Isanti County Fairgrounds Hosts 27th Annual Cambridge, Minnesota Antique Fair

Article & photos by Michelle Goltz

The Cambridge Antique Fair was held at the Isanti County Fairgrounds in Cambridge, Minnesota on August 4th & 5th was filled with hundreds of vendors showcasing a wide variety of antiques & vintage treasures, as well as other collectibles, souvenirs and much more. If you are looking for that special piece, this is the place to find it. Although the weather on Saturday was rainy, it didn't hold back the shoppers from making the rounds inside the buildings or to the outside tents. The proof of a great show is when you pull in the parking lot and you see lots of vehicles and people walking to their cars with their arms full.

Midwest Antique & Art Show On October 28th

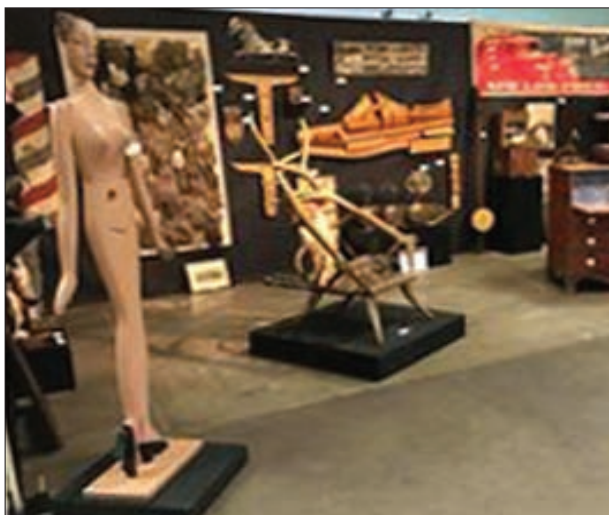

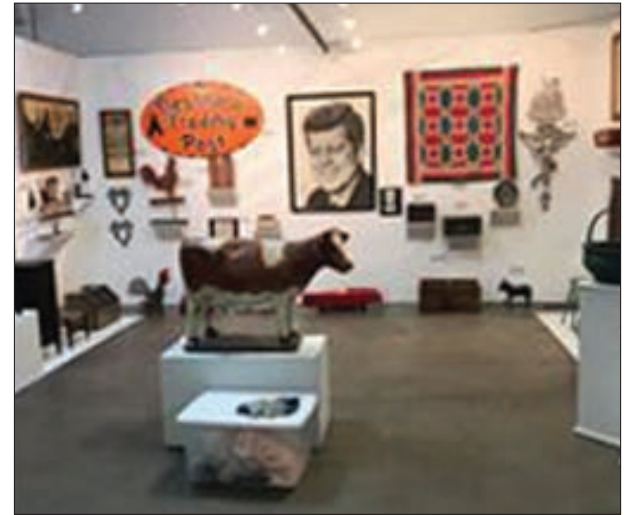

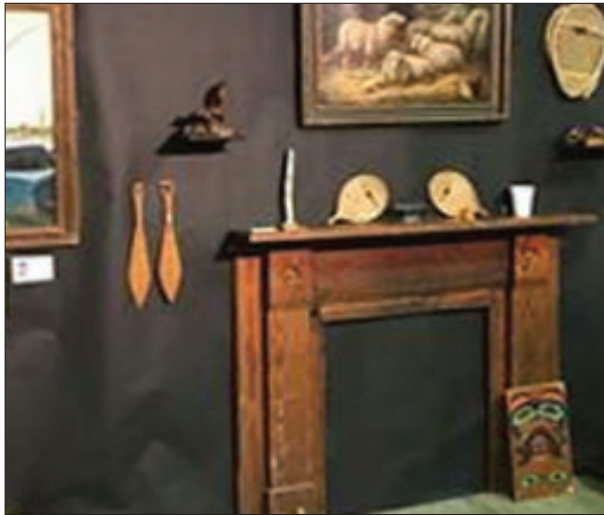

Article & photos by Cathy Rawson

Sunday, October 28th is the date to save for the fall Midwest Antique and Art Show in conjunction with the Collector's Eye Show. Maine Antique Digest described the shows in their July issue as "Midwestern gems". The Midwest Show features an array of merchandise and dealers who specialize in advertising, Americana, fine art, folk art, furniture, holiday, pottery, toys and other unique items. Jim Yeager from Missouri specializes in mechanical and unique toy items and Scott Tagliapietra from Wisconsin will be back with his display of holiday and toy items. Bill Powell from Franklin, TN well known for his advertising and display will be exhibiting at the fall show. Ron Christman from Wisconsin and Kaye Puchstein from Florida will be exhibiting some fine art pieces. Cotton's Antiques from Indiana will be bringing more visual art. Many folk art dealers such as Doug Wyant and Jeff Roelof from Michigan, Tim Chambers from Missouri, Craig Cheney from Ohio, local dealers Tom Armitage and Tom van Deest will be in attendance. Bob Burger from Ohio will be back with more sporting items and art for sale. Long time dealers Kaye and Steve Weiss (Country Love) will also be in their same booth with more new treasures. For a complete list of our fall dealers, visit our website at mwantiqueshow.com.

All in all both shows are unique and worth visiting. For pictures visit our facebook page "Midwest Antique & Art and The Collector's Eye Shows". Both shows will be held Sunday, October 28th from 10 am to 4 pm at the Hawkeye Downs Expo Center, 4400 6th St SW, Cedar Rapids, IA. For more information on the Midwest show call Cathy at (319) 389-7779 and for the Collector's Eye call Colleen at (319)360-4301.

Out & About

Although the colors of the leaves are slowly starting to change around here, it is still the sign that winter is coming. The farmers have been busy in their fields. The tractor convoys have started moving. Always makes for a wonderful drive either to work or home. Be sure to watch those shop and mall ads for their Fall Sales and soon to be their Holiday Sales, along with their Customer Appreciation Days. Halloween is around the corner, so start watching for those candy sales.

Mekenzy said she could see her breathe the other morning. Good thing we took all her winter boots and coats the other weekend. Tia and Brandon both have homecoming this weekend. So we will be busy this weekend. Tia has a busy day planned for us. First a biology speech, then campus lunch, and then we watch the football game. Brandon, we will get some pictures at home and then he will be off with his friends. He does not have a date, they are going as a group.

When Out and About this weekend, be sure to check out:

Hundreds of Dealers & Thousands of Shoppers Meet at Minnesota's Cambridge Antique Fair

Article & Photos by Michelle Goltz

Another great addition to shopping is having a variety of carnival-style food trucks to choose from when you get hungry and who doesn't like a great homemade ice cream in a waffle cone for the ride home.

As you walk around the grounds it has an easy flow of indoor and outdoor vendors that have jewelry, glassware, outdoor yard art, vintage signs, pottery, furniture, sports, collectibles, with some amazing refurbished items, as well as linens and some clothing. What I find most fascinating about traveling to shows is that I'm never bored and very rarely do I see something twice. I always enjoy talking to the vendors and the guests, there's nothing better than finding that odd piece that sparks a conversation and a few laughs. Grab a friend, spouse or even the kids there is something for everyone!

The show was founded almost three decades ago by local antiquers Shawn & Cheryl Hewitt, and has matured into a major regional antiques event in the subsequent twenty seven years. When the Hewitts retired, they passed the reigns of the event to an equally experienced pair of antiques show promoters: Kermit & Jeanie Wellman. The Wellmans, who have been antiques dealers for twenty-plus years, are able successors to the Hewitt's.

The American Society of Military Insignia Collectors

The American Society of Military Insignia Collectors, commonly known as ASMIC, is one of the oldest and largest organizations of military insignia collectors in the world. Founded in 1937 by a small group of enthusiastic collectors, it is chartered under Ohio law and recognized as non-profit 501 (c) (3) organization. The Society is "home" today to 2,000 dedicated collectors in the United States and foreign nations. Whether an individual is an experienced or beginning collector shoulder sleeve and distinctive unit insignia (patches and DIs), rank insignia, wings, decorations and awards (medals), elite forces emblems, cap badges, specialty markings, or of simply information on heraldry and the symbolism of heraldic devices, membership in ASMIC has many advantages.

ASMIC publishes a quarterly journal entitled The Trading Post and a Newsletter. The Trading Post contains a wealth of information on all aspects of U. S. and foreign military insignia. It includes articles from members, illustrations of old and new emblems as well as an occasional color section depicting American or foreign insignia. Unidentified Insignia are covered in a separate column in The Trading Post

The Newsletter brings word of insignia and dress items for trade or sale via classified and display ads. Society members rely on the Newsletter to advertise for insignia they wish to include in their collections and for announcements of regional and national insignia and militaria shows.

The ASMIC Reference Library contains almost 1000 items available for loan to members. These publications range from back issues of The Trading Post to major reference works published by our members and other militaria experts. The Library also includes many journals from other militaria societies for use by our members

Over the years, ASMIC has produced more than 20,000 black and white line drawings of military insignia, along with detailed descriptions of the insignia and known variations. Most of these drawings are available in our Distinctive Insignia or Cloth Patch catalogs, available to the general public and, at a discounted price, to ASMIC members.

To join ASMIC, visit their website: www.asmic.org

Estate Sale For Attorney Ron Kaminski of Manitowoc, Wisconsin

Article & Photos by Al Hrudka

The Estate Sale will be run from October 11th through 14th (Thur., Fri., and Sat. from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sun. from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The location will be announced in next week's issue of Auction Action Antique News. ALL ITEMS ARE PRICED. Contact Al Hrudka's Auction & Estate Sales at (920) 775-4979 for more information.

Attorney Ron Kaminski is probably the most well known attorney in Manitowoc for the past fifty years. Part of his practice was devoted to family law and he had some memorable cases. What made Ron stand out was all his community efforts.

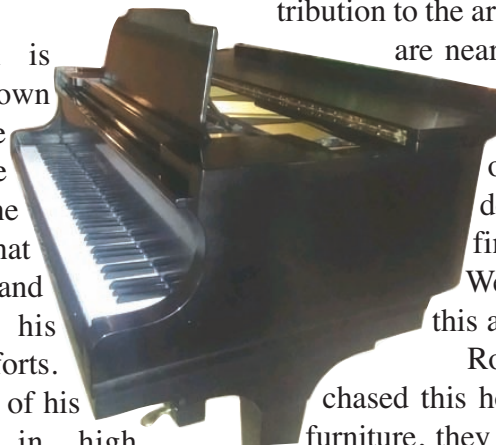

As president of his Senior class in high school, he raised funds for the design, and construction of the large statue of Abraham Lincoln which stands in front of Lincoln High School. Lincoln High School was built in the 1920's and is the oldest high school in the state of Wisconsin. Forty years later in 1961 the school finally had its statue, almost 60 years later it still stands.

After his education, Ron returned to Manitowoc and set up his law practice.

He continued to be involved in community projects with the acquisition, funding, and restoration of the old Capital theater which became the Capital Civic Center, a show case for all kinds of events. He also led the restoration of the old Teachers College into the home of the Manitowoc County Historical Society. His promotion and involvement of the arts led to his purchase of the Historic Forst Inn in Tisch Mills, where he produced live theater and entertainment in his Little Sandwich Theater. He took on-stage roles many times.

Ron received many community awards in his lifetime including the prestigious Teply Award for substantial contribution to the arts. In his home are near 100 pieces of art work, with many original signed works of art. You won't find million dollar art work, what you will find is art that pleased Ron. We are hoping others enjoy this art.

Ron and his wife Sharon purchased this home in the 1970's, liking old furniture, they proceeded to fill up the three story home. Everything is for sale, including their fancy mahogany dining room set with 8 chairs purchased in 1979 for $15,000. The table measures 10 1/2' when three leaves are added. Great for a board room or large house and priced much less than the original cost. Their Kawai Baby Grand piano is also offered-top of the line-far less than cost. Glassware includes Waterford crystal and bowls and Lambert plates. There has to be more than 75 pieces of furniture which includes mahogany, pine, oak, marble top tables and chests; including a P.G. Peterson desk. The large garage is also packed full including a barber's chair.

This will be your opportunity to help distribute the contents by Al Hrudka's Auction & Estate Sales. The Estate Sale will be held on October 11th-14th, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The address will be listed in next week's issue of Auction Action Antique News.

“Evolving Through Time”

44th Fall Fox Valley Antiques Show & Sale St. Charles, Illinois - October 20 & 21, 2018

Article & Photos by Debbie McArdle (CSADA)

The sound and the smell of oak leaves crunching under our feet, flatbeds of fat pumpkins tempting us to stop, and the cooler air wisping across our cheeks reminds us time is marching on. Autumn also brings us the 44th Fall Fox Valley Antiques Show. Though few of us have attended all 44 of the consecutive Fall Shows, we know we have evolved through those seasons and our attraction to the unusual never ceases. We are time travelers.

Travel back to the 18th, 19th & early 20th centuries to find affordable, yet authentic, home décor. Evolving endlessly through time, antiques harmonize with modern or period settings whether rustic or refined, decorating a single room or furnishing an entire home. This semi-annual show & sale is a treat for the imagination. Explore the offerings of 55 carefully-chosen, invitation-only dealers from 15 states and Canada. Dealers' booths are displayed in exciting room settings with an emphasis on decorative and graphic design, illustrating how antiques compliment any type of architecture and decorating scheme. A "screened" show assures merchandise authenticity allowing customers to buy with confidence.

Held all indoors only twice a year at the bright and spacious Kane County Fairgrounds' Prairie Events Center, catered lunch with comfortable seating is available and there's plenty of free parking. Show hours are Saturday, October 20, 10 - 5, and Sunday, October 21, 10 - 4, at the Kane County Fairgrounds, 525 South Randall Road, St. Charles, Illinois 60174 (enter fairgrounds on Randall Road between Routes 38 and 64).

Exciting graphics, texture and color combine to make a stunning statement! Here, American Spirit Antiques, Shawnee Mission, Kansas.

Neverbird Antiques of Surry, Virginia will offer a rare 1868 Chicago, Illinois schoolgirl sampler made by a 13-year-old Jewish girl, Rachel Cole (1854-1922). This 25 1/2 x 10 5/8 inch sampler is a lucky survivor of the 1871 Chicago fire.

Hooked or braided rugs, quilts and period clothing are a favorite at the Fox Valley Antiques show.

A harvest of pantry boxes and bowls in original and old paint are always available at this show.

Halloween, Thanksgiving and Christmas will be well represented at the show.

Scott Tagliapietra, Scott's Antiques, Whitefish Bay, Wisconsin will bring unusual holiday items to sell, typically including clockwork Santas.

Adding to the show's diversity, English antiques are a specialty at Randall Hopkins' booth.

Colonial to MCM, hand-carved to streamlined, in wood, iron, brass, bronze, porcelain, glass (and more), the Fox Valley Antiques Show offers a wide variety of affordable antiques. Pictured here, the booth of Worden Select Objects, Burr Oak, Michigan.

The Search Goes On!

Article & Photos by Bernie Rhodes & Jim Stephenson (Badger Marble Club)

We can all agree on one thing. The 'world, (a.k.a. a sphere shaped like a marble), and the USA are not the same as we knew in the late 20th century. While the planet turns, yet another 'thing' is certain. Collectors will always be searching for their buckets of gold. While our (Badger Marble Club members) passion is finding a hidden stash of rare marbles, the anticipation still accelerates the heart each time we pass through an antique mall door. Confidence that a 'find' lies on a shelf or in a case waiting to be found is not 'imagination'. The aforementioned scenario, as a figment of my imagination, is true for the most part, for every collector and purveyor of the world's most recent endangered species, that finding those desirable collectibles requires some serious research, as in combing your most recent issue of Auction Action Antique News.

While I continue to roam the isles of antiquity, I no longer anticipate that the finds of yesteryear exist at any given place or time. Great marble finds are rare, as is true for valuable collectables of all genre.

If you're possessed to never give up, you might want to consider some other curiosity to help in the 'non-finding' time. Something more numerous yet fascinating. Someone once told me, after a discussion of 'a recent unsuccessful hunt', that I might want to start looking at other glass..... glass of every sort. His comment, "When God made glass, he made lots of it." conjured a moment of collecting sense. I refocused my obsession and saw the potential of shot glasses, cobalt blue bottles, then (shoot me please), I started looking at costume jewelry. It didn't help any that I inherited a gallon of the stuff when my mother passed away. After appraisal by a friend (who also loves marbles), I now ration my marble time leaning over display cases at Goodwill, St. Vinny's, and other reuse stores. Also, the wonderful Antique Road Show stirs a trace of ancient cult in all of us. (Please don't tell me another story of the $2.50 find that now funds a grandchild's college tuition!)

Like me, other dreamers will continue visiting their haunts and hunt for what a few lucky finders make it seem possible to uncover a find worth boasting of. Fact is.... the fun is 'still' in the hunt! Unfortunately, that is also where the frustration is. Maybe we should just relax and enjoy saving the cash. Walk away from any new temptations or consider plan B. There must be some kind of 'other' that you can leave to your ancestors. The reality..... today's children, your grandchildren, might have little interest in your passions, at least while they have a 'dumb phone' in their hands. You would be an exception if your grandchildren would join you in a hunt for matchbooks or bullet pens. Spoken as a grandfather intended.

One of our most dedicated collectors and seller of all things collectable has written a creative guideline for our upcoming Badger Marble Club show. You need only to replace your desired collectable for the word.... marble.... and move on to attend other collectables shows, Goodwill, St.

Vinny's, yard sale, flea market, estate sale and resale stores in the area, and be sure to browse Antique Auction Action News. There is much to be learned at this year's 21st annual BMC show.

It's not just about marbles.

BREAKING NEWS NEVER TO BE SEEN ON ANY CONVENTIONAL NEWS OUTLET

On Sunday October 14th at the Howard Johnson Plaza Hotel in Madison, the Badger Marble Club, will be putting on its 21th consecutive fall show. Note the earlier than usual timing to avoid the Halloween rush and Badger football home games. Rumor has it that attendees will be donating their excess marbles to flabbergasted politicians running for office who by now have clearly lost theirs.

Kidding aside, here are the best 6 things about the Badger Marble Show, or any show.

6] - As dedicated auction participants and readers of AAAN know, marbles pop up from time to time at local auctions, estate sales, antique malls, and flea markets. Are they worth buying and if purchased what comes next? Knowledge on identification and valuation is the key to separate the wheat from the chaff. Club meetings and especially shows are exceptional sources of this information.

5] - For instance, at the show there are any number of categories available to view for comparative purposes, including older handmade marbles from around the turn of the twentieth century, mostly American machine-made marbles from around 1920 to 1960, more recent artisan handmade marbles that are reminiscent of both classes of earlier designs, and even games, paper, and ephemera related to marbles.

4] - To take it all in, relax. Shows can be initially intimidating, so slow it down before deciding what you want to do. Simply browse your way around the 20 or so dealer's offerings to see what you find interesting, politely ask questions as time permits, and you are on your way to revel in the inherent beauty of marbles!!

3] - Even better is to attend the room trading sessions over the Friday and Saturday leading up to show day. These tend to be a social highlight with a lot of extended catchup for old friends, showing of new finds and discussing of collecting trends, casually browsing through others inventories to find that missing link in ones' collection, and meeting/greeting new collectors or one-time attendees looking for a reasonable appraisal on their latest finds. All of this in a less hurried atmosphere than on show day itself.

2 - Room trading sessions also have a wider variety of material to sort through that might be too bulky to include on the show tables and not all room traders have tables on show day so the early bird might very well catch the worm.

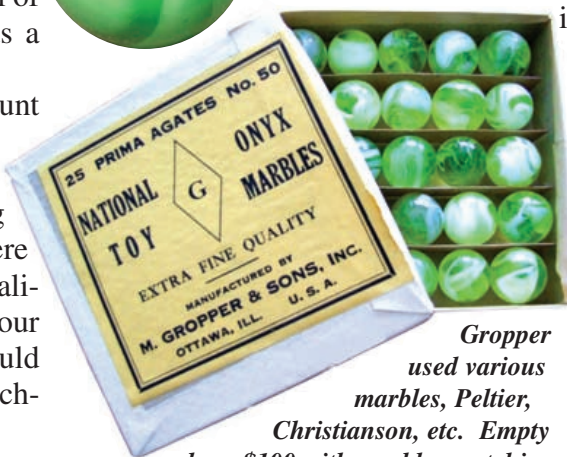

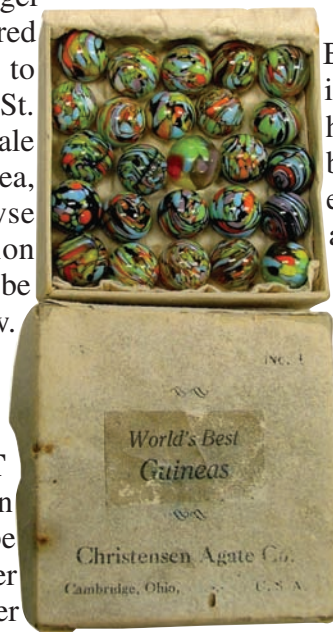

1] - It's not all about the marbles. Tip a beverage with friends to celebrate/comiserate the Badgers vs Michigan during Saturday's room trading sessions. Share a pizza and listen to the oral histories about dear-departed friends who helped build up this wonderful hobby. Take a Saturday morning trip to the farmers market on the square, an event often mentioned by previous attendees as a highlight for making this weekend trip.

0] -Oh yeah, and by way of advertisement, the Badger Marble Club meets approximately four times a year in Waunakee, and emails periodic newsletters and information to the membership. For more info go to badgermarbleclub.com

"Antique Candy Containers" A Special Exhibit at the 67th Fall Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association Show

Genius! The 19th century candy container was early packaging and merchandising at its best, designed to delight the affluent child, first with the candy and, afterwards, with the toy that remained.

The early 1900s were the golden years for candy containers. The first commercially made in the late 1800s are generally of German origin, originally of a flour and paste recipe and later, mold-pressed papier-mâché, all with a hidden inner chamber to house the candy surprise. Begun as a cottage industry, companies in Germany, France, Japan and the U.S. expanded upon the idea and began to mass produce a wide variety of containers, not just in the original traditional materials, but also in glass, cardboard and tin litho to name a few. Themes are endless and include animals, dolls, transportation, buildings, weapons, furniture and furnishings, folk figures & more.

"Any collection of holiday items (Easter, Christmas, Halloween, etc.) will ultimately lead to candy containers." So says collector Jackie Kojis who, decades ago, was busy collecting bears. "I have two candy containers with Roosevelt bears on them but bought them because I was collecting antique bears. Same with dog or cat containers . . . they often look like a stuffed toy and it's a surprise the head comes off and the bodies are hollow!"

Learn More From Knowledgeable Collectors!

Jackie Kojis will be participating with Scott Tagliapietra, Lee & Roxanne Bernard and a number of other advanced collectors in the special exhibit, "Antique Candy Containers", bringing many prized examples from their personal collections. These experts will be prepared to answer your questions and to share their knowledge with other candy container enthusiasts. They also hope a show attendee will bring something they've never seen for a little "show and tell"!

After visiting the Special Exhibit, wander the three large rooms at the show featuring everything from vintage Christmas to fine jewelry to antique cupboards! Top dealers from 6 Midwestern states will offer a fresh variety of authentic, affordable antiques. The Waukesha County Expo Center's Forum Building, 1000 Northview Road, Waukesha, WI 53188, is the home of this semi-annual event. Show hours are Friday, October 5, 10-8 and Saturday, October 6, 10-5. In addition to the good food customers have come to expect, a traditional Wisconsin Fish Fry will be served late Friday afternoon and evening so bring your appetite!

BONUS: Enter to win Milwaukee PBS Television's 2018 Appraisal Fair Tickets + $50 Gift Certificates!

Also at the show, antiques (more than 100 years old) and vintage (50-99 years old) items will be collected by the Friends of the Wisconsin Historical Society for their upcoming "30th Star Benefit Antiques Auctions". Tax deductible receipts will be provided to all donors. The Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association is proud to serve as the founding & continuing sponsor of their events and has donated the booth for collection of objects for the fund-raising auctions.

The Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association, founded in 1948, is a not-profit organization that produces two antiques shows annually. Your admission of $7.00 funds college scholarships as well as grants to Wisconsin historic preservation groups. A $1.00 discount coupon for admission to the Antiques Show is available at www.WisconsinAntiquesDealers.com

Free parking. ATM on premises.

 (Jackie Kojis Collection)*

*Even 100 years ago,
 everyone loved dogs!
 Animals were very popular subjects for candy containers.
 (Jackie Kojis Collection)*

*Lee & Roxanne Bernard of Lee Bernard Antiques, Jackson, WI will share a favorite at the exhibit, stating, "We have one exceptional old composition candy container that has two tabby cats, gray & brown, popping out of a barrel that we bought years ago when we had our first two cats,
 one of which was gray,
 the other brown."*
