Out & About

We hope everyone had a wonderful Easter Weekend.

Want to send out a big Happy Birthday to my Grandpa who turned 96 years old.

There is a variety of shows and auctions for this week, venture out and find that perfect gift for Mother's Day, which is fast approaching.

All our weekends have been busy. One day the girls and I started at 7:30 with eye appointments (we all needed glasses). Then off to update their phones for college. Then, to look and buy prom dresses (ouch), but very beautiful. Next stop was the Maxillofacial Surgeon to get checked and scheduled for the extraction (panic). After that we had a bunch of smaller errands to run, so by the time we were done, it was 8pm. Next day, we all helped in the basement trying to help as much as possible.

When Out and About this weekend, be sure to check out:

Brandon & Tia colored eggs this year, Kenzy had to work.
Tia loved coloring them this year. We used the shaving cream & food coloring method & it worked beautifully.
They colored the eggs in like 10 minutes. Tia said that this was a fun way for teenagers to color Easter Eggs. Tia's are the brighter eggs with more pink &
Brandon's are the mostly green & yellow ones.

The American Bar Lip Decanter- Form and Function

By Bill Morrison

The cultural history of material objects can reflect events and industrial processes in unexpected and interesting ways. They were often created to cater to specific social trends or phenomena, became part of the fabric of everyday life, but then disappeared almost as quickly as they appeared, to be replaced in turn by improved versions and styles.

The bar lip decanter is one such object, and its history offers a fascinating glimpse of the social and economic development of America's first 100 years, as well as the evolution of glass manufacturing in this country. It appears that the bar lip decanter was an exclusively American form. While catalog illustrations confirm that they were manufactured elsewhere, foreign-made examples appear to have been specifically made for export to the US, as bar lip decanters do not appear to have been used elsewhere in the world.

The 1830s witnessed radical changes in the interior design of bars and saloons. The traditional layout had placed the keeper "behind bars," in a caged area with an opening to the taproom, to protect him and his inventory from unruly customers. However, as bars became more open, the ironwork disappeared and shelves were fitted to a wall behind the tender's back for displaying his range of liquors.

Bars and saloons continued to store large quantities of liquor in barrels, but a means was required to house liquor at the counter in a manner that helped project a suitably refined image. Pottery stoneware jugs were old fashioned and suffered practical disadvantages.

By 1845 new-style city bars had begun to resemble their modern descendants, fitted with elegant trappings and comfortable furniture, intended to attract more discerning customers than old-fashioned saloons.

Newspapers began to describe some as "drinking palaces," with long rows of decanters behind the bar. On the other hand, sleazy bars and saloons were referred to as "barrel shops" because they still poured directly from barrels, not decanters.

With most liquor during the period remaining colorless, sophisticated establishments would have required decanters of differing shapes, sizes and designs to assist the bartender in identifying specific brands. Blown molded and engraved bar lip decanters first appeared between 1830-1840 to meet this specific need.

By the late 1850s the blown decanters were being replaced by pressed versions in numerous patterns and sizes.

The bar lip decanter enjoyed a heyday spanning just 45 years, between circa 1830-75, during which decanters in countless patterns, shapes and sizes, were being manufactured by dozens of American glass houses. Two factors, one technical, one sociological, combined to cause its ultimate demise.

The first technological advance was the development of lime-based glass, which was around sixty-percent cheaper to produce than lead-based equivalents. The increased workability of lime glass allowed more efficient manufacturing methods and encouraged the introduction of cheap, labeled bottles.

The associated cultural change was rapid "nationalization" of American drinking preferences. Soldiers who had traveled the country during the Civil War returned home having newly acquired tastes for particular brands that had previously been unknown in their hometown or state. The smoother and more flavorful liquors developed by some distillers, notably in the south and east, proved particularly popular. Early Times (1860) and Jack Daniels (1866) are only two of several brands established at the time of the civil war and reconstruction. Bar owners were quick to recognize the commercial potential that "added value" brands brought to their business, and the explosive expansion of the railroads provided the routes of national distribution.

Advances in bottle-making technology encouraged the manufacture and the distribution of new "branded bottles" embossed with the type of the liquor, or branded and decorated with logos identified with specific brands. The first "bar bottles" appeared in the McKee catalog of 1871, and within four years bar lip decanters had all but disappeared from glass catalogs.

Bitters-sized decanters survived longer as they were adapted for use as sauce bottles, with examples illustrated in catalogs into the early part of the 20th century.

Firearms Collectors Flock to Donley Auctions Huge Guns & Military Auction in February

Article & photos by Donley Auctions

The highlight of the day went to a Remington-Rand M1911A1 Pistol that sold for a whopping $8,500! WWII US Army-issued 1911 pistol in excellent condition has serial number, correct issue papers and era correct pilot's shoulder holster. Included with this lot is a large collection of personal affects, including the pilot's crush hat, photographs, and even the receipt from having turned in his "war weary bomber" at the end of the war.

One of the more interesting items was an absolutely stunning GERMAN Model 1826 WURTTENBERG HEAVY CAVALRY DAMASCUS BLADE SWORD made for the State of Wurttemberg (now Germany) by the Henckels Company. This sword was taken from a WW II German Field Marshal after the surrender by B-17 pilot Major Richard Allen. He was transporting high value prisoners back to England and the Field Marshal was boarding his plane with the sword. Major Allen refused to let him get on the plane with it and took it away from him. A picture of Major Allen with the Sword is included with the sword. Personal artifacts and foot locker of Major Allen was sold in a separate lot.

A Major Step In Fighting Fraud In The Antiques Business

History has been made! The Federal Trade Commission and the Professional Show Managers Association (PSMA) have jointly taken a giant step in educating the public about fraud in the world of antiques and collectibles and the Wisconsin Antique Dealers Association, dedicated to honesty and authenticity in the trade of antiques, has joined the effort!

A yearlong crusade, led by Nancy Johnson and Dordy Fontinel, board members of the Professional Show Managers Association, has resulted in the printing and mass distribution of hundreds of thousands of colorful informative bookmarks. Titled "Antiques, How to Shop Wisely", the educational pieces give bullet points of information to be considered when shopping for antiques.

"When shopping for antiques and collectibles, ask the dealer. How long have you been in business? How do you know any item is genuine, not a fake or reproduction? What are your criteria for identifying the item? Will you give me a written guarantee that the item is authentic? What is your return policy?"

In addition, Johnson and Fontinel were successful in their request that Consumer Information on Safely Shopping for Antiques and Collectibles be added to the FTC website. The two women spent nearly six months working with the FTC on the specific information that is now available. The recently posted article may be accessed by visiting the FTC.gov website or simply googling FTC antiques.

When PSMA President Nancy Johnson wrote an article in the Association's Winter 2007 newsletter entitled "When Did It Become OK To Cheat Someone?", a commentary on our world's complacency about being defrauded, show promoter Dordy Fontinel responded and began a dialogue with Johnson about the problem of fakes and fraud in the world of antiques and collectibles. This dialogue resulted in Fontinel speaking with Sen. John Warner, subsequent meetings with his staff and the Federal Trade Commission.

Last June, Fontinel and Johnson met with Jeanne Bumpus, Director of Congressional Affairs at the FTC, and members of the planning and information division of the FTC. Their goal was to have Antiques & Collectibles recognized as "consumer items" and to encourage the FTC to take note of the rampant fraud, which is taking place under the guise of "Antiques". The FTC agreed and the process began. Knowingly selling a fake is criminal fraud in most states.

PSMA also feels that the bookmarks will provide a convenient opportunity for anyone interested in educating the buying public and fighting the cause. PSMA encourages show promoters, dealers, shop and mall managers, club members, and auctioneers to get involved, therefore PSMA is offering the bookmarks at their cost.

The battle has just begun! Now that the FTC has issued an Alert that selling an antique or collectible item that is not authentic is Fraud, Fontinel and Johnson feel more consumer protection will occur on the state and local level. Such fraud can be reported directly on the Federal Trade Commission site at: <http://www.ftc.gov/bcp/index.shtml>. Choose the tab "File A Complaint."

These informative bookmarks are given to attendees of the Wisconsin Antique Dealers Association shows held in Waukesha each October & February.

(See www.wisconsinantiquedealers.com)

Or, to order bookmarks in quantity, send a check made payable to PSMA to the PSMA Offices, Attn: FTC Project, P.O. Box 30, Bloomfield CT 06002. The cost of the bookmarks, including Priority Mail, is $25 per 1000 or a single package of 200 for $10. (PSMA is a non-profit trade association of consumer show managers, with the majority of its members in the Antiques & Collectible fields.)

Homer Laughlin China Collectors Association

HLCCA is a non-profit organization comprised of collectors, antiques dealers, historians, etc., who share an interest in the dinnerware and other pottery products that were, and are, produced by the Homer Laughlin China Co. (1873-). HLCCA offers a wide range of services, events, and other benefits for people whose interest levels vary from mild curiosity to sophisticated collecting.

Our quarterly magazine, The Dish produced in full color throughout since v. 2 no. 2 (Winter 1999-2000), is the premier communication tool for, and among, the HLC collecting community. Each 24-page issue contains 5-7 feature articles whose topics range from individual collector's stories to in-depth discussions of particular lines or decorative schemes, and from biographical essays on noted artists or artisans involved with the creation of HLC products to reviews of new books on collecting HLC wares. The Dish also includes regular reports on numerous Association Activities. The HLCCA also has a book on Fiesta, Harlequin, and Kitchen Kraft.

HLCCA holds an annual 2 1/2-day Conference during the summer. The Conference offerings include seminars, workshops, and multi-media presentations, auction, collectors' exhibits, a dealers' show-and-sale, and most importantly, an opportunity for HLC collectors to meet, greet, and network with other collectors who share similar interests.

We also operate an online store which offers many HLC-related books for collectors, and HLC pottery items that are not readily available from retail stores. Since 1999, HLCCA has commissioned limited edition juice pitchers, each of which commemorates a notable event from a particular year in the 1930s. These pitchers are available only to members of HLCCA.

Please browse around our website, <http://www.hlcca.org>, to learn, in greater detail, the benefits of HLCCA membership. At any point, if you have a question, please go to the About Us page where you will find an email address for our officers or volunteers, all of whom are pleased to address your questions about the Homer Laughlin China Collectors Association.

A Brief History of Antique Pressed Glass

By EAPGS members Sean George and Wendy Jones of Sean George Pressed Glass & Goblets

Pressed Glass, also referred to as Pattern Glass, was produced between 1850 to 1910. The majority was produced in the 1880's. When it was originally designed, it was intended for everyday use and was made to be very durable and at the same time, attractive.

Families would use glassware as part of their table setting or for entertaining guests. For these reasons, producers made many different patterns to attract the customer to buy their products. Once a pattern was designed, it was patented along with its name so that it could not be duplicated, unless patents or molds were sold to other companies.

Often competitors would produce similar patterns or similar names, if the pattern proved to be popular with the public. For example, the "Flamingo" pattern has similarities to the "Clear Flamingo" pattern, not only in looks, but name as well.

Pressed Glass was produced in both Canada and the United States, with American companies outnumbering Canadian factories. Each year companies competed to produce the most attractive and popular patterns. Pressed Glass patterns were designed and then duplicated into a cast iron mold. The mold was then fired at an extreme temperature. The pieces of the mold were pulled away from the glass and the piece was left to cool.

If you examine a piece of pressed glass you will always find either two, three or four seams running through the glass, although sometimes the seams were well hidden in the pattern. The number of mold lines in a piece of glass does not determine the age. If the piece was small, manufacturers would use a two piece mold; if they were making compotes they would use a three piece mold. When manufacturers made punch bowls, they would use a four piece mold because of its large size, or a four piece mold was used for square patterns to help create the shape.

Around the 1920's, Pressed Glass lost its popularity and crystal became the 'in thing'. Affordable crystal was being shipped from Europe and France. When the depression came, people could no longer afford crystal and returned to pressed glass, or "the affordable glassware." This new period of glassware became known as "Depression Glass". It was produced the same way, pressed into a cast iron mold, but in different patterns and colours to brighten your day.

When manufacturers began producing pressed glass (1850-1910); patterns ranged from very plain to very elaborate cut glass imitations. The market tried and tested each pattern. Even patterns with Animals, Fruits and Florals were designed and created, with attention to fine details. Some of the patterns were produced as full table settings, while others were produced only in goblet form or single tableware pieces. People originally bought goblets and tableware for their beauty and artistic design. In addition, it was functional and affordable.

Just as ladies back then were collecting, trading and buying pressed glass for gifts, we continue to do so today. Collectors enjoy choosing and finding their favourite patterns among the over 3000 known patterns produced in early Pressed Glass.

25th Annual Kalamazoo Airgun It Is That Time Again To Mark Your Calendar

Article by Wesley Powers

It is that time again this year to mark your calendar and start making plans to attend the Kalamazoo Airgun Show. This year's date is August 20, 2017. The show is held in Kalamazoo, Michigan at the Kalamazoo County Expo Center at the County Fairgrounds. Hours for the public are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The show features 106 tables of all types of airguns from antique to modern, bb guns to big bore.

There has been some confusion about the new airgun show in Columbus Ohio this year and the Kalamazoo Michigan airgun show. Dennis Baker is co-host of the Kalamazoo show this year. An Ohio airgun club is hosting the Columbus show and Dennis is also a member of the club. Dennis' company Baker Airguns sponsors of both the Columbus and Kalamazoo shows. Dennis has assured me that the 2018 26th Annual Kalamazoo show will continue...please continue to support Dennis just like you have always supported us...he will continue to have a great show!

On Saturday evening we will once again host a reception for the show attendees at our host hotel, The TownPlace Suites. At this years reception world acclaimed airgun historian, collector and author Larry Hannusch will entertain and educate us with a presentation on early airguns.

Tables for the show are well over half sold out so make sure to get your reservation in to us soon! If you would like a show flyer or have any questions please email wespowers@comcast.net we look forward to seeing you at the show.

National Autumn Leaf Collectors Club

We love and collect the famous Autumn Leaf pattern, one of the most-popular vintage china patterns in America. The many and varied dinnerware pieces, produced by the Hall China Company, were sold door-to-door by Jewel Tea Company salesmen for many years. Numerous accessory pieces, including metal, paper, plastic, cloth and glass items were also offered.

These beautiful dishes were often the centerpiece of family dinners and bring back many wonderful memories of our mothers, grandmothers, aunts or neighbors. Special memories of helping Grandma make pudding in the custard cups, setting the table with Mom's "good dishes," or smelling the wonderful aroma of fresh coffee and tea that was delivered directly to our homes continue to remind us of many happy times with our loved ones.

The NALCC offers a full-color newsletter six times per year, special commemorative Autumn Leaf items, many options for adding to your own collection, an Autumn Leaf Price Guide, a popular National Convention with an Autumn Leaf/Jewel Tea Show & Sale, Autumn Leaf Auction and much fun and fellowship with collectors from across the United States. If you haven't already joined us, do it today!

We encourage you to become a member of the National Autumn Leaf Collectors Club®. Additionally, you may know someone who collects Autumn Leaf chinaware and wish to gift an NALCC membership for that person. Our annual membership fee is $30.00. We welcome and introduce our new members through our newsletter. Visit: <http://www.nalcc.org>

American Cut Glass Association

The American Cut Glass Association is devoted to the study and research of American Brilliant Cut Glass. The Brilliant Period lasted from approximately 1876 to around 1914. The Association offers a number of member benefits including a newsletter published 10 times a year, an annual convention, regional chapters, and Brilliant Weekends - special events held by ACGA chapters.

The ACGA's website homepage consists of some cut glass illustrations, a welcoming statement, bulletin board and navigation menu. This menu, serving as a site map, does an excellent job of directing first time visitors to the various sections on the website.

Divided into five columns, there is a column of features on the American Cut Glass Association, itself, including their history, organization, code of ethics, endowment fund and gifts & Acquisitions fund. another column offers segments on member benefits while a third column features information and photos of examples of Brilliant Cut Glass. The fourth and fifth column comprise information on the ACGA Store and contact information.

This is a very functional club website and serves the ACGA well.
