Unique & Fabulous Items, Fantastic Dealers at Minocqua Antique Market

Article & photos by Renee Wiskow

The Minocqua Antique Market was held on Friday & Saturday, August 25th & 26th at Lakeland High School in Minocqua, Wisconsin. With unique & fantastic pieces in each booth, shoppers were sure to find something to take home with them, and we saw quite a few sold tags to prove it! The dealers at the show were so fun to talk to & you learn so much from them!

St. Louis Indian Western Art Show & Sale

Article & photos by Carolynn Boehmer (Gateway Indian Art Club)

The Gateway Indian Art Club of St. Louis was founded in the early 1980's by Todd Boehmer, Virgil Laux and Ben Thompson, three men who have been long time collectors and members of the Greater St Louis Archaeology Society. Although they started their collections with primarily stone tools, they had a great appreciation for the beauty of Indian Art which included pieces of bead work, quill work, pottery designs, basket designs, rugs and jewelry. They felt that an organization that focused on these pieces would benefit collectors and dealers in the St Louis area by connecting with others who recognized the artistry in each piece.

So join us for the St. Louis Indian Western Art Show & Sale on Saturday, November 4th from 10:00am to 5:00pm & Sunday, November 5th from 10:00am to 3:00pm. Admission is $5 & early admission is $25 at 9am Saturday. The show will take place at the Holiday Inn Route 66 Hotel, 10709 Watson Road at Lindbergh (near I-270), St. Louis, Missouri 63127.

The St. Louis area has a rich Indian heritage and there were many Indian Mounds within what is now the city of St. Louis when it was first being settled. We have a fabulous treasure nearby at Cahokia Mounds in Cahokia, IL and something we can be proud of. Additionally, the St Louis Art Museum houses the outstanding collection of St. Louisian, Donald Danforth, a long time collector of Indian artifacts.

The Gateway Indian Art Club of St. Louis has sponsored a major show every fall for more than 25 years which brings collectors and dealers to our area that shows the fine workmanship within the Indian Culture. Our show brings together collectors from all over the United States and is open to the public. It is our hope that when people see the beautiful items, it will form an interest in younger generations to perpetuate a strong interest in this unique culture and will carry into the future.

Minocqua Antique Market - A Great Show in the Northwoods

Article & Photos by Renee Wiskow

I brought my mom Sandy along with me to the show, to keep me company on the drive and to help me out at the show. She loves antiques like I do, so we had a nice mother/daughter bonding day.

Nona Amour Wilson & husband Mark are the owners of Northstar Collective, which includes five other shows besides Minocqua. Mark has some really incredible pieces in his booth, including lots of advertising pieces, make sure you check it out!

The dealers were absolutely wonderful at the show and we learned a lot! Becky Sharpe of 1st Pick Antiques & Vintage had some incredible Native American pieces, including a hand carved wood saddle, something I have never seen before. It was so beautiful in bright red paint. Becky's husband makes custom tables from reclaimed wood and repurposed materials. "They're new but they're old," he told us. His goal is to keep antiques alive through repurposing. The tables were fantastic, he had made boxes (out of reclaimed wood, of course) for storage too! These tables are so popular that he actually finished one as they were packing up for the show!

We also spent a good deal of time at the Somewhere in Time booth talking to dealer and author Jo Addie. Wow, did we learn a lot! She showed us some beautiful leather purses from the early 1900's. These hand-made beauties were incredible, the leather was as soft now as the day they were made. And they all had an ingenious lock on them to keep your valuables safe! Also in her booth were some really neat old toasters. I have never seen toasters like these! She took the time to show us how they worked and told us about the history of these unique pieces! Jo has a new book out that she wrote to help show dealers. The book is called, "400 Tips for Antique Dealers". It's a great read, designed to help dealers out with things like new technology and getting people into your booth!

There is so much to Minocqua, Wisconsin. So much to see and do, it's a great weekend get away. There's plenty of fun events (like this show!), camping, fishing, hiking, shopping, lots of lakes and so much more. Start planning your get away now for the next August show. Whether you make it a family get-away, a girl's weekend or any other combination, get to Minocqua for this great show!

For more information about this show, or any of their other shows, contact Nona at Northstar Collective at 906-250-1618 and be sure to check out their website: www.northwoodsantiqueshow.com.

The History of the Nelson McCoy Pottery

By Dewayne Imsand

In 1910, Nelson McCoy Sr., with help from his father and along with five stockholders, established the Nelson McCoy Sanitary and Stoneware Company in Roseville, Ohio. The pottery produced utilitarian stoneware and operated successfully until about 1919. At that time the pottery joined with eleven other stoneware potteries and formed the American Clay Products Company, which was located in Zanesville, Ohio. All of the member potteries produced stoneware to be marketed by the new company. The ACPC produced sales catalogs of the wares that were produced, which purposely had no trademark, and had salesmen to advertise and take orders. The pottery orders received by the company were shared among the different potteries based on production capability, and the revenue received was proportionally distributed.

The ACPC thrived until January 1926, at which time the company was liquidated. The demise of the company released the former member potteries to once again become independent and they became in direct competition with one another. Also around this time the demand for utilitarian stoneware was beginning to decrease.

In order to re-establish its own identity, and also to reflect the changing times, the Nelson McCoy Sanitary and Stoneware Co., by 1929, had changed its name to the Nelson McCoy Sanitary Stoneware Co. Additionally, it was around this time that the company began the practice of marking its wares. No evidence has been found that the company had ever marked any of its wares prior to this time. In 1933, in response to a further decreased demand for food and sanitary wares, and an increased demand for decorative pieces, the name of the pottery was changed again. The pottery became simply, the Nelson McCoy Pottery Co.

Nelson McCoy Sr., Nelson Melick, and later Nelson McCoy Jr., in turn, operated the pottery for 57 years until it was sold in 1967 to the owners of the Mt. Clemens Pottery Co., although Nelson McCoy Jr. remained as president of the pottery. After about seven years of operation the Lancaster Colony Corporation purchased the pottery in 1974. In 1981 Nelson McCoy Jr. retired. In 1985, the pottery was sold once again, this time to Designer Accents of New Jersey. Some months earlier, Designer Accents had acquired two other potteries, Holiday Designs of Sebring, Ohio and their Sebring Studios division. Designer Accents also acquired the Sunstone Pottery of Cambridge, Ohio.

All production at these potteries was moved to the Nelson McCoy Pottery. The production of some of the wares formerly produced was continued, and other wares were discontinued. The ware formerly produced by Holiday Designs, being lower priced items, was discontinued, while the higher priced wares from Sebring Studios were continued for some time. The ware produced under the name Sebring Studios was marked with only a style number.

Selected items previously made by the McCoy pottery, and some newly designed items, were marketed by Designer Accents under the name Nelson McCoy Ceramics. Some of these items have the familiar McCoy name on them. The Floraline line with its distinctive mark, first produced by the Nelson McCoy Pottery in 1960, was also continued.

Designer Accents operated for about five years until late 1990 when the doors were finally closed. The portion of the pottery containing the offices burned in the fall of 1991. For more information visit: www.mccoypotterycollectorsociety.org

Strong Prices on Great WWII Collectibles at Cady Auction

Article & Photos by Cady Auction

We worked with the executors and families, to spread the items out so that each auction had the right mix of items. Selling too many of one type of collectible at one auction can flood the market," explained Mike Cady, President of Cady Auction Gallery. The other auctions were held April 23 and May 13.

The 3 collectors were all knowledgeable about World War II German military items so their collections included quality original items. WWII German military is very collectible and items in good condition bring top dollar at auction if marketed correctly. All 3 auctions were very well attended with in-house, absentee and on-line buyers, averaging 650 buyers per auction.

World War II German militaria and firearms are both highly collectible, so when you combine the two there is always heavy competition. Top sellers for the day were a group of WWII German Luger pistols; a Krieghoff Luger sold for $5000, a Mauser Banner Eagle L Police Luger sold for $2300, a S 42 Luger sold for $2200, 2 BYF P08 Lugers sold for $2150 and $2050. Other firearms that sold were a group of other handguns with the top sellers being a Walther Model PPK 32 cal pistol selling for $1150, a Colt Woodsman Match Target pistol ending at $1000, a Suhl Reichs Model 1879 10.55 mm revolver selling for $800, a Mauser Model HSC German Army 32 cal pistol selling $750, a Remington Model 51 380 cal pistol ending at $650 and a Stevens model 10 Single Shot 22 cal pistol. Rifles crossing the auction block that are worthy of a mention were a Winchester 70 Super Grade 458 mag Rifle selling for $975, a Browning Model B-92 357 Mag cal rifle selling for $925 and a Remington Model 700 Classic 221 cal rifle selling for $800.

Military items especially WWII German "bring backs" had collectors competing against each other. Examples of these were a WWII German SS dagger & scabbard with hanger battling to an $1800 sale price and a group of WWII German patches, collar Tabs & tags selling for $400.

Cady Auction was honored to have been chosen to sell these fine collections. If you are considering selling your quality collection or one item, Mike or Deb will be happy to discuss options for assisting you in marketing them. You can call the auction gallery at 319-364-4143 or go to their website www.cadyauction.com.

Antiques & Appraising School Launches "New" e-Course

Article by Charles Green (Asheford Institute of Antiques)

The Asheford Institute of Antiques (AIA), a professional-level distance learning program on antiques, collectibles and appraising, recently rolled out its first ever online "e-Course," at an industry trade gathering earlier this month, in anticipation of the school's 50th anniversary to be held in New York later this year.

Described by school spokesperson Shelly Dumont, as a watershed moment for the Institute, Dumont said the school's first foray into e-learning was consistent with Asheford's innovative and groundbreaking teaching techniques employed over the last 50 years. "When we offer something new, we like to take the time to make sure it's done right," said Dumont at a Q & A session following the announcement.

When asked about the differences in curriculum between textbooks and the new e-Course format of the program, Dumont said there was literally no comparison. "In terms of sheer volume, it's almost double the size of the printed version, and comes loaded with interactive videos, multimedia-activities, web-based resource links, and a host of other features we simply can't add into the texts." Dumont went on to say that the e-Course had been in development for almost two years by the school's IT team, before any release dates were even considered.

Industry insiders attending the trade gathering were granted temporary passcodes to the e-Course, and were given full access to the programs options and features at a demonstration held during the event. Director of the school, Charles Green presided over the presentation, and noted during the unveiling, that the program had undergone almost a year of beta-testing by international students prior to its intended release in North America.

A statement issued from the school's Admissions Officer, Tony Drew seemed to indicate a "full" release date for the new e-Course to be some time in mid-July. "We don't want to rush it, but we're really pleased with the response so far," said Drew, "We think the e-Course is really going to be a game-changer when it comes to setting the bar for future antiques and appraising education." The press release went on to say that while the textbooks for the Asheford program were still available, they would likely be phased out in the next five to ten years.

For readers seeking more information about the school's new e-Course program, they can be contacted at: (877) 444-4508 or visit their web site at; www.asheford.com. You can also write to them at; the Asheford Institute of Antiques 981 Harbor Blvd., Suite 3, Dept. 275EC11 Destin, FL 32541-2525, or at their Canadian office at; 131 Bloor Street West, Suite 200, Dept. 124EC11 Toronto, ON M5S 1R8.

What's Trending in Vintage & Antiques?

Find out at the 43rd Fall Fox Valley Antiques Show & Sale

St. Charles, Illinois October 14 & 15, 2017

Article & Photos by Debbie McArdle

Traveling cross country to find a variety of authentic antiques featuring the latest trends is a thing of the past. The best antiques and vintage come to you at the October 14 & 15, 2017 Fox Valley Antiques Show in St. Charles, Illinois, this, their 43rd Fall event.

Here 55 carefully-chosen, invitation-only dealers from 15 states will offer for sale a wide variety of authentic 18th, 19th and 20th century antique and vintage finds. October's event always brings experienced dealers from great distances who have established a loyal following in the Chicago area. This Fall's show proudly welcomes the following dealers, NEW to the gathering:

Benting & Jarvis, Barrington, NH
 Country Meadow Antiques, Woodriver, IL
 Deborah Fisher Antiques, Lebanon, OH
 Early American Antiques, Canfield, OH
 Neverbird Antiques, Surry, VA
 Roger Templeton, LaGrange, IL
 Tex Johnson Antiques, Adamstown, PA
 And returning after a long absence:
 Lisa McAllister, Clear Spring, MD

The complete list of 55 exhibitors can be found on the Chicago Suburban Antiques Dealers Association website, www.CSADA.com

Many dealers have saved choice holiday items for the show. Here Scott's Antiques, Whitefish Bay, Wisconsin, with a Clockwork Santa's Helper and a clockwork Father Xmas.

An added bonus for young collectors, those 25 years or younger (or with a student ID) are invited to attend the show at NO CHARGE!

A semi-annual sale, antiques are displayed all indoors at the bright and spacious Kane County Fairgrounds' Prairie Events Center. Dealers exhibit in walled and papered booths, their offerings arranged in room settings, many with an emphasis on decorative and graphic design. A "juried" show assures authenticity, allowing customers to buy with confidence.

Catered lunch with comfortable seating is available and there is plenty of free parking. Show hours are Saturday, October 14, 10 - 5, and Sunday, October 15, 10 - 4, at the Kane County Fairgrounds, 525 South Randall Road, St. Charles, Illinois 60174 (enter on Randall Road between Routes 38 and 64).

Produced by the Chicago Suburban Antiques Dealers Association, a not-for-profit organization, admission of $10 benefits local historic preservation and education endeavors. (A discount of $2 off one or two admissions will be allowed with this press release.)

ATM on premises.

Sneak Preview! 66th Fall Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association Show & Sale October 6 & 7, 2017 Waukesha (Milwaukee) Wisconsin

Article & Photos by By Debbie McArdle

Human-friendly antiques have been offered for sale at Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association Shows since 1951! Authenticity, condition and rarity have always been the guidelines for this top-notch group of professional dealers, with offerings at all price levels. Friday and Saturday, October 6 & 7, marks their 66th consecutive Fall Show. Given the list of dealers, this 66th Fall may prove to be the group's best show ever! Here's just a little about their line up.

Scott Watson, Portobello Road Antiques, Milwaukee always has an interesting booth. Among his planned inventory; a circa 1908 Buff and Buff survey instrument (with its original tripod and case) and a 1930s 18" floor globe. Specializing in the Arts and Crafts era, Scott will also bring a pair of Gustav Stickley #306 side chairs in original condition as well as a #616 library table. Find Scott in Booth #25.

Phil and Jayne Schauer, Pipsqueak and Me Antiques, Janesville exhibit in Booth #55 in the center hallway between the North and South Halls. There you will find unusual pieces including furniture (often with original surface), folk art, and Native American objects.

So many of the WADA dealers devote their free time to charitable causes. Kathy Bruce, Willow Works, Germantown, in Booth 8, is no exception. She will be offering the Saul Henkle Family Register Sampler dated 1822. The proceeds from the sale will benefit the Washington County Humane Society where she and her husband are regular volunteers.

Ready, Set, GO! Get a head start on the competition . . .

Go to <http://www.wisconsinantiquesdealers.com> and click on "Show Preview" to see pictures of these items plus a small sampling of other dealers' offerings.

Every glimpse will take you farther into the past!

Wander the three large rooms filled with the wares of 55 hand-picked dealers from 9 states! The Waukesha County Expo Center's Forum Building, 1000 Northview Road, Waukesha, WI 53188, is the home of this semi-annual event. Show hours are Friday, October 6, 10-8 and Saturday, October 7, 10-5. In addition to the good food customers have come to expect, a traditional Wisconsin Fish Fry will be served late Friday afternoon and evening so bring your appetite! As an added bonus visit "Pauline Pottery & Her Clay Kin" and learn how to spot Rock County, Wisconsin pottery that was made in the late 1800s and very early 1900s.

Antiques, Art 'N Treasures, Virginia Hallett, Booth #47 is saving this Czech glass lamp for the show along with a charming framed porcelain painting of two children.

Weather Vane Antiques, Phil & Shirley Klamm, Booth #15, An antiques hat form becomes art!

Pipsqueak & Me Antiques, Phil & Jayne Schauer, Booth #55 will offer this fan window in old grey paint, folk art, Native American baskets, and more. The Schauers will also be on hand to answer questions about Rock County, Wisconsin pottery in WADA's free special exhibit, "Pauline Pottery & Her Clay Kin".
