" and priced at $1,995. 815-795-6616

It was a wonderland of American primitive accessories at Country at Heart Antiques, where sat this nine-drawer Berks County, Pennsylvania pine apothecary ($575) and 24-tube pewter & wood candle mold priced at $1,495. 815-795-6616

Two extra-folky finds from Robinson Ridge Antiques: the tramp-art-style wall pocket priced at $195, the straw-filled canvas Canada goose decoy at $150. 815-792-8474

From classy to country at Indian Creek Antiques - the pair of frosted glass Lalique boudoir lamps priced at $145, the three-gallon Red Wing jug with Groomes & Ullrich, Chicago advertising at $395. 262-363-7338

Shoppers found this Ontario-made miniature redhead duck carving at Country at Heart Antiques, circa-1930s and priced at $695. 815-795-6616

Here's an unusual "what is it?" from Robinson Ridge Antiques: a circa 1900 well elevator cabinet priced at $495. Turn the crank and the inner shelves loaded with perishable foods are lowered into your naturally cool well shaft for storage! 815-792-8474

At Harms Antiques sat two trunks, the footlocker (top) priced at $145, the early painted Scandinavian version under it at $395. 815-562-2928

Another cool artifact at Harms Antiques: this massive Simplex railroad jack, asking price $225. 815-562-2928

Harm's Antiques brought period American furniture for all tastes, from this cottage-style painted jelly cupboard ($1,495) to a wonderful ornate oak sideboard priced at $1,295. 815-562-2928

The Holidays are always in the air at Gigi's Antiques, where I found vintage Easter Bunnies in both paper mache and porcelain, plus nice honeycomb Valentines priced from only $10. 815-689-2645

My art pottery pick at Blue Goose Antiques: this Roseville Wincraft Panther vase in blue & black, asking price $675. 309-838-7080

At the eclectic 4-Ever Lookin' Antiques, a E.C. Simmons Keen Kutter match holder was priced at $85, a 36" wide oak dental cabinet at $1,275. 219-863-4515

Shoppers could peruse an amazing inventory of art glass and more at Grape & Cable, including this pink & yellow Coraline glass bride's basket priced at $1,650. 630-399-6312

Two colorful period glass pitchers from Grape & Cable: the Green Opaline Coin-spot example priced at $465, the Cranberry Opaline Swirl version at $295. 630-399-6312

Texas exhibitor Vine of Time continued the art glass and pottery theme, bringing stand-outs including this Ming Blue Van Briggles figurial vase measuring 20" in height. 817-269-2350 were the focus at Hudson House Antiques, with examples like this Stanley #2 brass plumb bob, price tag $195. 765-534-4722

Vintage and antique tools

Victorian House Antiques came with adorable 19th century "go to bed" candle and match-holders, with these three examples priced from $95 to $275. 608-879-2567

Red Wing Collectors Society to Celebrate 40th Annual Convention - July 7-9

Red Wing, MN - Fads come and go and interests often fade away, so it's no surprise that very few collectors' clubs have been around for 40 years. The Red Wing Collectors Society (RWCS), however, bucks the trend. The organization will mark its 40th Annual Convention "Ruby Red Wing" when more than 1000 members assemble in Red Wing during the week of July 4th. The 2016 Convention will kick off a year of celebration, as the club's 40th anniversary will be recognized in 2017.

RWCS President Larry Birks attributes the club's long-term success to Red Wing's diverse product lines and the strong bonds that RWCS members share.

"The stoneware and pottery companies of Red Wing made such a wide variety of wares between 1877 and 1967 that they appeal to collectors of completely different periods," Birks says. "Whether a person gravitates to country primitives, Arts & Crafts, Art Deco or Mid-Century Modern, Red Wing made it. And as we say, the stoneware and pottery is what first brings collectors to Red Wing and the RWCS, but the camaraderie, friendships and the beautiful City of Red Wing are what keeps them coming back."

Like most antique collecting clubs, attracting young new collectors has been a challenge for the RWCS. A bright spot in the organizations recruiting efforts has come through the RWCS Facebook Chapter, which is a highly active page where recent finds are shared, questions are answered and pieces are bought and sold by new and advanced collectors alike. To join the conversation, visit www.facebook.com/groups/RWCSChapter/.

The RWCS Convention will unofficially begin on Wednesday, July 6 when the RWCS Foundation holds its "Wine-ing for Red Wing" fundraiser from 6 to 9 p.m. at the Pottery Museum of Red Wing at 240 Harrison Street, Red Wing. Admission for the fundraising event is $20; it will feature food and beverages, silent and live auctions and live music by local Red Wing band Flatt and Square.

The RWCS Convention officially kicks off the next day with a welcome from the city's mayor and a keynote presentation on the earthenware made in Whitewater, WI, which predates Red Wing's earliest salt glaze stoneware by about 20 years. The official RWCS members-only auction, which features more than 250 pieces consigned by members, will take place in the Red Wing High School gym at 4:30 that evening.

RWCS members will also have their lineup of usual favorites to attend during Convention, including street sales held at Red Wing's historic Pottery Place, auctions held on Tuesday and Wednesday, educational seminars and the official RWCS Show & Sale at Red Wing High School that begins for members at 9 a.m. Saturday, July 9. It opens FREE to the public from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

In addition to these activities, the 5th annual Crock Fest celebration will feature music, food and fun from 5 to 6:30 p.m. on Friday, July 8 at the Pottery Museum of Red Wing. In addition to its regular displays, the museum will introduce its "General Store" seasonal exhibit to collectors for the first time.

Other Convention activities include a "Crock Hunt" scavenger hunt around Red Wing, the opportunity to create a piece of pottery with local potter Richard Spiller, and a special display room at Red Wing High School where members create their own unique displays of Red Wing items for the education and enjoyment of attendees.

An annual commemorative will be unveiled and distributed to members beginning Thursday, July 7. The commemorative piece is a closely guarded secret and there is much speculation as to what the piece will be each year. It is a miniature replica of a Red Wing pottery item with a limited number made. Last year's commemorative was a stoneware canteen.

The breakout education sessions scheduled for Friday, July 8 at Red Wing High School will offer some of the most diverse topics in quite some time. The presentations are listed below; check out the "Education Seminars" page on the Convention section of the RWCS website for more detailed descriptions.

- o Ebb Tide and Ceramastone, Provincial and Concord line patterns (three different sessions) by RWCS Hall of Famers Terry Moe & Larry Roschen.
- o Is That Right? Aftermarket Dinnerware & Art Pottery by Display Room Chair Laura Beall.
- o Red Wing Art Pottery by Ray Reiss, author of two books on the subject.
- o Red Wing Salt Glaze Stoneware (Parts 1 and 2) by RWCS Newsletter Editor Rick Natynski.
- o Symbolism on Victorian Era Gravestones by Goodhue County Historical Society Executive Director Dustin Heckman.
- o Crafting Beer in the Desirable City: Red Wing's Brewing History by Scott Kolby, owner and founder of Red Wing Brewery.
- o Updates from the Pottery Museum by the RWCS Foundation.
- o Privy Digging by RWCS Hall of Famer Steve Showers and fellow digger Mark Youngblood.
- o Dump Finds by Red Wing dump diggers Paul Boudin and Connie Mathison.
- o Collecting Zinc Glazed Red Wing Stoneware by RWCS Hall of Famer Larry Peterson and Steve Poeschl.
- o The River Underground: Finding Red Wing's Historic Jordan Creek by Goodhue County Historical Society Curator Casey Mathern.
- o White Ware & Kitchen Ware From the 1930s by RWCS Hall of Famer Dennis Nygaard.

The Display Room is always a popular destination for Red Wing collectors during the RWCS Convention. Here members display different types of Red Wing stoneware, dinnerware, art pottery and memorabilia and have the opportunity to win an RWCS Special Commemorative. An award is also given out for a rare item; last year, for the first time in the club's history, there was a tie between two pieces - the only 40 gallon red Wing salt glaze crock known to exist and a massive sewer tile chair.

Another unique aspect of the RWCS Convention is the participation of the younger generation through the KidsView program. The Society is on the leading edge of creating engaging and educational ways to get the younger generations involved in collecting. The focus on these RWCS members is an important part of the vision of the Society to ensure its continued existence and growth. There are many interactive and challenging activities and seminars for children ages 3-12 to get involved in, such as learning how to bid at an auction, what to look for in an antique, and several hands-on pottery creation projects.

To further complement KidsView, the RWCS Young Collectors is entering its fourth year of helping Red Wing collectors ages 13 to 20 grow their interest in Red Wing. This is a great opportunity to learn more about Red Wing, develop new friendships through peer-to-peer discussion groups and participate in hands-on activities.

To learn more about all the events and activities of the RWCS Convention, visit the RWCS website event page for the Convention. The RWCS can also be found on Facebook and followed on Twitter.

Annual membership in the Red Wing Collectors Society costs only $35 and includes six 16-page full-color newsletters mailed to your home throughout the year. The RWCS was founded in 1977 in Red Wing and there are more than 4,000 members worldwide. For more information or to become a member, call the RWCS business office at 800-977-7927, e-mail membership@redwingcollectors.org or log on to www.redwingcollectors.org. You can also join the RWCS on Facebook and follow it on Twitter at twitter.com/RWpottery.

Van Briggie Pottery & Tile

Dozens of glaze colors, hundreds of designs, hundreds of thousands of pieces created - all bearing one name - the name of the brilliant artist and his wife whose lives left a permanent and timeless imprint on the tradition of American art pottery. This is the Van Briggie legacy - begun in 1899. With the passing of time new chapters are added, and this artistic legacy is as alive today as any time in its history. Each day the Van Briggie studios produce the early designs of its founders, Artus and Anne Van Briggie, as well as pieces created over the years that compliment their celebrated style, in a variety of colors - both historic and contemporary.

At Van Briggie Art Pottery in Colorado Springs, the beginning of a new millennium brought the dawn of a new century in this Van Briggie legacy. Beginning our second hundred years of creating fine art pottery, we find ourselves returning to our roots. Simultaneously, we are looking to the future, contemplating what legacy we will leave for future generations. We are surrounded by evidence that we bear the name of a creative genius, highly acclaimed in his day, and the dedication of so many artisans and staff over the past 100 years, which brings a deep sense of joy as well as responsibility.

Almost daily we experience poignant reminders of the Van Briggie legacy: someone walks into our showroom with a piece of Van Briggie wrapped in a towel or newspaper, placed in an old shoe box, with a story of how their grandmother purchased this piece 75 years ago on a trip to Colorado Springs - and that she wouldn't part with it for any price; we walk into a museum in Pasadena, California and unexpectedly see a small collection of Van Briggie pieces, all bearing dates from the early 1900's; we receive a telephone call from a collector who just bought an old "Lorelei" vase for a few dollars in a box lot at a farm sale somewhere in the Midwest - the farmer and his family had purchased the piece years ago when they came to Colorado after the harvest was in; while on a visit to the Metropolitan Museum in New York or the Smithsonian in Washington, D.C. we find pieces of Van Briggie pottery among their permanent collections.

Stories like these remind us that the work of our hands today is the continuation of a celebrated artistic heritage begun over one hundred years ago. Indeed, we do feel a responsibility that is both sobering and exciting as we continue the legacy of Artus and Anne Van Briggie. Their names hold a distinctive place in the history of fine and decorative arts. The desire to continue an honored tradition brings with it a dilemma: how do we continue their artistic legacy without simply mimicking its earlier sublime creations? We want to know that if Anne and Artus were to miraculously return to us one day, as we open another kiln filled with art pottery bearing their name, they would see designs and glazes they would cherish in their hands and hearts, as we hold theirs in ours. We would want them to recognize the pottery pieces inscribed with their name. However, knowing they were accomplished artists, we would also want them to say, "...and how you have grown with the years!" We must stay true to our past, yet we must evolve and grow - after all if art is anything, it is dynamic! Clay is a particularly versatile medium for an artist. A survey of what is produced by potters around the world shows that, more than any other medium, clay offers the artist extraordinary scope of expression.

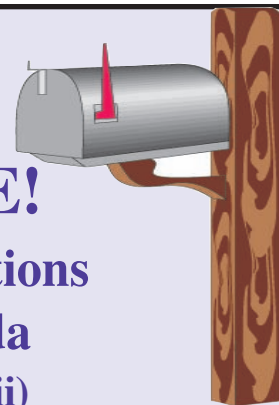

As artists and artisans here at Van Briggie, we occasionally monitor what other artists are doing with clay and glaze. Fads and trends have their moments in time, and it can be tempting to follow these more immediately accepted styles and idioms, though they lay beyond the bounds of the Van Briggie tradition. However, we are repeatedly drawn to one over-riding goal - to establish an aesthetic that transcends time; to create a style unique to our heritage that establishes itself by continually reaffirming its principles; to explore new ways of expression while always being reminded of their origins. In judging the viability of each new design or glaze we find ourselves asking these questions: Does it look like Van Briggie? Is it worthy of bearing that name? Is it informed by our legacy without simply repeating it?

An overview of Van Briggie pieces over the last century shows hundreds of designs with flower, animal or human subjects artistically applied to pottery forms. Typically, these pieces are highlighted with a soft matte glaze - Artus Van Briggie's passion. The subject of Van Briggie is, essentially, nature, which for all intents and purposes is an inexhaustible source for the artist. Themes and motifs inspired by nature can be interpreted and reinterpreted indefinitely on graceful forms. Matte glazes may be created with a broad range of hues to enhance and lend these forms a soft satin touch. A viewing of our current inventory shows a number of designs created by Artus and Anne Van Briggie that have been produced continuously since the early 20th century. Along with these, one finds distinctive designs by other artists that have been added to the collection over the years. Of course the majority of pieces are glazed with the signature Van Briggie matte glaze - one of Artus' most profound achievements - in various colors. Over the past two decades we have carefully identified and retained only the designs we feel fit most appropriately into the Van Briggie style, and have eliminated others that do not. When new designs are added they are carefully selected to enhance and further the Van Briggie tradition.

Artus Van Briggie established his pottery during the Arts and Crafts movement, a time when many artists and craftsmen were creating their works in reaction to the mass production of the industrial revolution. Though the scope of the Van Briggie tradition is broader than the movement, Van Briggie's work fits well within its emphasis on making hand-crafted art available to a wider public. In the same way, it is our goal in an era dominated by ever increasing emphasis on technology, to provide our society with a counterpoint of artistry and hand craftsmanship.

What could be more rewarding? Reminders of the Van Briggie legacy are all around us. An old black and white photograph immortalizes a moment when Artus posed outside a kiln while the earliest Van Briggie artisans brought pieces for his inspection. A former employee describes how the kilns used to be fired with coal, which he remembers shoveling by hand. A pottery piece from 1902 has mysteriously acquired a look and feel that only the passing of time will create. These reminders and countless others renew and strengthen our resolve to continue the tradition.

Each day brings a sense of excitement and anticipation; there is no end in sight to the Van Briggie legacy. Inspired by the essence of our style, successive generations can continue to express the timeless and endless themes found in nature, interpreted through creative minds and skilled hands. Artus and Anne Van Briggie's aims and values were noble and sincere. As we remain true to these goals, the Van Briggie tradition, begun so many years ago, will continue long into the future.

A Gorgeous Yellow & Black 1954 Ford Sunliner Convertible Brings $20,000 at W. Yoder Auction

Article & photos by W. Yoder Auction

Some pieces that drew the most attention at the auction were a 1954 Ford Sunliner convertible, a 1931 Ford convertible truck, a 1951 Ford Custom convertible, a 1927 Model T, a restored "OK Used Car" neon sign and a Red Crown gas sign. The highest selling item of the auction was the '54 Ford Sunliner that went to a Michigan buyer for $20,000. Bargains included farm signs and farm related memorabilia, the trend on these items we have been noticing is getting softer.

Auctioneers for the event were Wayne Yoder Jr., Rudy Hershberger and Tim Miller. Buyers came from Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Colorado, California, Florida, Tennessee and of course, Wisconsin.

This auction was a great success, we drew bidders from just about every state, and our internet bidding drew buyers from other countries and was wild! The strongest parts of the auction were the automobiles and automobilia. We will again be doing an auction just like this September 15 & 16, 2016 at W. Yoder Auction Center. A great time was had by all, whether you were a bidder or just a spectator, the bidding was fast & substantial. If you would like to be a consignor for our fall auction, please contact 920-787-5549 or Wayne at 920-294-2644.

W. Yoder Auction has been in the auction business for 16 years, we have always been known for auctioning incredible antiques, primitives and now collector cars. If you like these kinds of items, plan to attend our Annual Fall Classic Car and Memorabilia auction Sept. 15 & 16. We have annual spring and fall classic cars and memorabilia auctions, thus giving you two opportunities to sell and buy some of the coolest cars, trucks, signs and unique collections you will lay your eyes on. Come to a W. Yoder Auction Center in Wautoma, WI, where everyone is welcome.

Wisconsin Pottery Association Holds 21st Year Pottery Show & Sale

Article by Jim Riordan (Wisconsin Pottery Association)

The Wisconsin Pottery Association (WPA) will hold its 21st annual Art Pottery Show and Sale on Saturday August 27th, 2016, 9-4 pm. This interesting and exciting event will be held at the Exhibition Hall, Alliant Energy Center, and Madison, Wisconsin.

All types of antique and collectible pottery, contemporary ceramics, dinnerware, stoneware, tile, figurines, and vintage items will be on sale. Fifty of the best Pottery dealers from across the Midwest will participate, as well as noted studio potters. Pottery examples for sale will be Roseville, Van Briggles, Fulper, Rookwood, Weller, McCoy and Red Wing along with many more. The dealers gather some of the best American and European pottery to bring to this annual sale, and the contemporary potters bring many items right out of the kiln!

Along with all of the pottery for purchase, pottery experts from the WPA and additional volunteers from the Iowa Art Pottery Association (IAPA) and the Minnesota Art Pottery Association (MAPA) will be available to help identify pottery pieces brought in by show attendees. (Maximum of two pottery pieces please). There is no charge for the identification.

In addition, Mary Pratt of Pratt Clay Studio will do a live pottery demonstration during the show at 1 pm. These demonstrations have been popular with show attendees.

Roseville Crystalis, 1906, is highly sought after by collectors for its crystalline glazes and creative forms.

Roseville's Rosecraft Hexagon, 1925, was a simply shaped Art Deco line made in either brown or green, and more rarely, a glossy blue.

Roseville Futura, 1928. Futura is an Art Deco line that was made in 78 different shapes and is one of the most popular lines among today's collectors.

A green globe, modernistic shape.

Roseville Creamware "Good Night" candle holder. Roseville began making decaled Creamware utility ware by 1910 and continued making it at least through the 1920's if not longer.

thereafter, Roseville made dozens of different pitchers. Some Roseville collectors specialize in pitchers alone!

A sleek blue Pine Cone "400 series" pitcher from 1953, and the smaller, older model designed in the 1930's.

Roseville Early Velvoss vase, ca. 1916. This line was unidentified as Roseville until collectors found a marked example and identified the shape numbers in a 1916 price guide in the 1990's.

Windsor, introduced by Roseville in 1931. This fern-decorated pattern was made in blue and rusty brown.

Roseville "Vase Assortment" pieces were Roseville's earliest art pottery, beginning around 1896. The vases were sold in bulk to the A&P Grocery chain, where they were given away as premiums to customers.

Roseville Carnelian II, 1926. This line followed a line called Carnelian I and was produced in shades of red or green or a mix of red and green.

Roseville Crocus planter, ca. 1904.

Roseville Carnelian II, 1926. This line followed a line called Carnelian I and was produced in shades of red or green or a mix of red and green.

The Wisteria line, first produced in 1933, is highly valued among collectors today.

The Ceramic Arts Studio Collectors will hold their 22nd annual convention that weekend and information can be found at their web site www.cascollectors.com. They will also have an information booth set up at the Pottery Show. Many dealers at the show will have Ceramic Arts Studio pieces for sale!

Admission is $6, parking is $7 or free with the WPA show card, any clipped WPA advertisement, or download card from the website: www.wisconsinpottery.org. The Wisconsin Pottery Association meets the 2nd Tuesday 9 times per year - September through June at the Goodman Center in Madison Wisconsin. The group gets together about 6:30 pm and a presentation about pottery or related field starts at 7p.m. Please see the WPA web site at www.wisconsinpottery.org for more information on meetings and membership.

We hope to see interested Pottery Collectors at the WPA Pottery Show/Sale on Saturday August 27th, 2016! We are proud to present our show and sale for the 21st consecutive year. Our first show occurred in August of 1995 at the Holiday Inn east in Madison WI. Betty Harrington, the designer of Ceramic Arts Studio Madison was the featured speaker. The WPA art pottery show and sale is a great opportunity to find just the piece you were looking for or to learn more about the many pottery items offered for sale!

Roseville Rosecraft, 1921, also known as Florane when it appears in this tan color. The form of this vase foreshadows the art deco telescoping and saucer-like shapes that were perfected in the Futura line seven years later.

Wanted-Reward $$$$!

Will pay a premium to get these two photographs back together. The missing one was sold to a different buyer than the one who bought the man seen below on the left at an auction May 19, 1990 in Manitowoc, Wisconsin (we think). Do not know what the woman or her dress looks like but know that the photo (taken around 1870) is very large and measures 36" tall by 22" wide not including the frame. May say Burger & Reed on it. The frame will be identical to the one the man is shown framed in. We think that the missing framed photograph of the woman was advertised in Auction Action Antique News, for sale again, between 2001 & 2005. Could have run in another publication. We will pay $500 to the first person who can find and will send the issue that contains the ad showing the woman we are looking for. If you have the ad or you own the photograph itself and are willing to sell it, call Gary at (303) 875-4271 or Marshall at (719) 251-5155. Frame around the woman may or may not be damaged like the one on the left is. If you have a photograph of a woman who is 36" tall by 22" wide from the 1870s (in a matching frame) chances are you have the photograph we are looking for.
