Dodgeville Lions Club Flea Market and Antique Sale Now in it's 25th Season

Article & photos by Michelle Goltz

The Dodgeville Lions Club Flea Market and Antique Sales Held their first of two annual shows on June 11th at the Ley Pavilion in Harris Park in Dodgeville, Wisconsin. Sixty Five Dealer Spaces were filled with great items from collectors ready to sell, making it one of southwest Wisconsin's biggest antique events. Although it's far from the "big city," that doesn't mean the show lacks quality or variety. You'll find sellers offering everything from early primitives to area advertising to most everything in between.

Brandon has one more behind the wheel and then he goes to get his actual driver's license. His driving instructor just laughs when Brandon drives because he does not need the instruction. Like when they went out on the highway, the instructor asked if Brandon had ever driven this sharp corner that merges into another highway.

Brandon giggled and said only every day, twice a day.

Sixty Five Dealers and Lots of Treasures at the Dodgeville Lions Club Flea Market & Antique Sale

Article & Photos by Michelle Goltz

There was a great vibe throughout the show with guests and the vendors. It was such a beautiful day for a drive, coming from Milwaukee about half way is Johnson Creek who can pass by the Pine Cone without stopping (not this girl) had to get some great bakery and a coffee for the rest of the trip! It's an easy and scenic drive from almost anywhere too - only an hour west of Madison, two hours from Milwaukee, or three from Chicago. And as it's a Dodgeville Lions Club organized event, all the proceeds from the show help fund projects right in the community.

Dodgeville, Wisconsin. It's a town that means different things to different people. History buffs know it as one of the Badger State's oldest European settlements, founded in 1829. Surprisingly, at one time it was also the largest city in Wisconsin with a population greater than Milwaukee's and Chicago's combined. And historical sites are all around it too, including the nearby Pendarvis State Historical Site in Mineral Point among many others.

Outdoor enthusiasts know it as the gateway to the many natural attractions in the State's famed driftless region, from Governor Dodge State Park to the scenic Wisconsin River Valley. The outdoor fun continues all winter at the region's popular ski & snowboard resort, Tyrol Basin.

And many vacationers know it as a convenient base for visiting the numerous nearby manmade attractions. Notable destinations include everything from the famed House on the Rock to Frank Lloyd Wright's Taliesin to kids' favorites like Cave of the Mounds and Circus World Museum.

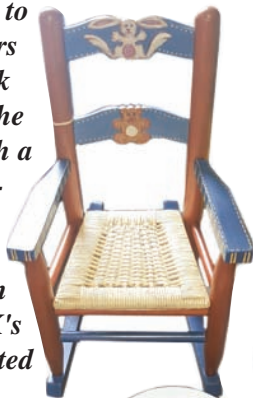

This show was filled with unique collectors selling their finds, if you are looking for that out of the ordinary item make sure you stop at their next show and check out the wide variety of items and great prices. Don't forget to bring a friend or two and take home some pieces you have been looking for or didn't know you needed to have!

This show was special as it was the 25th Silver Anniversary of its beginning. The second show for this year will be August 27th. Dealer Space inquiries are appreciated, Bob Kratchwia at 608-574-4011 or Terry Carroll at 608-574-1322.

The Brad & Mary Watts Western Collection of Cowboy & Native Indian Artifacts will be Auctioned Sept. 29 thru Oct. 1

ANN ARBOR, Mich. - What will quite possibly be the largest and most important collection of Cowboy and Native American Indian items ever offered at auction will come up for bid on the weekend of September 29th through October 1st at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds in Ann Arbor. The three-day event will be held by Showtime Auction Services, based in Woodhaven.

One of 4 Rare Large Apache Olla Baskets.

Approximately 2,000 lots of investment-grade, museum-quality artifacts will cross the auction block, the vast majority of them coming from the lifetime collection of Brad and Mary Watts of Phoenix, Ariz. "Mary passed away not long ago and Brad has decided to unleash this incredible trove of material onto the collecting public," said Mike Eckles of Showtime Auction Services.

The Watts collection is filled with Native American Indian objects as well as traditional cowboy antiques and collectibles. "Even the cigar tins are Western themed with cowboys and Indians," Mr. Eckles remarked. This is a rare chance for "Old West" fans to enhance their collections."

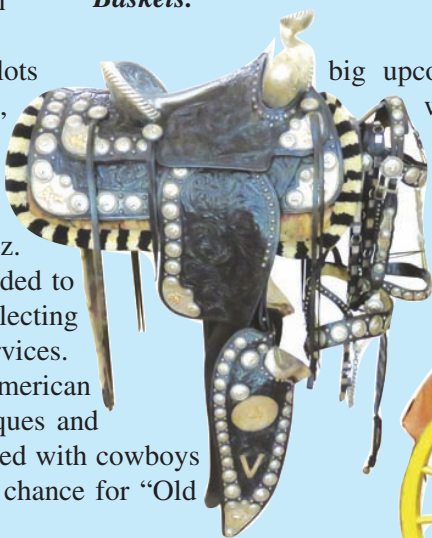

All items in the auction are guaranteed authentic, with no reproductions or fakes. In addition to the Watts collection, the auction will also feature investment-grade items from other advanced collections, to include cash registers, pharmaceutical show globes and holiday collectibles (for Halloween and Thanksgiving) and more.

Another highlight for collectors: The auction will be held at the same time as the 8th annual Indian Art & Frontier Antiques Show, which will be one day only - Saturday, September 30th, from 9-4 Eastern time - also at the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds in Ann Arbor. For dealer table information regarding that event, interested parties may call Dick Lloyd at (248) 840-7070.

Hours for the auction are 9-5 Eastern Time all 3 days. To get a 280 page full color catalog for $40, call Showtime Auction Services at (313) 715-4486 (EST). You can order a full color fold-out flyer for free. The auction will be posted on the website around early September. Online bidding will start at that time. 46th Annual International Camera & Photographica Show

Article & Photos by Fred Fragassi

The 46th Annual International Camera & Image Show and Sale is the Premier Camera Show in the Midwest. Dealers come from across the U.S., Canada and Japan. The event is held at the Holiday Inn Chicago North Shore, 5300 W. Touhy Avenue, Skokie, IL 60077. Directions to and from Holiday Inn Chicago North Shore: Located on Touhy Ave. and Niles Center Road, just west of Edens Expressway.

Show Hours are from 10:00 A.M. to 3:00 P.M. on Sunday, August 20th. Admission is $6.00; photo students is $4.00 and there is Early Bird Admission Available; and there is FREE Parking for over 400 cars at the Hotel. For accommodations at the Holiday Inn Chicago North Shore call for room rates at 847-679-8900.

The International Camera and Image Show is sponsored by the CHICAGO PHOTOGRAPHIC COLLECTORS SOCIETY, a not-for-profit organization founded in 1971, chartered in the State of Illinois. Unlike the flea markets that are encountered every weekend, the Chicago Photographic Collectors Society has since its inception, presented trade shows and exhibitions that feature the finest dealers and collectors of photographica of both national and international markets. This is the place to see, buy, sell or trade antique, classic, contemporary and digital photographic equipment. You'll find cameras, lenses, images, books, stereo-cards and more, on display.

Many tables loaded with classic, antique, and contemporary cameras, lens, photo accessories, images and books all for sale by dealers from around the U.S., Canada and Japan. This is the premier show in the Midwest!

You may have treasure collecting dust in your closet or basement !!!! Bring your used cameras and photo equipment that you wish to sell for FREE appraisals. Is it trash or treasure? Find out from the experts!

Meet Robert Rotoloni, President of the Nikon Historical Society, internationally known expert and author of The Complete Nikon Rangefinder System. He will have signed copies available for $100.00 each at the show.

Cased Images Preservation and Access Project. The Society in observance of its 25th Anniversary, provided the funding of the Cased Images Preservation and Access Project at the Chicago Historical Society, now in progress nearing completion by the millennium. These are one of a kind historic images and would have been lost forever due to chemical deterioration. They will now be accessible to the public for research.

Remember that nifty German camera that your Granddad brought back from World War II? Or the one that dad picked up later from Japan? And what ever happened to Uncle Mike's big old folding camera that made those large Postcard-size pictures, or the little box camera your Aunt Alice used at those family picnics long long ago? You may find them at our Show!

Interested in 35mm cameras? The German Leica Luxus models of 1926-31, with their gilt finish and colored lizard skin covering (less than 95 are known) are currently valued at $25,000 with a 1931 version recently auctioned off for $45,000 at Christie's in London. Other Leica models are more reasonably priced. That All-American favorite, the Argus Model C3 camera with almost 3 million sold, can usually be found for $15 to $25 dollars, while the 1937 Argus Model B - only 1,000 made, will cost you about $175 and that unique Argus Model K of 1939 may be had for almost $500! An early Nikon SLR camera from their first year of production, 1959 (about 784,000 Nikon F models were made), will cost you about $1,500 and if it is a Nikon F made for NASA, you can have one for $3,000 to $4,000. Some later Nikon cameras such as the Models FM, FG and FE can be found for under $200. Attend our Show!

Remember the Kodak Brownie? The first version of this children's box camera, introduced in 1900 and made for only four months, is now valued at $800 to $1,000, and while the improved model that followed, may cost you up to $150, the almost 100 different Kodak cameras that have carried the Brownie name for some 80 years can be found for an average price range of $10 to $25. You may see some at our Show!

Is your interest old photographs? A daguerreotype image, the first photographic process announced in 1839, can be found for as little as $25 to $35 in the sixth plate size (2 3/4" X 3 1/4"). A tintype taken by some sidewalk photographer in the 1930s or '40s may be priced at less than $5, and while a silver gelatin print of the work of a noted photographer of the recent past may cost thousands, other photographs of historical note are most affordable!

Are you into 3-D? The three dimensional effect of depth can be experienced the old fashion way - by viewing stereo photographs, commonly called Stereo-cards with a stereoscope viewer. Beginning about a 150 years ago, this was a popular family entertainment, besides the Victrola (wind-up record player) in the front parlor. In those pre-movie, pre-radio, pre TV, and pre-VCR days, you could see the devastation of our Civil War and the Chicago Fire, travel around the world to exotic places, study a botanical series or enjoy vignettes of your favorite theatrical personalities, all from your armchair! Travel scenes produced by Keystone or Underwood in the 1930s can be found at $2 to $5 a card, while special subjects such as World War I or later-day travel themes can cost up to $15 to $20 each, and a set of four glass plate stereo images of President Lincoln sold not long ago at auction for $2,000!

If you are interested in obtaining a table at our show, please print it from homepage and mail in or send us your email address and we will send you a 2017 registration form. Inquiries to Fred Fragassi at "chicagophotographic@comcast.net" Tables are still available.
