Fair Skies Greet Crowds at May Edition of the Sunday at Sandwich Antiques Show

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

A sunny and pleasant May 8th was the date for the first of this summer's Sunday at Sandwich Antiques Show, now embarking on its fourth successful season. Held at the historic Sandwich, Illinois Fairgrounds an hour west of the Windy City, the event is a worthy successor to the famed Sandwich Antique Markets of years past. Veteran dealers Renie & Fred Mitchell, Chuck & Mary Springob, and Maureen & Jim Little run the enterprise, continuing the Sandwich Fairgrounds' antiques tradition into the future.

Out & About

Labor Day is fast approaching and for some of us, it is the last four day weekend with the kids until Thanksgiving. Some kids have already started school and others start next week. Mine start next week and Tia already had summer homework that she had forgotten about for Spanish. Mekenzy has a KC Charity hockey game this weekend to help raise funds for both local girls high school hockey teams. She was also just announced captain of the team. Brandon will no longer ride to and from work with me, answer phones, clean photos and mail the paper with us. All of us at the office will not only miss him, but he was a tremendous help to us all. He is looking forward to starting school.

He has also recently met a local girl at the mall and they have already gone to the movies with a group of friends and have future plans to attend some local football games. He hopes to ask her to homecoming. Remember to watch and slow down for those school zones. We seem to forget about them during the summer months.

Sandwich, Illinois. Just hearing the name stirs the hearts of antique enthusiasts everywhere who remember the glory years of the Sandwich Antiques Market. Well, that original show may be just a memory now, but there's another one to take its place: the Sunday at Sandwich Antiques Show. Now in its fourth summer season, the indoor-outdoor antiques show is a worthy heir to its iconic namesake. Last season saw more than one-hundred quality antiques purveyors and nice crowds at each monthly event, and this May 8th show saw great attendance for both vendors and shoppers alike.

I came out bright & early for the May 8th Sunday at Sandwich Antiques Show, and the large parking lot was already filling up as I arrived. The modest $5 admission fee includes parking in one of the several lots at the edge of the Fairgrounds. It's among the most picturesque county fairgrounds around, with large trees providing welcome shade for the vendors and shoppers alike.

"For the Sunday at Sandwich Antiques Show, we wanted the focus to be on quality antiques and collectibles dealers," show co-promoter Maureen Little told me. "We already have a good group of core dealers spreading the word. Our goal is to make this event a profitable venue for our exhibitors and rewarding experience for the visiting public."

Of course, many of the dealers were from Land of Lincoln, but there were quite a few from the surrounding states as well. Chief Antiques was one of the local dealers, bringing a wonderful selection of antique and vintage furnishings and decoratives of all sorts. A rare Art Nouveau plaque from Chicago's North Western Terra Cotta Works was a highlight there, along with everything from Black Forest carvings to a funky pair of RCA Victor advertising chairs.

Or is vintage and repurposed more your style? Look no further than the display of The Picker Sisters, where shoppers found 1950s artifacts along with occasional tables made from vintage advertising yardsticks. Back Road Relics continued the repurposed theme with fantastic table lamps assembled from vintage auto and plumbing parts.

Whatever your collecting interests you're likely to find something to love here to love - from the large inventory of both restored and original painted antique furniture at Second Chance Antiques to classic country stoneware at Indian Creek Antiques and John Rudie Antiques.

If you missed this May show you still have two more chances to visit the Sunday at Sandwich Antiques Show. July's edition of the show has come and gone, but there are Sunday at Sandwich Shows still to come on August 14th and October 9th. Just visit www.sundayatsandwichantiques.com for details and directions. Or feel free to give Renie a call at 630-251-3454, or Maureen at 847-321-1712, for additional dealer information. And as always, keep an eye out for all of the Sunday at Sandwich Antiques Shows in the Auction Action Antique News!

Two funky furniture sets from Timber Peg

Antiques: the vintage rattan patio group priced at only $40, the tavern table & four chairs in a matching black finish at $450. 608-879-9936

Period furniture at John Henry Antiques ranged from a vintage Antiseptic Sterilizer cabinet ($48) to a 19th century paper maché pedestal table in nice condition - asking price $185.

At John Henry Antiques, this reverse-painted Art Deco serving tray carried a $42 price tag.

I found these pretty-cool vintage RCA Victor chrome & Naugahyde armchairs at Chief Antiques, asking price $495 for the pair. 815-272-3421

More treasures from Chief Antiques: the 4' plaster religious figures priced at $495 each, the 12" Black Forest carved cigar box at $450. 815-272-3421

Period furniture was the focus at Second Chance Antiques; my favorite this carved oak hall tree with under-seat storage - $950. 920-470-2319

No matter where your tastes lie, you're likely to find something to love at the Sunday at Sandwich Market – from shabby chic and antique furniture to tools, jewelry, and much more!

Missouri exhibitor Don Rutledge brought a mix of fun furnishings – from a matched pair of vintage pink pottery table lamps ($125) to a turkey mount priced at $75.

There was lots of period lighting to peruse in Don Rutledge's display, plus this rustic bent-willow fern stand sporting a heart & horse-shoes motif - $100.

One local couple set up for every Sunday at Sandwich Market, bringing these mint-in-box farm toys ($140 and $250) and vintage lunch boxes starting at $30.

Sally & Sue, the Picker Sisters, brought their infectious enthusiasm, plus these great folk art tables made from vintage advertising yardsticks & priced at only $45 to $55. 630-945-6158

Cobalt-decorated stoneware is a specialty at John Rudie Antiques – with this baby bird jug priced at $435, this Haxton-Uttman (New York) jug at $245. 815-877-4375

Shoppers were seeing red in the Picker Sisters' display, with pieces like this child's steel rocker ($50) and 1950s chrome & Formica serving cart priced at $85. 630-945-6158

Two more pottery pieces from John Rudie Antiques: the Bennington Pottery cuspidor priced at $50, the green-glazed butter crock at $69. 815-877-4375

I found these way-cool table lamps at Back Road Relics & Custom Creations, made from old salvaged parts and priced from only $125. 630-308-3103

Period Advertising at Back Road Relics ranged from a framed Wright & McGill Glass Rods poster ($125) to a 36" Wisconsin-found Convalescent Home wooden sign priced at $150. 630-308-3103

This wicker duo from Patriot House Antiques sported a resplendent red paint job, and was priced at $225 for the set. 630-231-5884

Vintage taxidermy at Templeton Antiques included everything from a weasel shadowbox display ($245) to a whole flock of stuffed chickens! 708-744-7372

At Templeton Antiques sat this ordinary-looking picnic basket that when opened revealed it to be a zinc-lined Hawkeye Basket Refrigerator with built-in ice compartment - $190. 708-744-7372

Two unusual vintage sprinklers from Indian Creek Antiques: the arrowhead version priced at $25, the green tulip-form example at $28. 262-363-7338

Yes, I found these two furniture pieces in the same booth! At 4-Ever Lookin' Antiques sat both this Sponge Bob child's barber chair ($275) and 19th century Chinese rosewood fern stand, asking price $600. 219-863-4515

Promoters Renie Mitchell (left) and Maureen Little were all smiles for the May 14th Sunday at Sandwich Market on - with fair skies and comfortable temperatures bringing in a good crowd.

Colorado Quilting: From Mountains to Plains
By Mary Ann Schmidt & the Colorado Quilting Council

This book is the culmination of more than 125 years of tradition and countless "Documentation Days," during which quilting council members record the block technique, age, batting, backing, and color of each quilt their fellow quilters trust them to preserve. Thirteen chapters explore important historical quilting moments, traditional and modern quilting themes, and the beginnings of the Rocky Mountain Quilt Museum and the Quilter's Newsletter magazine. Different council members researched, photographed, and recorded the most significant events, memories, quilters, and quilts that have influenced the progress of quilting in Colorado. Early Coloradans picked their own cotton, saved every scrap of used fabric, and made quilts from scratch to support their families and for therapy as they recovered from serious injuries and illnesses. Many of these sacred stitches are still works in progress and continue to illustrate what's important to these dedicated craftspeople.

 Antique Show & Sale

Article by Jerry Fults (Northern Wisconsin Antique Dealers Association)

Join us for the 1st Annual Chippewa Falls Antique Show and Sale featuring the Northern Wisconsin Antique Dealers Association! This event will take place in Hall C at the Chippewa Falls Fair Grounds, 225 Edwards Street, on Friday, September 30th, 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM and on Saturday, October 1st, 9:00 AM to 4:00 PM.

The Northern Wisconsin Antique Dealers Association has been actively showing and selling antiques at the annual Eagle River Antique Show and Sale for the last 56 years. This newly organized antique show in Chippewa Falls will feature the same experienced exhibitors and their selected guest dealers. We've worked hard to put together a quality antique show and sale with something for everyone! Our professional antique dealers will be bringing some of their best merchandise...including items that they have saved especially for this show.

You can expect an excellent selection of antique furniture in a variety of woods and styles. You will also find antique and vintage costume jewelry; sterling silver; brass and copper, ironstone, art pottery, elegant, depression & kitchen glassware; kitchen collectibles and crocks; art and vintage pictures; children's toys and collectibles; art glass; along with small primitives and country pieces at this show. There is something for everyone in all price ranges.

We are also happy to announce that Mary Lou's Crystal Repair will be joining us! Mary Lou and her husband Bob are well known for their high quality work. You can bring your damaged crystal, china, porcelain or pottery with you to the show and have it repaired while you shop!

This show has free parking. Food and beverages will be available for purchase from the River Falls Rotary Club. Mark your calendar now!

New Owners Take Over The Long Running Minocqua Antique Show

Article by Nona Amour (Northstar Collective)

Northstar Collective is excited to announce their acquisition of the very successful Minocqua Antique Show. The show has been going for over 35 back to back years and has been a favorite of locals in trying to find that hard to find treasure.

Both Carol Zache and Judy Fuchsen of C & J Promotions are pleased to hand over the reins to their successful show to Nona Wilson the owner of Northstar. The previous owners will be enjoying the show for years to come with a relaxed and well deserved break from the hard work of show promoting. They both have a strong desire to remain connected to the community and you will be able to see them and their merchandise in future shows.

Northstar Collective will continue to have some of the wonderful dealers that the area has come to know and love. The show will also add a few new venues to the mix. Popular Americana items such as early advertising and store displays that have proven to be good investments and are considered the new artwork for your home. Repurposed antique furniture and early architectural items that are in demand in home decorating as well. More sporting, fishing and hunting items will also be introduced into the show. Formal and casual furniture, Folk & Fine Art, China, Silver, jewelry and Native American items will continue to be a part of the shows appeal. Nona adds that by diversifying the show we can appeal more to all ages creating a great experience for the whole family.

The show also benefits community charities such as scholarship funds, Special Olympics and Lelyn Schmidt a local boy born with Anophthalmaia a condition that renders you blind at birth. Lelyn is still a toddler but the hope is to save up enough to buy him a seeing eye dog. We are glad to be a part of these endeavors for the community and the more successful the show becomes the more we can benefit some of these causes.

Northstar Collective also promotes a show in Oshkosh Wisconsin called the Antique Sporting and Advertising Show. It is held the first Friday and Sat in February at the Sunnyview Expo Center. That show is approaching 100 dealers and is well attended according to Nona.

Wilson encourages the public to bring in their treasures to sell and will continue to look for quality dealers for all their shows.

The upcoming show in Minocqua will be on Saturday, September 3rd & Sunday the 4th. The doors open at 9 am and close at 4pm both days. The event is held at Lakeland High School, 1 block west of Jct. Hwy.51 & Hwy 70 West. Admission is $5.00 and for the ages 13 and under are free. There will be a Food concession on site.

Hamm's Brewery & Midwest Beer Show

Article & picture by Mary Johnson (Hamm's Club)

Each year the Hamm's Club sponsors a Hamm's Brewery Show in September and it's one you need to attend. This year it will be September 10, 2016. There's lots of good beer and soda advertising, great weather and fun buyers and dealers to chat with.

Collector Doug Sandin says, "I never miss this show!" Doug says there is always a good crowd and good merchandise for the beginner or advanced collector. Doug's pal Mike Zenk always attends the show as well and Mike says, "There's nothing like a great early fall outdoor show. If you look a little there is a little Oktoberfest in this show. In the form of a cold Hamm's and some great German hot dogs!!!"

The Hamm's Brewery Show will have good Wisconsin beer advertising and sellers like Paul Cervenka always brings some good Leinenkugle's pieces to pedal.

Mark your calendar for September 10th and be there at 9 a.m. and plan to spend a few hours...in a little bit of Oktoberfest in St. Paul. Located at the parking lot of the Old Hamm's Brewery. 707 Minnehaha Avenue East, St. Paul, MN 55106.

This is an outdoor rain or shine show. Dealers welcome to sign up for a space. For more information call 763-252-0114 or email hammsclub@gmail.com
