Fantastic Fun Finds at Hack's Annual New Year's Day Auction

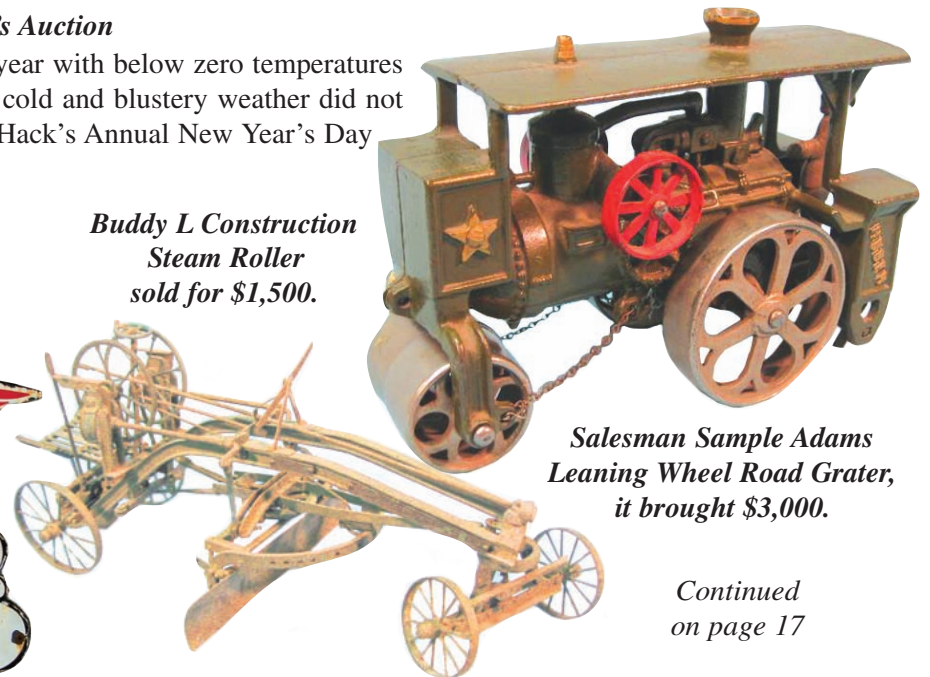

Article & photos by Hack's Auction

Hack's Auction started their first sale of the calendar year with below zero temperatures outside but the prices inside the antique center were hot. The cold and blustery weather did not stop the more than 300 registered buyers in attendance at the Hack's Annual New Year's Day Auction in Pecatonica, Illinois.

The 50th Anniversary Henry Decoy Show Sees A Great Turnout in Attendance

Article & photos by Tim Wilson

It was the 18th of February in Henry, Illinois where the 50th Anniversary Henry Decoy show took place. Inside the Henry-Senachwine High School, people flocked the booths to observe and search for what would trip their trigger. Dealers worked to answer anyone who had questions and, when the dealers were asked, had overall positive things to say about the attendance.

Out & About

Have a wonderful Easter Weekend
and April Fool's Day

Sounds like our Easter weekend won't be full of sunshine. Just the same, it will be full of smiling kids with their Easter baskets full. Tia and Brandon will be home to color eggs for our traditional Scotch Eggs that we make on Sunday. I was hoping for more sunshine to start putting out the patio furniture.

When Out and About this weekend, be sure to check out:

Antiques & Uniques is having their Egg Hunt on Saturday, March 31st.

The kids hunt from 1-3pm & the adults can pick up their surprise egg at the register. Located at Antiques & Uniques in Waukesha, Wisconsin. See their ad in this week's issue of Auction Action Antique News.

East State Antique Mall is having their Mall Wide Sales Now through Sunday, April 8th. Located at East State Antique Mall in Rockford, Illinois. See their ad in this week's issue of Auction Action Antique News.

Henry Decoy Show Celebrates 50th Anniversary

Article & photos by Tim Wilson

Although it is a decoy show, there was a good amount of waterfowl calls, books, magazines, wildlife art, and contemporary carvings and calls in the mix. You would've seen contemporary carved ducks by Don Allen, Dick LeMaster, Fred Traver, Ray Krahn, and more. There were people who made their own duck calls presenting at the show as well. There was a bit of the old, and a bit of the new to fit whatever preference people like to collect and/or use.

The show had amazing displays, but more than just the displays made the show. There were people like Ken Ingram, an excellent and well-known decoy maker, present at the event. Ken Ingram studied under the renowned Hector Whittington (carved from 1924-1981,) who rarely gave away tricks of the trade. Ingram started carving in 1971 and received his first ribbon when competing in 1972. Also, in 1972, Ingram met and befriended Dick LeMaster. LeMaster was one of the first pioneers to push the decoy artistry to the next level, and an author of books on decoys. Ingram then got his first blue ribbon in 1974, and his first Best of Show 1975. He then received Best of Show again in 1976 and 1977. He retired from the profession in 1978.

The show was held mainly in one large room, and some was displayed in the entrance to the event. There were around 90 display tables, and the admission was $6 a person. The first 250 people received a pin commemorating the show's 50th Anniversary. Children 12 and under were free. There was a raffle door prize of a Perdue-style decoy for one lucky winner, and food and drinks were available at the show.

For more information about the show you can visit their website at www.henrydecoyshow.com, or through email jasbelle@comcast.net, or by phone 312-316-7484.

Antiques & Appraising School Launches "New" e-Course

Article by Charles Green (Asheford Institute of Antiques)

The Asheford Institute of Antiques (AIA), a professional-level distance learning program on antiques, collectibles and appraising, recently rolled out its first ever online "e-Course," at an industry trade gathering earlier this month, in anticipation of the school's 50th anniversary to be held in New York later this year.

Described by school spokesperson Shelly Dumont, as a watershed moment for the Institute, Dumont said the school's first foray into e-learning was consistent with Asheford's innovative and groundbreaking teaching techniques employed over the last 50 years. "When we offer something new, we like to take the time to make sure it's done right," said Dumont at a Q & A session following the announcement.

When asked about the differences in curriculum between textbooks and the new e-Course format of the program, Dumont said there was literally no comparison. "In terms of sheer volume, it's almost double the size of the printed version, and comes loaded with interactive videos, multimedia-activities, web-based resource links, and a host of other features we simply can't add into the texts." Dumont went on to say that the e-Course had been in development for almost two years by the school's IT team, before any release dates were even considered.

Industry insiders attending the trade gathering were granted temporary passcodes to the e-Course, and were given full access to the programs options and features at a demonstration held during the event. Director of the school, Charles Green presided over the presentation, and noted during the unveiling, that the program had undergone almost a year of beta-testing by international students prior to its intended release in North America.

A statement issued from the school's Admissions Officer, Tony Drew seemed to indicate a "full" release date for the new e-Course to be some time in mid-July. "We don't want to rush it, but we're really pleased with the response so far," said Drew, "We think the e-Course is really going to be a game-changer when it comes to setting the bar for future antiques and appraising education." The press release went on to say that while the textbooks for the Asheford program were still available, they would likely be phased out in the next five to ten years.

For readers seeking more information about the school's new e-Course program, they can be contacted at: (877) 444-4508 or visit their web site at; www.asheford.com. You can also write to them at; the Asheford Institute of Antiques 981 Harbor Blvd., Suite 3, Dept. 275EC11 Destin, FL 32541-2525, or at their Canadian office at; 131 Bloor Street West, Suite 200, Dept. 124EC11 Toronto, ON M5S 1R8.

30th Star Benefit Antiques “Throwback” Auction

Article & Photos by Debbie McArdle (FRIENDS of the Wisconsin Historical Society)

~ No phone bidding ~ No online bidding ~ No reserves ~

Benefits Wisconsin Historic Sites

Preview Party: April 27, 2018

Benefit Auction: April 28, 2018

Time travel to Old World Wisconsin on Saturday morning, April 28, 2018. Stroll into 8-sided Clausing Barn built in 1897 and raise your hand to bid on an antique! This is an authentic, old-fashioned auction; no phone bidding, no online bidding, no reserves. Down to the last minute folks throughout the Midwest continue to donate antique and vintage objects worthy of attention; quilts, cupboards, scales, Victorian buggies, art, spinning wheels, dairy items, furniture, country store advertising and much more. The auction begins at 10 a.m. with doors opening for preview at 9 a.m.

A catalog of 200 of the auctions 350 lots will be available at Bailey's Honor Auctions: <http://baileyshonor.com/> Carol Miller, Auctioneer and Owner of Bailey's Honor in Oconomowoc, has, for the fourth time, graciously volunteered to call the auction. There is no charge to attend the auction and all items will be sold WITHOUT reserve. A 10% buyer's premium will be added to the hammer price, all to benefit Wisconsin's state historic sites. Absentee bids will be accepted until April 23, 2018. Contact Debbie McArdle at jjmcard@comcast.net or 815.575.1272 to place an absentee bid.

A Preview Party & Dinner (by reservation only) will take place at Old World Wisconsin's Clausing Barn on Friday, April 27, 2018, 4:30-9:00 pm. Festivities include a delicious dinner (baked/fried fish or veggie lasagna) and dessert; speaker Craig Pfannkuche, historian and part-time archaeologist, presenting “Digging Grandma's Privy”; a silent auction; door prizes; complimentary antiques appraisals; preview of the auction; and the opportunity to leave an absentee bid. For Friday night Preview Party tickets or information contact: Riene Wells at info@eaglehouse.com or 262.363.4700.

The Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association is the founding and continuing sponsor of this biennial event. They continue to provide a free booth at each of their shows where FRIENDS volunteers accept donations of antique and vintage items for their auctions. In addition WADA has provided their fifth grant to the FRIENDS of the Wisconsin Historical Society, the latest grant funding the restoration of portraits at Pendarvis State Historic Site of William Rudolf Smith and wife, Mary.

In 1839 Smith was appointed Adjutant General of the Wisconsin Territory by President Martin Van Buren and moved to Mineral Point. Holding various political offices, Smith was appointed the first President of Wisconsin's State Historical Society. WADA, founded in 1948, is a non-profit organization. The admissions charged at their February and October shows in Waukesha fund grant and scholarship programs. See www.WisconsinAntiquesDealers.com to learn more.

Prairie Wind Graphic Design's owner, Yvonne Wheeler, is another continuing sponsor, she providing the design and production of rack cards used to promote the event. Contact pwindesign@aol.com for more information.

For more detailed information about the auction or to learn more about the FRIENDS of the Wisconsin Historical Society, visit <http://friendswisconsinhistory.org/>

“Remember the Maine”, the 1898 sinking of the battleship “Maine” while on patrol in Havana Harbor is commemorated in the panel of this pressed-back chair.

Rare Stoughton, WI Area Decoys to be Featured in Member Display during the 53rd Annual North American Vintage Decoy & Sporting Collectibles Show in St. Charles, IL

Article & photos by Jeff Seregny
(Midwest Decoy Collectors Association)

This year's Member Display at the 53rd Annual North American Vintage Decoy & Sporting Collectibles Show will feature vintage decoys made in and around Stoughton, Wisconsin, a treasured canvasback hunting area (Lake Koshkonong) which drew attention from hunters and celebrities from all over the U.S. and abroad.

The work of well-known makers such as Enoch Reindahl, Ferd and Mandt Homme, Russell "Raz" Barry, and many others is sure to delight show attendees. What makes these men unique is that they were self-taught artists who were careful observers of nature. Reindahl, in particular, had photographic skills which helped him so accurately mimic the natural birds in his output. Today, collectors will pay as much as $50,000 for a single decoy by one of these masters.

Many of these makers were friends, which created a competitive fire as they tried to outdo each other. However, it was a friendly rivalry where they shared tips and techniques with each other, which continuously improved their work. Almost all of the carvings were true working decoys made for their makers or close friends, with very few miniatures or decorative carvings. Most of these carvers made fewer than 100 decoys so this is a rare opportunity to see these fine examples of their work. These pieces will be available for viewing Friday and Saturday in the Mega Center, following a week full of decoy and related sporting collectibles events.

The American Philatelic Society

About APS

With nearly 32,000 members in more than 110 countries, the APS is the largest, non-profit organization for stamp collectors in the world. Founded in 1886, the APS serves collectors, educators, postal historians, and the general public by providing a wide variety of programs and services.

The Society is entirely supported by membership dues, gifts, and the sale of publications, souvenirs, and services.

Our Mission:

- to promote stamp collecting for people of all ages
- to offer services to its membership and to philately in general, including knowledge and education, which enhance the pleasure and friendliness of stamp collecting
- to initiate and coordinate new programs for the benefit of stamp collecting and of all collectors
- to represent the United States of America in the world body of philately
- to assist its members in acquiring and disposing of philatelic materials

Society for Old Ivory and Ohme Porcelains

The Society for Old Ivory and Ohme Porcelains is an organization of collectors and dealers who admire and collect Old Ivory and Ohme Porcelains. The purpose of the Society is for the members to share information and educate themselves and the public about the history and beauty of these porcelains, promote the collecting of Old Ivory and Hermann Ohme porcelains, and to develop communications between those who collect these porcelain items.

The SOIOP website is clean looking and traditional looking in keeping with the character of the collecting area the Society represents. The homepage has representative photos of Old Ivory and Ohme porcelain pieces plus a side navigation bar.

There is a section on the history of Old Ivory and Ohme porcelains and some excellent segments with photos covering the types of porcelain, patterns and marks.

The site's sections on the Society, itself, and on their annual convention is almost secondary. This is an excellent reference site for both collectors and dealers, or for that person who just happens to own a piece of Old Ivory or Ohme porcelain and wants to know a little more about it.

The Cold Can't Keep Buyers Away from Hack's Hot New Year's Day Event in Pecatonica, Illinois

Article & photos by Hack's Auction

The extensive assemblage of 200 rare stoneware pieces from the late Warren Layng collection, early vintage toys and a wonderful selection of antiques brought buyers in from Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Indiana with absentee bids from California, Ohio, New York and Washington. The number of years for which the Annual New Year's Auction has been going is debated, nonetheless the 30th (or 31st) annual event saw some great pieces come across the auction block.

Hack's started more than 50 years ago when Henry and Nancy Hachmeister conducted their first auction for the First Congregational Church of Pecatonica in the June of 1961. Henry, known to most as "Hack", always had an interest in auctions. When the church needed someone to volunteer and sell a willed estate for the church, Henry readily accepted the job. Since that fateful day, Hack's has evolved into the premier auction company in northern Illinois. With more than 50 years of experience, Greg and Swan Hachmeister, Henry and Nancy's sons, are leading Hack's Auction into the future. Greg is a licensed auctioneer and real estate agent. Swan is a licensed auctioneer and real estate broker. With the assistance of sister Jody handling the advertising, Hack's Auction and Realty is truly a family operation.

Hack's Auction Antique Center is located at 400 W. Third St. in Pecatonica, IL. We can be reached at 815-239-1436. For available antiques and merchandise to bid for online and all upcoming auctions for Hack's Auction & Realty in 2018 please visit our website at hacksauction.com.

The April 22 Chicago Toy Show invites you to join in the fun. See toys and dolls from the past century, all available to become part of your collection. Unusual, rare, and unexpected items from 1900 through 2017 can be enjoyed in prime condition at remarkable prices. We feature handsome displays loved by children and now treasured by adults. Toys have character and charm which appeal to everyone. You cannot walk through this show without a smile on your face as you enjoy the playful inventory.

Toys were made to represent items from their world, but the toy versions were often “cuter” than the real sources with exaggerated proportions and brighter colors adding appeal. Toys were a playful version of the reality of the times. The essence of the past lives on, captured forever in the miniature playthings of each era.

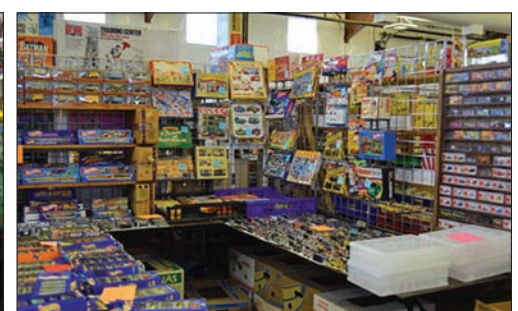

Collectors treasure their shelves and cabinets full of nostalgic memories. Such collections are usually the highlight of the room, attracting attention and fascination in the beauty and craftsmanship of each item. The toys become more valuable each year, more precious and harder to find. Toys and dolls are a marvelous investment, steadily increasing in desirability and in marketability. Autos, airplanes, rockets, action heroes, monsters, cartoon characters, dolls, games, whatever drew a child’s fancy, all a delight to behold and all carefully preserved by collectors.

The Chicago Toy show features over 600 exhibitors filling five toy buildings and two doll houses: 51,538 sq. ft. of toys and dolls in buildings with ceilings two-stories high, and 20,157 sq. ft. of toys and dolls in one-story buildings. You need to see and experience the show to absorb its magnificent and vast array of treasures.

You are invited to the Chicago Toy Show on Sunday, April 22, from 8:00am to 3:00pm at the Kane County Fairgrounds, 525 South River Rd in St Charles IL. Contact us at www.chicagotoyshow.com for information on floor rights or tables. FREE parking, adult admission is $10, and children are FREE.

Antiques School Releases List Of Top Sellers For 2017

The latest results from the Asheford Institute (a professional-level distance learning program on antiques, collectibles and appraising), recently published its annual survey of top buying trends within the antiques and collectibles community this past week.

The Institute, which has been conducting the industry related survey for over six years now, released its latest trending data on decorative arts sales for 2017 via a dedicated page on the school's web site. The survey, which focuses on compiling and grouping information related to customers buying habits over a twelve month period, came about as a result of strong interest from readers requesting updates from previous surveys, said current Director of the Institute, Charles Green. He went on to note that there were some interesting changes in the poll results this year. "Our questionnaire has become more detailed, resulting in answers that are more period and genre specific. We're really able to drill down now into the types of antiques and vintage items that are actually selling well within a 12 month period." Green also acknowledged that the increase in poll-participants (up 15% over last year), had led to more accurate survey numbers in regard to particular sales categories. "More data has simply given us better survey results," said Green.

The school's lead Poll Researcher, Tony Frey, echoed Mr. Green's sentiments and went on to say that the main goal of the Institute's survey was to provide meaningful analysis of measurable interest in current trends within the antiques and collectibles marketplace, based on actual sales results and requests for specific items from vendors.

Frey, who has worked on all six of the school's past polls, noted that while the survey was based on a general series of questions, and did not employ any standardized formulas, the overall results were still very revealing when looked at as a whole. "The shift in what's considered collectible is continuing to change, and at a more accelerated pace than ever before," said Frey. "For the last few years it's been Mid-century modern, but this year we're beginning to see some cracks in that crown."

Some of the other highlights from the poll included a resurgence of all things Western. "We're seeing a revitalized interest by the public in literally anything related to the American past and particularly the wild, wild west" said Frey. Other top sellers on the school's list include a few industry standards such as Star Wars items, space related toys from the 1960's and 70's, as well as automobilia and related mechanical items. Frey noted that just as in past polls, the most visible movement in collecting genres was being reported by younger dealers, who indicated that consumer tastes seemed to be trending towards virtually anything related to the latter half of the twentieth-century. "The reality is the younger collectors are the one's moving the ball forward now," said Frey, "the rest of us just appear to be along for the ride."

For readers wanting to view the full results of the Institute's survey, you can find them online at: <http://www.asheford.com/2017-survey-results.html>. For more information about the school's antiques and appraisal course, they can be contacted at: (877) 444-4508, or you can write to them at; the Asheford Institute of Antiques 981 Harbor Blvd., Suite 3, Dept. 275BNV8 Destin, FL 32541-2525 (Canadian Office: 131 Bloor Street West, Suite 200, Dept. 124BNV8 Toronto, ON M5S 1R8).
