Stanton's Huge Music Machine Auction Held in Michigan

Article & photos by Steve Stanton

The 3-day auction was held in Charlotte, Michigan on November 16th, 17th, and 18th selling nearly 1,486 lots of antique automatic music machines and related items of all types. Stanton's Specialized Auctions of this type take place each spring and fall, in addition to their schedule of nearly 175 other auctions held annually.

The auction brought in onsite participants from 21 states, 4 Canadian Provinces, as well as active online and phone bidding from across North America, Europe, New Zealand, and the world.

One of the Regina Automatic changing music boxes, one of these with stained and leaded glass sold for $12,650.

Victor VV-XVIII with Vernis Martin decorated case brought $9,350.

Excellent Reginaphone Model 240 with Lions Heads in a rare oak cabinet sold for $13,475.

Symphonion Triple-Disc Eroica upright music box brought an impressive $19,800.

Wintry Punch Greet Visitors & Vendors at Semi-Annual Chicagoland Antique Advertising, Slot Machine & Jukebox Show

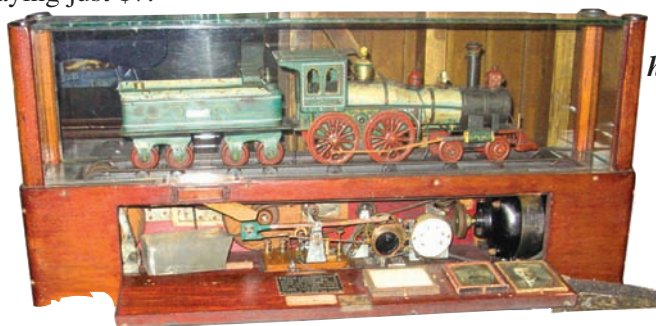

Article & photos by Jack Kelly

Old Man Winter delivered a nasty punch of chilly temperatures for the semi-annual Chicagoland Antique Advertising Slot Machine and Jukebox Show at Pheasant Run Resort, in St. Charles, Ill. On Nov. 10-12. Hundreds of early-morning buyers armed with flashlights and winter gear swarmed the parking lot before dawn on Friday, Nov. 10, looking for bargains. Some then moved inside for early buying at 7 a.m., with visitors laying down a $50 fee for early entry at the Hotel Mega Center and ballroom. More frugal visitors opted for general admission on Saturday and Sunday, paying just $7.

Frank Zygmunt Jr., of Westmont, Illinois, showed off a 1910 Caille coin op gambling machine priced at $15,000. 630-985-2742

"It's the only example known," said Paul Hinden of Mequon, Wisconsin, attaching a price tag of $17,500 on his Miles-Hi porcelain vending machine. 262-242-3131

"I love it," blurted out one shopper, pointing to a restored 1940s Model 27 Coca-Cola machine that could cool pop at your place for one dime -- $3,900. 702-690-7700.

A two-foot-long metal constructed handmade coin-operated locomotive shown by Alex Warschaw of Phoenix, Arizona, could operate at your place with a coin - and $25,000. 480-227-4742.

Antiques & Appraising School Releases Data On Top Selling Items

The latest results from the Asheford Institute Of Antiques survey of buying trends within the antiques and collectibles community were recently published online this past week by the school's Research & Polling Department.

After conducting similar surveys over the past five years, the internationally recognized home-study school on antiques, collectibles and appraising, released its latest trending data from the antiques marketplace for the 2016 year. The survey, which concentrated on compiling and grouping information related to customers buying habits over a twelve month period, was brought back this year after a strong response on the school's website from readers requesting updates from previous surveys, said current Director of the Institute, Charles Green. He went on to note that there were some interesting differences between the results from this poll, and those from previous years. "We've made our questionnaire sharper, and more specific, as well as bringing the participant base up to over 1,200 respondents, but the questions are still essentially the same," said Green, "even though the answers are quite different."

Carlee Jackson, the school's public relations director agreed with Mr. Green's assessment, and stated that the main goal of this year's survey was to once again measure the interest in current trends of antiques and collectibles, based on actual sales results and requests for specific items.

She noted that while the survey was informal in nature, and not predicated on scientific formulas, the results were still quite compelling when viewed in their entirety. "What we're seeing is a strong change in direction when it comes to certain areas of the decorative arts..." said Jackson, "It's not just Mid-century modern that's moving, but a number of other areas that are also making up ground." Jackson went on to note that interest in 1960's and 70's collectibles, particularly space and Star Wars related items, had also risen sharply as well. "There's no doubt in my mind that these are the new younger collectors that we're seeing today," said Carlee. "They're the one's who are really beginning to drive the industry forward."

Aside from the popularity of Mid-century modern furniture, many of the younger dealers from the survey also noted that literally anything twentieth-century, from brutalist metal sculptures to lesser known painters had also become increasingly sought after by both dealers and collectors. "We're in a virtual bidding war every time something from this era comes up," said Shannon Smith, a young east coast dealer. "Honestly, sometimes I wonder if it's worth all the fuss!"

Older dealers seemed to echo a similar sentiment, but indicated that there were other areas of the market that were beginning to show signs of renewed interest, particularly in the area of Greek and Egyptian revival styles - especially when done in stone and marble. Claude Paquin, a longtime dealer from Quebec, said some of his Victorian marble-top side tables, which hadn't moved in years, were suddenly flying out the door. "Who knows," said Paquin, "...maybe it's the beginning of something old!"

For readers wanting to view the full results of the Institute's survey, you can find them online at the school's Student News page at: <http://www.asheford.com/2016-survey-results.html>

Out & About Happy New Year!

We hope everyone had a wonderful Christmas holiday.

As most of you know, this is our first paper back after our holiday break. We hope that you took some time to take in an auction, show or visit a antique shop over our break. Please always let our advertisers know where you saw their ad. This helps them know their advertising dollar is working for them, as well as us. There are many upcoming events before Valentines, so keep that sweetheart in mind.

Mekenzy is home for the holidays but works almost the whole time from 5am to 2pm. Tia comes home for five days and then goes back to school to work on campus for her 5 weeks off. With everyone working, we don't get to spend much time together, but we plan to do some family events. Otherwise, the girls mostly want to get as much sleep as possible. Their number one complaint for college is: 1) it is loud all hours of the night 2) kids have to learn to cook so they don't set off the fire alarm. So we let them sleep as much as possible.

When Out and About this weekend, be sure to check out:

MNM Antique Mall is having their Holiday Sale Now through Sunday, December 31st. Located at 501-A South Fulton Street, Princeton, Wisconsin. See their ad in this week's issue of Auction Action Antique News.

Roscoe Antique Mall is Pizza-A-Go-Go on Saturday, December 31st. Located at Roscoe Antique Mall, 1019 Gardner Street in South Beloit, Illinois. See upcoming events for more information.

Pedal Pushers is having their Holiday Season Sale Now through the end of January. Located at 220 Bohemia Drive, Denmark, Wisconsin. See their ad in this week's issue of Auction Action Antique News.

Fox Lake Country Antique Mall is having their Post Christmas Storewide Sale on Tuesday, December 26th through Monday, January 1st. Located at Fox Lake Country Antique Mall, 201 North Fowler Street, Oconomowoc, Wisconsin. See their ad in last week's issue of Auction Action Antique News.

Waukesha Antique Mall is having their Annual Dealer Dicker Day Sale on Monday, January 1st. Located at Waukesha Antique Mall, 1427 East Racine Avenue, Waukesha, Wisconsin. See their ad in last week's issue of Auction Action Antique News.

Memories Antique Mall is having their Annual New Year's Day Sale on Monday, January 1st. Located at Memories Antique Mall, 400 Randolph Drive, Appleton, Wisconsin. See their ad in last week's issue of Auction Action Antique News.

Mark your calendars for:

Janesville Mid-Winter Antique Show & Sale on Saturday, January 6th & Sunday, January 7th. Located at Pontiac Convention Center in Janesville, Wisconsin. See upcoming events for more information.

Prime Promotions Metro Antiques & Collectibles Winter Show on Saturday, January 13th & Sunday, January 14th. Located at Minnesota State Fairgrounds in St. Paul, Minnesota. See upcoming events for more information.

My friends and I went bell ringing for our club on campus called Cru. We all sang Christmas carols while ringing the bells. Customers would stop and join along too sometimes, which was the best part. After bell ringing, my friends and I went to our house for a homemade spaghetti dinner made by my mother and off we went to a hockey game. Some of my friends haven't seen a hockey game before so there reactions were priceless.

Fantastic Finds at the Chicagoland Antique Advertising, Slot Machine & Jukebox Show

Article & Photos by Jack Kelly

B.J. Pawlaczyk's 1914 Lockwood-Ash outboard motor made in Jackson, Mich., was priced at $4,500. 989-326-0727.

Once again a heavy mix of antique advertising items were joined by all forms of coin-operated gambling, vending and other machines, all with a wide range of prices.

Frank Zygmunt Jr., of Westmont, IL., said, "I think Dad was directing me" as he pointed to a 1910 Caille Jockey coin-op. gambling machine he discovered hidden away on the top shelf of a closet while cleaning out his late father's home after selling it. Zygmunt's father, a well-known worldwide coin op machine vendor, passed away after many years of setting up at the Chicago Show. "I never knew it was there," said Zygmunt, placing a price tag of $15,000 on the device.

He also pointed with pride to a seldom-seen 1908 cast iron Fey Little Chief spinning wheel face coin-op slot machine he recently purchased and presented at the show for display only.

"This is always my first stop for some real show-stoppers" said one visitor, rubbing this hands together and walking into the sprawling 10-booth layout of Bill Rawski of Zap Props, Chicago. Many people stopped to gawk at, and try out, Rawski's 30" long coin-operated Terrestrialscope Telescope with cast iron and aluminum stand, complete with three steps to reach the eyepiece. "The timer lets the viewer see the craters on the moon for just one thin dime," Rawski said. He priced the oddball device at $12,000. Advertising collectors checked out his five different countertop "bullet light" advertising signs, priced from $3,500 to $8,500 each.

Asked at the end of the show if the event was a good one, veteran dealer John Papa of Mayfield, N.Y., blurted out, "Oh my God, I brought 54 jukeboxes and have only five left!" Two favorites included a 1947 AMI Model A showy "mother of plastic" that could be played at home for $2,500. Others "oohed and ahed" over his 1946 Filben Maestro priced at $8,500.

The two Wisconsin dealers known for rare finds again set up across the aisle from each other and again offered show stoppers.

"It's the only example known," said Paul Hindin of Mequon, Wis., pointing to a 1927 18" tall Miles-Hi porcelain vending machine priced at $17,500. At the same spot, a French Electra early 1900s 16" tall coin-operated shooting gun game with ornate etched glass and wood case. It could test your marksmanship for $12,500.

"Try to lift it," Jack Freund of Springfield, WI, said with a smile as he pointed to his rare 15" tall early 1900s Advance cast iron peanut machine. He estimated the weight at 20 to 30 pounds and noted a price sticker reading $16,500. The dealer said he purchased the rare machine from someone who "bought it at a garage sale for $15" and quickly added, "I paid them a whole lot more than that!" Freund also pointed out his "most ornate of all vending machines," a 17-inch-tall Leebolt peanut vendor priced at $4,995.

Everything from gambling and coin-op "real photo" postcards to actual gambling machines filled the booth of Bud Meyer and Steve McCormick, who traveled to the show from Castro Valley, Calif. Collectors had a choice of two 1930s Rol-a-Top slot machines, both priced at $3,500 each and more than 100 pre-1920s gambling theme postcards.

Vintage coin-operated Coca-Cola vending machines are always a show favorite and Greg Bookout of G & Y Amazing Finds pointed with pride to his restored 1940s Model 27, with open leg stand, that could cool pop at your home for one dime, and $3,900. At the same spot, foot traffic stopped to check out a restored full-size Pluto Cartoon figure coin-operated kiddie ride priced at $8,950.

Once again, the Chicago show was a family affair for many -- some coming to buy, some to sell, and some to just to browse through the offerings.

Twenty-nine year-old Nick Carini said he has been collecting for 18 years, and he set up at the show with his father John, both from Milwaukee. Nick pointed with pride to his latest find, a penny-operated 1934 cast iron and aluminum Little King peanut vendor, part of his "personal collection." Bank collectors stopped at the Carini booth to admire a pair of 2 1/2 inch celluloid advertising coin banks, circa 1920s, priced at $200 each.

John Carini also signed and sold copies of his "Pocket Guide to Coin-op Vending Machines" a 160 page soft cover book, chock full of color photos.

Both father and son said they enjoyed buying and selling at the Chicagoland show.

"She started assisting me with coin-op stuff and selling hot dogs 26 years ago," said dealer George Kesely of Munster, Ind., smiling proudly at daughter Kristina. Did her training bear fruit? She stopped to visit her father at the November show and offered her business card, "Kristina Kesely Phd., Chemistry, Lafayette, Ind." She added that her job now is in "virus research, trying to engineer a vaccine for MERS and SARS." Both father and daughter sported identical coin-op collecting T-shirts - but they offered no hot dogs this time!

Dealer Nathan Lippe of Hanover Park, Ill., featured a booth full of vintage advertising signs and was once again assisted by daughters Hanna, age 4 1/2, and Charlotte 7. The small fry said their favorite was a die-cut tin Bunny Bread advertising sign priced at $675 almost as tall as they are.

Another repeat from last show, Dad-and-Lad shoppers Shawn Flock and son Orrin, 14, drove 4 hours to Chicagoland from Hesperia, MI, "bagging several bargains." The young man's treasures included a 10-cent aspirin vendor, a Vendorama and Perk-Up coin op machines.

The resort hotel sponsored wintertime activities at Pheasant Run Resort, are always popular with show attendant families who wanting to take a break. The popular indoor-outdoor hotel year-around swimming pool which allows swimmers inside to dive under a partial wall and poke their heads outside for a moment was enjoyed by many.

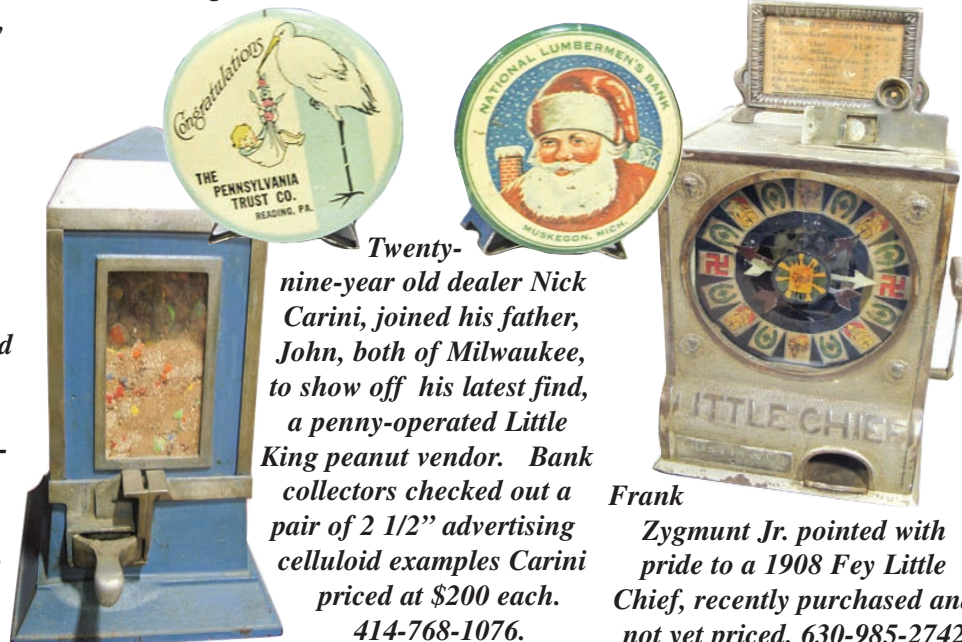

And, the heated covered walk way between the Mega Center, Ballroom made for toasty travel between the two show locations.

Collectors and shoppers will meet again April 6-8, 2018, at Pheasant Run in St. Charles, Ill., for the semi-annual show.

Dealers can get information from co-promoter Bob Traynoff at 1-847-244-9263. Show information is available from co-promoter Kevin Greco at 1-815-353-1593 and at www.chicagolandshow.com

Twenty-nine-year old dealer Nick Carini, joined his father, John, both of Milwaukee, to show off his latest find, a penny-operated Little King peanut vendor. Bank collectors checked out a pair of 2 1/2" advertising celluloid examples Carini priced at $200 each. 414-768-1076.

Frank Zygmunt Jr. pointed with pride to a 1908 Fey Little Chief, recently purchased and not yet priced. 630-985-2742

Bill Rawski of Zap Props, Chicago, checks out the view offered by his 10-cent coin-operated telescope -- which could view the moon at your place for $12,000. Many stopped to admire his bullet light signs priced $3,500 to $8,500 each. 1-773-848-0120.

Browsers admired Paul Hinden's 1900s

French coin-op shooting gun priced at $12,500. 262-242-3131

John Papa of Mayfield, N.Y. pauses for a moment with three of the jukeboxes. He said he sold more than 50 of the coin-operated music machines at the Chicagoland Show. johnpoppa@frontiernet.net

A rare early 1900s cast iron Advance peanut vending machine that dealer Jack Friend said weighed 20-30 pounds could be displayed at your place for $16,500. 262-723-7341.

Steve McCormick of Castro Valley, Calif., makes an "antique phone call" between the two slot machines shown by fellow dealer Bud Meyer of the same city. 510-582-8039.

A 7" tall cast iron copper flashed early 1900s cigar tip cutter that hands the customer a match - while snipping the cigar tip -- was priced at $1,450 by Robert Wendland of Stevensville, Mich. Coin op arcade collectors checked out his 1895 cast iron Mutoscope Indian clamshell machine priced at $18,500. 269-422-2983.

Dad and lad shoppers Shawn Flock and 14-year-old son Orrin show off the 10-cent aspirin vendor that the young collector purchased at the show. 231-854-2209.

Neon collectors hovered around the booth of Nathan Lippe, checking out his 1940s 35 x 57 example tagged $3,500. 630-390-8486.

George Kesely of Munster, Ind., shows a coin-operated trade stimulator to daughter Kristina, who started selling at the Chicagoland Show with her father when she was only five years old - she's now a chemistry PhD. 219-836-0720.

Four and a half-year-old Hanna and 7 year old Charlotte show off a tin Bunny Bread advertising sign, priced at $675, while assisting their father, Nathan Lippe of Hanover Park, Ill. 630-390-8486.

Au Gres, Mich., dealer B.J. Pawlaczyc positions a 1940s Janzen swim suit model priced at $2,500. 989-326-0727.

Several walls of late 1800s to 1930s coin-op machines priced from $1,000 to $8,000 each filled the booth of Tom Tolworthy. The collector said many more filled his 9,500 foot home - and 3,000 square foot carriage house! 201-832-2676.

A 10 x 18-inch light-up Reddy Kilowatt sign carried a price tag of $950 at the booth of Tom and Josefina Briscoe, Onamia, Minn. The couple also displayed a 1950s cardboard Kist Soda Pop advertising sign that could hang up at your place for $745.

"Mark it sold" said John Mahar of Saginaw, Mich., pointing to his penny operated early Japanese Ball coin-op machine - made in the USA! The dealer used his $5,500 Victory Center pull 1920s slot machine as an arm rest during the show.

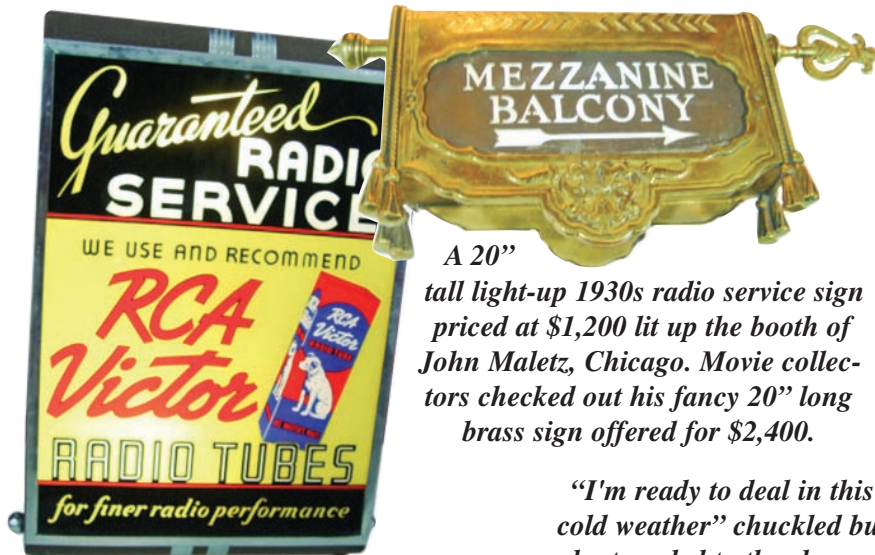

Scale dealer Bill Berning of Genoa, Ill., (right) adjusts a Watling coin-operated scale for a customer at the show. The dealer, along with wife Jan, have been setting up at the show since the 1980s. 815-784-3134.

"I love old advertising thermometers" said Keith Stelter of Buchanan, Mich., as he set up his booth at the show with assistance from wife Tammie.

Sophia Ruffino age 4 and brother Joey, age 7 visiting the show with mom and dad, from St. Louis, Mo., test the restored vintage rides on display by Ride Restorations, Chadwick, Ill. The 1940s rocket was priced at $2,450 and Ride the Lion, $2,950.

A 20" tall light-up 1930s radio service sign priced at $1,200 lit up the booth of John Maletz, Chicago. Movie collectors checked out his fancy 20" long brass sign offered for $2,400.

"I'm ready to deal in this cold weather" chuckled bundled up Bill Weller of Sylvan Springs, Ala., who traveled to the show with a truck load of jukeboxes. 205-497-2327.

Collector Bill Howard of Akron, Ohio hams it up smooching the head of Laughing Sal, an amusement park figure. Howard purchased the oddball piece at the show saying "it's a gift for my wife."

A jewelry selling booth at the Chicagoland Show? "Yes, and doing very well" said Jo Addie of Lagrange Park, Ill., with a smile. The dealer has been setting up for 5 years at Pheasant Run. 708-579-3749.

Collectors Trade Show - Serving Clubs and Collectors

The "Collectors Trade Show" on the Collectors.Org website is designed to serve the needs of both collecting clubs and collectors, offering aisles of vendors featuring products and services of interest to collectors and to the leadership of collecting clubs.

Collectors.Org is the official website of both the National Association of Collectors(NAC) and the Association of Collecting Clubs(ACC). ACC works with over 2400 collecting clubs on six continents. NAC is for individual collectors, identifying and addressing those needs and concerns that are common to all collectors.

The Collectors Trade Show can be reached directly at:
<http://tradeshow.collectors.org>

Collectors will find vendors offering everything from shipping supplies to display cases...alarm systems to price guides...collector software to training courses...appraisal or restoration services and much more.

The leadership of collecting clubs will find vendors with customized logo merchandise, membership incentives and club management tools, event planning, convention sites or meeting facilities, printing options and internet services.

Other aisles feature auction houses, antique malls and galleries, collectibles shows, flea markets, and specialty aisles for specific types of collecting.

The Collectors Trade Show is always open...7 days a week...24 hours a day. Many vendors offer collectors special discounts if they are a member of an ACC member club or an NAC member.

A potential vendor wishing to have a display booth in the Collectors Trade Show can get information by contacting ACC/NAC at: info@collectors.org or 301.926.8663. A display booth can feature your full line of products or services with direct links to your own website. A booth costs $100/year and includes development of the booth based on your own website or materials provided - at no additional cost.

West Bend Antique & Fine Art Show

Article & Photos by Larry Kaczmarek
(Village Blacksmith Antiques)

West Bend Antique & Fine Art Show slated for

Friday, January 19th from 11:00 am-7:00 pm

Saturday, January 20th from 9:00 am-4:00 pm

The West Bend show and sale is a two-day event held at the beautiful Washington County Fair Complex. Admission is $5 good for both days of the sale. Children under 16 are free and parents are encouraged to bring their family along. Strollers and wheelchairs are welcome. The building is handicap accessible. Parking is free. Food and beverage will be available from Bryan's Catering.

One of the exciting events at the show is a Scavenger Hunt. Special antiques from Larry's personal stock are hidden in plain sight in each booth. Every hour a photo of an item is revealed. Whoever finds the item gets to keep it, and wins a small prize. Not only is it a fun way to engage children, it also gets the adults to visit every booth at the show.

One thing about the show is the outstanding quality and variety of dealers who sell at the West Bend Show. The event features knowledgeable and friendly dealers showcasing antiques and collectibles from Mid-Century Modern to Art Deco and Mission; from Country Primitives to Art Nouveau and Victorian. The array of merchandise for sale includes furniture, clocks, home decor, garden, decorative art, glassware, hand woven carpets & rugs, Native American, maps, linens & quilts, toys, sporting goods, advertising, fine art and jewelry displayed in 55 attractively designed booths.

"The West Bend Antique Show is a family-oriented event that encourages adults and youth to explore, discover, learn about and even own a piece of the past. These items were used and cherished by our ancestors," says Kaczmarek. "We can teach our children to appreciate old things by showing them that an antique show is more of a treasure hunt, if you will. The workmanship and beauty of some of these items make them real treasures."

"For example, just give a child a marble and a flashlight and show him how to use the flashlight to see the beauty glowing inside a tiny little marble and watch his face light up,"

42nd Annual Janesville Mid-Winter Antique Show To Be Held January 6-7th, 2018

Article by Steve Bina

Janesville's beautiful Pontiac Convention Center will once again be the site of the 42nd Annual Janesville Mid-Winter Antique Show and Sale. This year's show will be held on Jan. 6-7, 2018 at Janesville's Pontiac Convention Center. Show hours are Saturday, January 6 from 9:00 AM to 5:00 PM and Sunday, January 7 from 10:00 AM to 3:30 PM.

Whether you're looking for that hard to find furniture piece, a distinctive item to decorate your home or office, a special gift, or that difficult to get to item to add to your collection, this is the place to be! 35 quality dealers will be on hand offering a wide variety of quality and interesting antiques and collectibles including furniture, vintage and mid-century items, fine costume and estate jewelry, coins, stoneware, tools, glass, fine art, toys, primitives, art pottery, advertising, post cards, linens, sporting items, vintage clothing, and much more.

If you're curious about the show, visit our new Facebook page : "Janesville Mid-Winter Antique Show", which has many pictures of last year's show, additional information, and pictures of new items coming to this year's show. Feel free to post a comment and "Like" our page.

New to the show will be Old Hickory Antiques from Joliet, IL. They are bringing a dazzling array of fine crystal including Lalique, Waterford, Sabino, cut-glass, and more. Dayspring

Times Treasures: Beautiful hair combs.

Collectables from Ackley, IA will be bringing a general line of interesting items including hard to find collectable marbles.

Returning again to the show will be Mary Lou's Crystal and China Repair. Mary Lou and her husband Bob are experts at repairing and re-assembling crystal and china and can do so while you shop or you can drop off your pieces and return later for pickup.

Bronze and other metal items brought by Times Treasures.

Gaming Wheel by Victorian House Antiques.

Admission to the show is $5.00 which covers both days of the show with 16 and under free. Bring our post card or clip our print ads for an additional 50 cents off. The Pontiac Center is located at 2809 North Pontiac Drive in Janesville Wisconsin and is just a short distance from Interstate 90. Customers coming from outside of the Janesville area should exit I-90 at 171 B onto US14 west. Proceed west one block to Pontiac Drive and turn left one block to the show.

Manager Steve Bina commented, "This event is a great post holidays tradition in Janesville and a fun way to unwind from the stress of the holidays. Families are welcome, so bring the kids!" Best Events Catering will be back providing food throughout the event, so come for the antiques and stay for lunch.

For additional information about the show, feel free to contact show Manager Steve Bina at (608)-385-3598.

Blackwolf Antiques will be displaying a large selection of fine gold and sterling items.

Fantastic Pieces - Fantastic Prices at Stanton's Music Machine Auction in November

Article & Photos by Steven Stanton

The collections sold came from various Estates, private collectors and Museums across the United States and Canada. Owner Steve Stanton mentioned that their travels in acquiring the collections had found them on the east and west coast, as well as the southwest and southeast parts of the United States, in addition to their central and Midwest travel and pickup schedules. It was estimated that over 26,000 miles had been logged in acquiring the collections, and preparing the near 1,500 lots for the auction through cataloging, photography, and advertising work during the five months prior to the auction.

The sale produced many unique and unusual pieces including a Rare and Original Encore Player Banjo that was in good working order, is sold for $36,300; A Symphonion triple-disc upright music box in an oak cabinet sold for $19,800; 4 Regina automatic changing music boxes sold from $6,500 to $12,650 (depending on condition and model), a Rare Reginaphone Style 240 console model with Lions heads in an oak cabinet $13,475; One of the finest collection of high-end Victor floor model phonographs was offered from a collection in Tennessee with a Victrola VV-XVIII in a Vernis Martin decorated cabinet bringing $9,350; 2 Victrola VV-XX sold for $7,870 and $5,500 respectively; Three Asian decorated floor model Victor's found new homes at $5,247; $6,050, and $880; A Mills Violano Virtuoso (player violin) from the William Robson Estate near San Jose, California had been completely disassembled and was sold in pieces for $3,498. It was to be completely restored, but the party never completed the project. A Seeburg KT (Eagle) nickelodeon (not working) brought $5,247, while a Seeburg KT Special in incomplete and poor condition sold for $3,025; A rare Victor V in mahogany (as most were oak) with rounded corners sold for $6,050; A butterscotch Catalin or Bakelite radio brought $1,210; Nearly $750,000.00 of music machines and related items sold to new buyers during the event.

To a first-time attendee the offering was staggering. There were approximately 200 phonographs, 100 horned machines, 40 wooden horn machines, 50-75 music boxes, 20 juke boxes, coin operated vending machines, slot machines, radio's, talking dolls, signage, cylinder and disc records, fantastic record storage cabinets with the better Herzog and Salter cabinets selling from $1,000 - $4,000 each, The Goldin Estate from Toronto produced a huge group of Needle tins that sold to an excited group of collectors, and the Hamilton Estate from Phoenix, Arizona did the same with the collection of cylinder records.

The complete catalog with nearly 800 pictures and prices received can be found on Stanton's Auctioneers website at www.stantons-auctions.com. Steven E. Stanton, and Auctioneer Michael C. Bleisch are presently working on their spring auction that will be held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 26, 27, & 28, 2018 on the Barry County Fairgrounds in Hastings, Michigan. Collections, Estates and consignments are now being accepted for this event. Contact Steven E. Stanton, at 517-331-8150, or Email - stevenEstanton@gmail.com or Email - stantonsauctions@sbcglobal.net for additional information and travel schedule.

"The Marketing of Tobacco" A Special Exhibit at the 44th Winter WADA Antiques Show

Article & Photos by Debbie McArdle with Lee Bernard & Henry Hecker
Photos by Lee Bernard & Henry Hecker

Folks familiar with the semi-annual shows produced by the Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association, aka WADA, are familiar with Lee Bernard Antiques, Jackson, Wisconsin. In recent years Lee, along with his wife Roxanne, have exhibited in Booth 3 at the WADA shows, but this February Lee will ALSO exhibit his tobacco advertising collection in WADA's Special Exhibit Booth just around the corner from the show's entrance. Joining Lee, long-time collector Henry Hecker who will also share very special examples of tobacco advertising from his own collection.

"The Marketing of Tobacco" is a free exhibit for those who attend the 44th Winter Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association Show & Sale at the Waukesha County Expo Center in suburban Milwaukee. Come see the rarity, quality and variety of objects assembled by these top collectors of "Tobacciana". Henry Hecker and Lee Bernard will be on hand both days to answer questions and to share their knowledge of this fascinating field.

Tobacco Advertising 101:

Native Americans introduced tobacco to the first European settlers in the early 1600's. Traders returned to Europe with tobacco plants from the Americas and, thus, the craving for a new commodity was born!

Henry provided some background on the earliest tobacco advertising. "Paper and wood were undoubtedly used several hundred years ago to advertise tobacco. While it is likely simple ads in newspapers and postings of broadsides began long before the mid-nineteenth century, the real explosion in graphics marketing occurred in the last quarter of the 1800's. With the advent of sophisticated lithography on both tin and card stock, manufacturers of tobacco products employed every conceivable image and narrative in advertising and packaging. Images of attractive women were the most commonly used to gain the attention of a predominantly male customer base. Often the women were displayed in, what was considered at that time, a very risqué manner. But cigar box labels covered the gambit: politicians and war heroes, sports figures and sportsmen, race horses, actors and actresses, fanciful depictions from literature and mythology, and holidays (especially Christmas and New Years). Native Americans and African Americans were commonly depicted often in less-than-complimentary ways that are today considered politically incorrect, if not downright racially discriminating. Inducement to use the product was, therefore, by association with vividly-depicted references of sex appeal, heroism, outdoors life, sports talent, literary knowledge, etc., all designed to appeal to the male gender.

Inducement to use the product was, therefore, by association with vividly-depicted references of sex appeal, heroism, outdoors life, sports talent, literary knowledge, etc., all designed to appeal to the male gender.

"Early on a segment of the public realized there was circumstantial evidence to health risks of smoking. The noted Hall of Fame baseball player, Honus Wagner, halted the sale of his tobacco baseball cards because of his concern about young people using the product. However, as the large tobacco companies emerged in the 20th century, more ruthless and deceptive marketing became common place actually claiming health benefits of smoking and the denial of health damaging effects of tobacco. Eventually this resulted in governmental regulation with warning labels and the ban on television ads for smoking materials. Recall the 'Marlboro Man' ads of the 1950's-60s. Tragically, several of these actors succumbed to lung cancer because of their loyalty to the products they pitched."

How did the collections start?

Lee began collecting tobacciana a scant five years ago, illustrating there's plenty of fine examples available. About his first acquisition he says, "I bought a colorful tobacco tin, Buckingham Cut Plug, with the intention of selling it; but I really liked it, so I kept it. That was the start of my collection of cigar & other tobacco related items. The great graphics on the old tins & boxes appeals to me & the hunt for items to add to my collection is fun & interesting." Lee's favorite piece is a colorful Possum cigar tin. "Who would want to smoke a cigar out of a tin with an opossum on it?" Lee asks!

Henry's been collecting cigar boxes for about 25 years, focusing mostly on Wisconsin cigar makers but also boxes with great graphics. Henry says, "My first purchase was a box from the Henry Castenholz saloon in Milwaukee, probably from his sample room.

Castenholz also bottled beer for a time; the reason I acquired the box as a brewery 'go-with'. This was way before I purposely started collecting cigar boxes. Ironically I bought the box from Lee Bernard!" Henry's favorite piece is a small Milwaukee Stock Yards Christmas box with Santa on it; he's never seen another, the survival rate of such boxes is so low.

Words of wisdom? Henry notes the field has gained popularity in the last 10 years and good boxes are commanding strong prices, becoming hard to find. Henry recommends, "Buy what you like and you can always upgrade later. Base your purchases, first and foremost, on good graphics and condition. Pick a theme, otherwise your collection can become unwieldy and consume too much space." Lee adds, "Buy the best you can afford - it's better to buy one $20 tin than four $5 tins. Educate yourself on the subject by attending antiques shows, talking with knowledgeable dealers, and studying books on the subject so you get a feel for what is available."

EXPECT THE UNUSUAL!

Henry and Lee will both be on hand to discuss antique tobacco advertising collecting. In addition, wander the show's three large rooms featuring everything from vintage holiday items to jewelry, to antique cupboards offered by 55 of the Midwest's top dealers from 9 states. The Waukesha County Expo Center's Forum Building, 1000 Northview Road, Waukesha, WI 53188, is the home of this semi-annual event. Show hours are Friday, 10-8 and Saturday, 10-5. In addition to the good food customers have come to expect, a traditional Wisconsin Fish Fry will be served late Friday afternoon and evening so bring your appetite!

Also at the show, antiques (more than 100 years old) and vintage (50-99 years old) items will be collected by the Friends of the Wisconsin Historical Society for their biennial "30th Star Benefit Antiques Auction". Tax deductible receipts will be provided to all donors. The Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association is proud to serve as the founding & continuing sponsor of this event since 2008 and has donated the booth for collection of objects for the fund-raising auction.

The Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association is a non-profit organization that produces two antiques shows annually. Your admission of $7.00 funds college scholarships as well as grants to Wisconsin historic and heritage groups. A $1.00 discount coupon for admission to the Antiques Show is available with any ad or at: www.WisconsinAntiquesDealers.com/ Free parking. ATM on premises.

This colorful Mi Lola humidor was suitable to become a permanent fixture in a home. An attractive container refilled, time after time, keeps the brand name in front of the smoker.

"Compliments of the Season" Cigar Box - a self-wrapped gift!
