Auctioneer Rich Ranft with the big winner of the November 28th sale: a rusty-but-rare 1965 Austin Healey 3000 convertible that made a surprising $12,300!

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

There's not much certainty in the antiques trade, but there is one thing that Midwest antiques enthusiasts can count on: the weekly Beloit Auction & Realty consignment auction. Held each and every Wednesday evening, the popular event has drawn large crowds both in-house and online for years with a varied mix of everything from fine art and antiques to late model vehicles - and everything in between. At their November 28th event, quality collectibles in nearly every category crossed the block, including classic cars like a rusty-but-rare 1965 Austin-Healey 3000 convertible that drove away for $12,300.

Forty-nine pieces International Sterling flatware - $1,220.

Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association February 1 & 2, 2013 Show To Benefit Grants & Scholarships

The Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association, founded in 1948, is a non-profit organization dedicated to education as well as preservation of Wisconsin's heritage.

Funded by admissions charged at their October and February antiques shows, their Association awards scholarships and grants annually.

Waukesha County high school seniors recently submitted entries for the Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association's scholarship competition. Winners will be announced in January and recognized at the February 1 & 2 antiques show.

Wisconsin historical groups that received

WADA grants in 2012 are:

- The Israel Stowell Temperance House in Delavan, Wisconsin, to secure the structure before renovation
- The Rock County Historical Society, Janesville, Wisconsin, for adaptive re-use of an exhibit case.
- The Richfield Historical Society, Richfield, Wisconsin, for foundation restoration of the Messer/Mayer Mill.

In addition, for the last 4 years the Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association has sponsored the "30th Star Benefit Antiques Auction", produced by the Friends of the Wisconsin Historical Society and held at Old World Wisconsin. This auction has raised important funding to aid the endeavors of the Wisconsin Historical Society.

To learn more about the Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association's grant & scholarship opportunities along with their many other endeavors promoting Wisconsin history, visit their website at www.WisconsinAntiquesDealers.com and attend their antiques show Friday, February 1, 11 am - 9 pm and Saturday, February 2, 10 am - 5 pm at the Waukesha County Expo Center, 1000 Northview Road, Waukesha (a Milwaukee suburb). A fish fry will be served Friday night. There is plenty of free parking and an ATM is on the premises. Questions? (414) 510-4441

Out & About

As we reflect on 2012, I have been hearing from shops, malls and shows that 2012 was their best year ever! We have been making changes also to better accommodate our customers. I have other customers that are doing the same this year and making changes with their advertising by going larger and running more often.

I would like to remind everyone that our deadlines are:

Mondays by 5pm for auction photos and Tuesdays by 5pm for auction text.

Please always call to confirm that we have received your emailed items. As if we do not know that you are sending anything, then we do not know that it is missing. Also, check your proofs, we send one to everyone. If you have a budget price, please include that in your email. When sending photos, please send them in a separate email, as some photos come in very large, please include email of how many: such as 1 of 3 emails.

Brandon has been busy with his school wax museum project, they pick a famous history person and have to write about them and then they have to personally portray them as a class wax museum for the school to tour and learn about the people. He still plays his two hockey games every weekend.

This weekend he and Todd will be off to Beaver Dam.

Tia has been busy cooking up a storm for all of us. She has been busy planning all our meals and cooking dinners every night. She even makes us all sit down at the dinner table together. She has been taking an advanced cooking class at school so this helps her for class. She even makes all kinds of different cookies, that always seem to disappear by morning. Her class requires that she makes grocery lists, menu's, follows advance recipes and uses a budget.

Kenzy has been having a wonderful time with hockey this year. She has been practicing with the high school team. Recently she just found out the team will be practicing with the Green Bay Gamblers and she will get work with one of their goalies and coach. She had another parent of a girl who is trying out for the women's USA Olympic hockey team, give her goal tending a raving review.

Several Local Estates Make for One Great Auction at Beloit Auction's November 28th Sale

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

You never know quite what you'll find at Beloit Auction & Realty's weekly Wednesday consignment auctions. One week might feature contemporary furnishings and late model cars, the next fine art and estate jewelry. At their November 28th sale, there was a great mix of antique & vintage furniture, firearms from early to modern, plus collections of Depression glass, brassware, and more.

But of course the star of the sale was that 1965 Austin-Healey 3000 Mark III convertible. The British sports car maker introduced the 3000 series in 1959, replacing the Austin-Healey 100. The 3000 Mark III was launched in October 1963, and remained in production until the end of 1967, when production of Austin-Healeys ceased. In that five-year span, around 17,000 "3000s" were made. This example couldn't be described as anything but very rough, and was partly disassembled, but collectors from several states bidding on the classic two-seater drove the price to a surprising $12,300.

The evening's other classic car was very different: a near-original condition 1949 Dodge Coronet. No, not the 1960s "muscle car" Coronet that was Dodge's version of the Plymouth Road Runner. This 1949 Coronet was one of the first post-WWII Dodge designs, a chunky four-door sedan with a 103hp straight-six motor. Interestingly, it also came standard with the three-speed Gyromatic fluid transmission, explaining the lack of any shifter on the car. It sold for a very reasonable $2,000. A clean & running Ford 7000 tractor did exactly twice as well, crossing the block at an even $4,000.

All of the 300-plus lots were on their way home with new owners within a few hours, thanks to the efficient Beloit Auction staff. On the way out, bidders got a chance to preview items from a fabulous area estate to be auctioned on January 30th right here at the Beloit Auction Gallery. Stop by and take a look if you get a chance.

Beloit Auction & Realty has been serving southern Wisconsin's auction needs for more than twenty-five years, conducting weekly Wednesday evening auctions at their facility in Beloit. And while classic British roadsters don't cross the block here every week, there's always something interesting at every Beloit Auction & Realty sale. They also conduct many real estate and business liquidation auctions, plus specialty auctions at their sister facility in nearby Avalon, Wisconsin. They can be reached at 877-364-1965.

Be sure to bookmark their website too, www.beloitauction.com, for the latest information on all their upcoming auctions. Many of their antique and collectible auctions can be previewed online as well. You can leave an absentee bid, or bid in "real time" on auction night if you want. And as always, keep an eye out for all of their upcoming auctions in the Auction Action Antique News!

National Depression Glass Association

The National Depression Glass Association - preserving America's glass manufacturing heritage - is dedicated to the preservation of American made glassware manufactured just before, during, and immediately after the "Great Depression". The organization is also dedicated to the dissemination of educational information regarding the same - including a membership newsletter, "The News & Views," an annual convention and show, and a variety of other member services. The NDGA's ultimate goal is a first-class museum of American-made glass and related items.

The NDGA website - www.ndga.net - has been greatly improved with a total new design and look earlier this year. The primary purpose of the site is to provide information to the members and other site visitors. The homepage provides a listing of contents and features the latest NDGA news. Appropriately heading this list is the latest news on the much anticipated July 2009 annual convention.

There is a growing section on The National Collection and how to donate either glass or cash for this project.

The site contains a wealth of information. Articles on Depression Glass, dozens of past features from the NDGA publications, glass reference books, past glass company advertisements, a directory of glass dealers and another of glass collecting clubs and photos of members' glass collections.

Anyone who happens to have the least bit of interest and appreciation for glassware is going to find this site a place on the Internet to visit again and again... and it must be a tremendous resource for NDGA members. Actually there also are members-only pages on the site in addition to all the public pages.

Bidders from Around the Globe Compete for Amazing Firearms at Rock Island Auction Co.

Article & photos by Rock Island Auction Co.

Over the course of three days hundreds of bidders from around the world converged into the RIAC auction hall for a chance to own one of the many important pieces that were offered throughout the weekend. Additionally, thousands of phone bidders were called from across the globe, and over 13,000 sealed bids were placed before the first drop of the hammer. The anticipation could be felt in the air throughout the weekend as eager collectors and curious spectators watched firearms from a number of world class collections cross the auction block. A few of the major genres that held the spotlight were Winchesters, Sharps, Walther, Mauser, Smith & Wesson, Remington and Colt. The Ulrich Family Factory Engraved Winchester Rifles accounted for the top three lots each selling for over $100,000 each. A John Ulrich Factory Panel Scene Engraved Gold Inlaid Winchester Model 1894 Deluxe Factory Takedown (Lot 1001) brought $115,000. While a Gold Plated Relief Engraved Winchester Model 1866 Carbine Factory Engraved by his brother Conrad F. Ulrich also brought $115,000 (Lot 3001). Other notable Winchester's include a Fine Early Production Model 1866 Saddle Ring Carbine with Henry Patent Barrel Address (Lot 3009) which brought $63,250, and a special order Winchester Model 1886 in 50 Express (Lot 1004) achieved $48,875. Volcanic firearms and Henry rifles, the predecessor to Winchester also experienced a banner weekend: an exceptional Henry Lever Action Rifle (Lot 3004) sold for $46,000 while a factory engraved New Haven Arms Volcanic Carbine commanded $43,125 and a factory engraved New Haven Arms No. 1 Pocket Pistol brought $10,350 respectively.

Colt firearms from two legendary collections; the World Renowned Gateway Collection and the estate of Legendary Colt Collector and dealer Bobby Smith experienced fierce bidding throughout the weekend, and the auction results prove it. This auction boasted EIGHT Paterson arms and their accessories. The top Paterson piece brought $86,250 which was a stunning and Rare Texas Paterson Case with Accessories (Lot 3321) while a Colt Paterson Belt Model Revolver fetched $43,125. Paterson's were not the only Colts to do well in Rock Island, a very Rare U.S. Colt Model 1847 Walker Revolver (Lot 1255) issued to Samuel Walker's own Company sold for $103,500. Colt Single actions from the final installment of the Gateway collection also drew tremendous interest as a pre-war single action with factory carved ivory grips with its original factory box (lot 1303) commanded $69,000 while serial number 48 "pinched frame" single action realized $51,750. Colt's largest competitor Smith & Wesson had a record weekend as well. RIAC was pleased to offer The Anthony Urbanowski Collection, which was considered one of the world's finest collections of antique Smith & Wesson's. This collection presented buyers with a unique chance to own a very scarce Nashville Police Department Smith & Wesson Model 3 First Model American Single Action Revolver (Lot 264). This particular revolver is "No.3" of 32 special order revolvers and has "Nashville Police" factory engraved on the back strap and brought $18,400. The rarities did not end there, a documented 38 Single Action 3rd Model "Mexican Model" of 1891 Revolver with British Proof marks and Pearl Grips (Lot 256) went for $18,400. The only known blue finished S&W Favorite exceeded its high estimate of $15,000 and went out the door for a staggering $18,400 proving that when it comes to owning a 1 of 1 or the only known example, collectors take it personally.

This Auction also offered Part III of the Finest Luger Collection RIAC has every offered, and the prices once again support the claim. Buyers had a once in a lifetime chance to own a One-Of-A-Kind Original George Luger Prototype 1902/06 Carbine in "9mm" (Lot 1466), this fine handgun went for a final price of $86,250. The DWM factory only made two "1902 carbines" in 9mm, this is one of the reasons it is such a rare pistol. It was in great company by an extraordinary DWM Luger Model 1902 Carbine Rig (Lot 1474) sold for $51,750 and an Early Production Three Digit Serial Number DWM Swiss Model 1900 Luger Semi-Automatic Pistol (Lot 3515), which topped out at $37,375. Lugers were not the only firearms manufactured in Germany that rang the bell. A Walther PPK Party Leader Pistol with its matching magazine estimated $18,000-$27,500 experienced some of the most heated bidding of the weekend which realized $43,125 while a Pre-War Commercial Walther in 22 LR in its original box estimated $5,500-$7500 commanded an impressive $28,750.

The December Auction held numerous possibilities to own many pieces with very rare serial numbers in numerous genres such as Winchesters, Colts, Smith & Wessons, and Military Pieces. One of the most historic was a Two Digit Serialized Original U.S. Springfield Model 1903 Rod Bayonet "Serial Number 24" (Lot 3630), which sold for $57,500. The 1903 Bayonet is said to be one of the most difficult to obtain as far as U.S. martial arms go, there are only said to be around 100 of them that escaped modification. RIAC also offered a documented pair of Consecutively Serial Numbered Factory Cut-Away Colt Model 1851 Navy Revolvers (Lot 3298), which Colt experts believe were manufactured by Colt for Classroom instruction at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, New York they sold for $63,250. For more information regarding this sale or interest in selling with Rock Island Auction Company call 800-238-8022 or visit www.rockislandauction.com.

Arts Group Publishes Guide to Northwest Wisconsin Arts, Growers, Heritage

Written and submitted by Harriet Rice

In the small towns, villages and along the rustic roads of northwestern Wisconsin are some of the state's most valuable assets: creative human beings who nurture beauty, value nature and share their heritage through places, objects and edibles that are handmade and homegrown.

Now there's a brand new paperback guidebook published by the Wisconsin's Northwest Heritage Passage: 208 pages that shine a light on these places and people who live and work along and around the Highway 63 corridor in 13 northwest Wisconsin counties.

It's called The Wisconsin Passage: an Adventure in the Handmade, Homegrown and Historical Offerings of Wisconsin from the Mississippi River to the Lake Superior, or simply, The Wisconsin Passage. The book is the culmination of a dream that began 12 years ago when a group of northwest Wisconsin people like Spooner weaver Alene Peterson realized that the cottage industries of working crafters, artists, growers were key to a sustainable "creative economy" in this region.

Peterson and a committee of five - all volunteers -- began by establishing a set of criteria. "We were looking for locally made or grown items, quality products, interesting destinations, environmental responsibility, openness to the public, and safety," said Peterson.

Each of the 350 listees in the book submitted written descriptions of their studios, galleries, farms, museums, and other arts, agricultures or culture-related businesses. Committee members visited each site, providing feedback about their experiences. Others collected and worked with submitted images or took photographs themselves.

Janet Krokson of Spooner was the book committee's muse who gathered the descriptions, historical facts, anecdotes, and other materials, weaving them into a narrative that makes the book an entertaining read as much as a travel guide.

Editor of the Spooner Advocate and life-long resident of the area, Krokson said, "It was a labor of love. I've lived in Highway 63 communities for the past 31 years," she said. "I love Wisconsin, and I particularly love this part of the state."

She continued, "I think of The Wisconsin Passage as a passage to more passages - to bygone days, to an adventure that anyone can take part in. It's about artists, artisans, performers, nature lovers, natural growers, pioneer settlers and storytellers of many genres who forged a life and culture along the heritage roads and trails."

Peterson added, "We want this book to bring the public together with artists and growers where they live and work and showcase those hometowns, villages and farms as well as the natural beauty of northwest Wisconsin destinations for travelers of all ages,"

The WNHP was founded in 1999 as an arts support group dedicated to supporting, showcasing and educating the public about the talents and creativity of northwest Wisconsin's communities. In 2001, 2004 and 2009, WNHP published and distributed more than 100,000 foldout maps listing handmade, homegrown and heritage sites. The Wisconsin Passage replaces those maps as a more permanent testament to the thriving creative economy in northwest Wisconsin.

There is no commercial advertising in the book. Production was funded by memberships, in kind and cash donations from businesses and private citizens through "Friends of the Passage." Proceeds from sales of the book will be used to update and publish future editions.

Following the initial book launch on August 27 at Northwind Book & Fiber in Spooner, additional launches are planned in each of the 13 counties in the coming months. The Wisconsin Passage may be purchased at Northwind Book & Fiber, 205 Walnut Street, Spooner, and online at www.heritagepassage.com, where there will be a list of other retail outlets selling the book. The WNHP is supported in part by the Wisconsin Arts Board. For additional information, call 715.635.9303, or email winhp@centurytel.net.
