The central Illinois town of Tuscola recently hosted what's become part of a growing family of antique events in the Midwest: the spring edition of the Rural Life Antique Show and Sale. Antique enthusiasts from far and wide flock to the area on the first weekend of each March, when several shows specializing in country & primitive antiques all open their doors to the public for Illinois Amish Country's Spring Antiques Weekend. Founded in 2011 by local antique dealer Donna Kidwell, the Rural Life Antiques Show & Sale now boasts more than two dozen exhibitors coming from ten states.

Out & About

We wish everyone a Happy Easter!

I have been seeing signs of spring!!

On my drive home the deer were out, eight of them walking across the field in search of food. This is the first time in months that I have seen deer.

I drive an hour to and from work, along farm country. The turkeys I have been seeing off and on, but in this one field, I always see this one lonely turkey. Employee Tom is an avid turkey hunter and is getting anxious for hunting to start.

Spring Edition a Big Success for Tuscola, Illinois' Rural Life Antique Show & Sale

Article & Photos by Brian Maloney

Tuscola, Illinois is a quintessential Midwestern town, home to around 4,500 folks and the seat of Douglas County. The imposing Douglas County Courthouse dominates the town center, but the area is known much better for something: its large and growing Amish community, founded in the 1860s and now numbering more than 4,500 strong. A significant tourism business has grown right along with them too, with dozens of shops selling Amish-made products ranging from rustic furniture to hand-made cheeses.

As you might imagine, the picturesque area is natural location for country & primitives-oriented shows. The "A Gathering on the Prairie" show was the first of the now four antiques shows participating in the Illinois Amish Country Spring Antiques Weekend, and just celebrated its eleventh successful season. It and two other shows are located in Nearby Arthur, Illinois, with this Rural Life Antique Show & Sale just down the road in Tuscola.

Donna Kidwell, ably assisted by her husband Richard, founded the show in 2011. She's uniquely qualified for the task, having operated Tuscola's Winterberry antiques shop for a quarter of a century. "It's an exciting antiquing area, especially during the spring shows," Donna told me. "And with dealers coming from all over the country, you never know quite what will show up."

Michigan's Caulkin House Antiques was among those dealers. They brought classic Americana for every taste, from a painted-dial Silas Hoadley tall case clock to a Pennsylvania Moravian walnut work table. Douglas Solliday Antiques likewise had some nice furnishings - my favorite there an elegant American Sheraton figured maple chest of drawers, asking price $2,200.

Kitchenalia more your thing? Well, look no farther than Iowa's Over Hill Over Dale Antiques. You'll find the rarest of early food gadgetry there, with examples at this spring show including a Rough Riders-themed coffee grinder and a hand-cranked twin malt mixer. And while the focus of the show is on country & primitive antiques, you'll find exhibitors specializing in everything from advertising to folk art to period lighting and more. The show was crowded from start to finish, with most every shopper I spoke to planning to visit all four area shows by the end of Saturday.

This Spring Illinois Amish Country Antiques Weekend was just the beginning of the region's 2013 events. May brings the Amish Country Quilt Show, followed by the venerable Moultrie-Douglas Combined County Fair in July. And tens of thousands of visitors come each Labor Day Weekend for the Amish Country Cheese Festival. You can visit www.illinoisamishcountry.com for all the details of those events and more. For more information about the Rural Life Antique Show and Sale, just go to www.rurallifeantiqueshow.com, or give Donna Kidwell a call at 217-253-6250.

And don't worry if you missed this spring edition of the show: all four Amish Country Antiques Shows, including of course the Rural Life Antique Show and Sale, will be back for the Autumn Amish Country Antiques Weekend. Be sure to pencil in November 8th and 9th, the dates for this year's fall festivities. And as always, keep an eye out for listings of the Rural Life Antique Show and Sale in the Auction Action Antique News!

I found this interesting theorem-form still life oil painting at Halsey Munson Americana, 26" x 32" and priced at $1,175. 217-972-4645

Two charming late 19th century cloth dolls from Halsey Munson Americana: the 18" African American rag doll priced at $260, the straw-stuffed kitty with shoe-button eyes at $250. 217-972-4645

It's three and growing for the spring edition of the Rural Life Antique Show and Sale, the brainchild of noted local antique collector/dealers Donna and Richard Kidwell.

Nice original hand-painted decoration on this classic rocking horse at Sproule's Antiques, 36" in length and priced at $1,595. 815-297-5291

You'd be hard-pressed to find a finer figured maple chest than this American Sheraton example from Douglas Solliday Antiques, 40" x 42" and in a mellow old finish - $2,200. 573-443-3290

This Pennsylvania Moravian walnut table sported two different-sized drawers side-by-side, and measured 28" x 50." I found it at Caulkins House Antiques, asking price $675. The group of five grain-painted & gilt-decorated chairs surrounding it was a good buy at $500 for the lot. 810-678-8086

From Sproule's Antiques, an extra-rustic hanging cupboard in worn red paint ($825) and early hand-decorated oval bride's box - $650. 815-297-5291

A selection of American tin lanterns at Sproule's Antiques - priced from $225 to $795. 815-297-5291

I found this matched set of WWI-era British watercolor dirigible scenes (each 9" x 14") at Douglas Solliday Antiques, asking price $1,600 for the pair. 573-443-3290

The down-home furnishings at Indiana's Kreeside Antiques and Collectibles attracted many buyers, among the inventory this well-worn single-drawer work table ($595) and punched tin pie safe in a pale blue finish - $895. 765-419-1712

The eclectic inventory at Old Smith & Co. ranged from a 54" long Amish-made seed planter to a new-old-stock Aeroplanes fishing lure store display - $395. 309-685-6664

Early New England decoratives at Country Peddler Antiques included this unusual 18" x 18" wooden game board ($395) and stack of painted firkins priced from $365 to $685. 920-564-6386

The Holidays were in the air at Erlenbusch Haus Antiques, where shoppers could choose from some wonderful European carved wood paper mache master molds, standing 10" to 18" tall and priced from $250.

Figured maple scoops from Jeff Walton Antiques were priced from $249, the figured maple turned bowl at $245. 419-421-1792

Painted furniture finds at Ohio's Jeff Walton Antiques: the two-tone red & green Pennsylvania dry sink priced at $2,250, the 51" chimney cupboard in faux-grain mustard finish at $495. 419-421-1792

A corner of R. L. Myers Americana and Folk Art's display - the country pine mantel priced at $425, the wonderful cat-themed folk art hooked rug above (23" x 42") at $575. 219-242-0706

Country furniture at R. L. Meyers Americana and Folk Art included this diminutive pine stepback cupboard in an old gray finish, measuring 36" x 74" - $1,175. 219-242-0706

From Caulkins House Antiques, a 19th century French balance scale, of wrought iron with tin baskets - $175. 810-678-8086

Circa 1850 wrought iron twin candleholder, 22" in height, from Hauke Antiques - $1,125. 573-486-0254

Fine art at Latcham House Antiques included everything from early portraits to this 17" x 24" three-masted schooner painting, asking price $1,500. 419-878-0657

This impressive 21" long candle mold produces thirty-six faceted candles at once, and was priced at $1,250 from Fred Henderson Antiques. 765-860-4874

Bold original grain-painting adorned this bench/table from Tom & Marsha Brown Antiques, which sold on the first day of the show. 574-532-7449

R. L. Meyers Americana and Folk came with a nice array of early 19th century American game boards, with prices from $425. 219-242-0706

Missouri's Hauke Antiques came with a good selection of period pewter, plus this display of Betty lamps & holders - $1,950 for the lot. 573-486-0254

The best in antique kitchenalia could be found at Over Hill Over Dale Antiques, like this litho-tin Hoffman's Coffee grinder ($585) and rare Rough Riders coffee grinder, asking price $995. 402-578-8330

There were surprises around every corner of Don & Marta Orwig's impressive booth, among them this fraternal lodge mechanical goat, price tag $575. 260-226-1018

Hoosiers Fred and Helen Henderson came with a nice group of powder horns - and this humungous oak wine or cider tub, asking price $550. 765-963-5979

Two rare mechanical marvels from Iowa's Over Hill Over Dale Antiques: the twin malted milk mixer priced at $1,999, the Patented-1866 Pratt two-arm apple slicer at $1,295. 402-578-8330

More classic Americana from Michigan's Caulkins House Antiques: the circa 1810 Silas Hoadley tall-case clock priced at $1,795, the 1830 Pennsylvania Deutsch fraktur (12 1/2" x 13 1/2") at $350. 810-678-8086

Advertising was the focus of Don & Marta Orwig's display, with gems like this double-sided porcelain Genuine Ford Parts 24" dealership sign, asking price $1,150. 260-226-1018

There are countless antique & collectible shops to visit in the Tuscola-area, among them Donna Kidwell's own Winterberry, located in the city's historic downtown district.

Kramer Auction Service Winter Firearms & Sporting Auction Attracts More than 1,000 Bidders

Article & Photos by Kramer Auction Service

Rare Whitney Kennedy
Saddle Ring Carbine $3,350.

A US 1903-A4 Sniper rifle w/out scope $2,760.

British Sea Service
Flintlock Model 1801 $2,300.

No surprise for the #1 spot went to a fine & early (3 digit serial number) Henry rifle, always in demand this beauty shot to a hammer price plus premium of $25,600. The next two spots, brass again; this time a fine Winchester 3rd Model 1866 rifle. After some spirited in-house bidding it finally found a new home for $8,800. Third spot another 1866 Winchester rifle, this time a later 4th model demanded $6,825.

A Brass barreled European Flintlock Blunderbuss w/rare spring tooth bayonet was next at $4,125. The 1st modern gun to crack the top 10 was an Armalite AR-50, 50 cal

Bolt Rifle (NIB) selling at $3,575 (lots of firepower for your money!) Another lever gun this time a Whitney Kennedy Carbine, with less than 1,000 mfg. this rarity was solid at $3,350. Then a possibly one of a kind Indian Reservation Police double barrel started strong & shot to $2,750 before stopping. WWII Guns broke into the mix with an original 1903-A4 sniper rifle, minus the scope still requiring $2,760 to find a new home.

An 1873 Single Action Colt finished #9 for the day at $2,420, this one mfg. in 1900 had a 7.5" bbl. & chambered in 38-40 cal.

Next was another Whitney Kennedy rifle, this one was a large frame in fair condition for $2,420. Out of the top 10 but still notable was a Rare British Sea Service Flintlock Pistol, after lots of phone & internet bidding this early big bore made the trip back across the pond to its original home in England to an international bidder for a $2,300 ticket.

This auction also featured some great sporting & hunting arms with strong prices from top to bottom. Full auction results can be viewed at www.kramersales.com

Kramer's Spring Gun Auction is set for Saturday March 30th & will feature 400+ Firearms, including a great selection of Winchesters from the Marcus Bremer Estate. Plus lots of great hunting rifles & shotguns, many NIB condition & rare models & calibers. Large amounts of factory ammunition, reloading supplies & more. Watch in upcoming editions of the Action Auction for ads or check www.kramer-sales.com for full listing, photos & internet bidding options. For additional questions Curt Kramer can be reached at (608) 326-8108.

Great American Folk Art Items Are Unique, Limited & Very Collectible article & photos by

Midwest Decoy Collectors Association

Sporting collectibles can come in many forms. Hand made and painted, these items are delightful to see and cheery, they are great for decorating with whimsy.

Folk Art hand carved items created across the mid-continent from Minnesota to Pennsylvania.

Great American Folk Art items are unique, limited & very collectible. Hand carved from Grandpa in the garage in the winter typically in the winter when you couldn't work on the farm.

For example shorebirds, they are all different & people like them because they are reminded of walking on the beach & nice weather.

Geese are always very popular & are carved in all regions. Great for that fireplace mantel, patio or the cabin in the woods.

From 16th Century Suits of Armor to WWII Thompson Submachine, Guns Rock Island Auction Company's April 19th, 20th & 21st Premiere Firearms Auction Will Be A Truly Historic Event!

ROCK ISLAND, Illinois. (March 12, 2013)- Rock Island Auction Company's April 19th, 20th, 21st Premiere Firearms Auction will be an unprecedented bidding opportunity for all facets of arms collectors and investment buyers. "It is not often the general public is given the ability to see, let alone purchase, what can basically be called a half a millennium of arms and armor. This particular sale begins with full suits of armor, of which there are over 20 in the auction, some dating as far back as the 16th century. It goes on to tell the story of warfare and the evolution of arms over 500 years, from the Middle Ages of Europe through the Vietnam War and beyond; it's truly astonishing," said Patrick Hogan, President and CEO of Rock Island Auction.

Rock Island Auction Company is pleased to bring to public auction the arms and armor collection of Mr. William Ashby. The objects in this collection demonstrate centuries of the uses of armor and arms in ceremonies, in tournaments and on the battlefield. The grouping is comprised of wonderful matchlocks, snaphaunces, wheellocks, swords, daggers, halberds, helmets and shields. The most anticipated lot from the grouping is, without a doubt, Lot 1226, an impressive, fully Armored Life Sized Horse with Mounted Rider--talk about a striking display piece. Other suits of note are Lot 3322, an intricate Harness of Armor in the Style of Filippo Negroli's Masks Garnitur, as well as Lot 3330, a Composite Late 16th Century 3/4 Harness of Armor. From armor to arms the grouping also features Lot 1245, a beautiful European Wheellock Sporting Gun with extensive Bone and Pearl Inlays along with two magnificent Tschinke Rifles, Lots 1227 and 3318. The early European items are just the beginning as this sale features magnificent arms, armor and edged weapons from Japan, which include three of the finest Katana's RIAC has ever cataloged, Lots 1389, 1400 and 3450.

From the very early European arms of the Ashby Collection the sale continues with beautiful and historic European Arms of the 18th, 19th and 20th centuries. Of particular importance is Lot 1182, a magnificent Cased Pair of French Engraved Gold Inlaid Underhammer Percussion Pistols by Gosset. This breathtaking set of pistols displays absolutely exquisite craftsmanship and artistry of intricate engraving and flawlessly executed gold inlays. Also of note is Lot 3316, a magnificent Pair of Cased Exhibition Quality French Prelat Gold Inlaid Percussion Target Pistols. While not European, Lot 1157, the Cook Signed Factory Exhibition Grade Relief Engraved Gold Inlaid Robbins & Lawrence Pepperbox Pistol with Ivory Grips, which was more than likely commissioned for the Crystal Palace Exhibition of 1851, is exceptional!

With nearly 600 Colts in this sale we must begin with Colt's very first firearms endeavor, the Paterson, as the sale features a Rare Belt Model No.3 Paterson Revolver, Lot 1069. We then follow Col. Colt to his next development, the Colt Model 1847 Walker Revolver, Lot 3069, the pinnacle for both U.S. Military arms collectors as well as Colt firearms collectors. From there we can observe a selection of the other rare and important Colt percussion firearms in the sale--the finest issued pair of Martially Inspected 2nd model Colt Dragoon revolvers extant, Lot 1091, and a stunning Martially Inspected 1851 Navy revolver, Lot 1092. As for the most iconic Colt pistol of all time, the Colt Model 1873 Single Action Army (aka "the Peacemaker"), the sale is headlined by the "big three"--Lot 1412, the Glahn Factory Engraved and Gold Inlaid Pre-War Colt Single Action Army Revolver with Steer Head Ivory Grips, Holster, and Factory Letter once belonging to M. Bertrand "Frisco Bert" Couch, a noted Texas immigration officer and colorful Western personality; Lot 1430, a historic and documented Factory Deluxe Engraved and Inscribed Colt Bisley Model Revolver with magnificent Carved Eagle Pearl Grips, Factory Letter and Tucson Arizona Marked Holster. One must stop to think that Colt produced only forty factory engraved and factory inscribed Bisley model revolvers; this particular Bisley's rarity is compounded with the documented factory silver plating and carved eagle pearl grips! Last, but certainly not least, is Lot 3211, a documented outstanding Hartley & Graham Engraved Colt Frontier Six-Shooter Single Action Revolver with Relief Carved Pearl Grip and Factory Letter. And finally, if it's engraved arms you are after, look no further than Lot 1839, an exquisite Documented Signed Master

Engraver Alvin A. White Exhibition Quality Engraved and Gold Inlaid Pre-World War II Colt Ace Semi-Automatic Pistol from the Sutherland Colt Collection. This is one of only a few pistols that can actually be called 100% coverage!

From high conditioned to factory engraved; to rare, nearly unheard of configurations; this sale has it all in quality and quantity when it comes to Winchesters. How about FIVE Henry rifles which

Lot 1069 include an iron frame (Lot 3107), an identified Civil War engraved rifle (Lot 3087), and, not to be overlooked, THE FINEST conditioned U.S. Inspected Henry Rifle ever before offered at public auction (Lot 1100). The sale includes phenomenal 1866's, 1873's, 1876's, 1892's, 1894's and 1895's. Of note, collectors will be delighted and impressed to see the award winning Winchester Model 1894 display collection of Gary Cote. The crescendo of the Winchester selection is, without a doubt, Lot 1006, an extraordinary and Important Fully Documented Deluxe Special Order "Engraved Like" 1 of 1000 J. Ulrich Signed Winchester Model 1873 Rifle.

Lever Actions represent only a fraction of the incredible Winchesters in this sale, as our sporting arms assemblage is headlined by the most complete and important grouping of over eighty Pre-64 Winchester Model 70 Rifles and Carbines!

Civil War collectors will be delighted to flip through the pages of this catalog as it is, without question, the most historic and impressive single grouping of arms from both sides of the conflict, North and South, which RIAC has ever offered. From the Confederacy the sale features Lot 1106, an exceptionally Rare Finest Known Dance & Brothers Confederate Percussion Revolver. This pistol is not only in remarkable condition, it is still loaded!! Other notable Confederate revolvers include Lot 1116, a Confederate Inspected LeMat (one of three in the sale); Lot 1147, a Confederate Griswold and Gunnison from the Confederate States Armory Museum; Lot 3108, a rare Documented Confederate Civil War Augusta Machine Works Percussion Twelve Stop Style Revolver Attributed to a Surgeon in The First Florida Infantry. Union arms include a Spectacular Spencer Army Model Repeating Rifle (Lot 1098); one of only 200 .36 Caliber Starr Navy Revolvers (Lot 1134); many ultra-high condition Civil War Carbines; and Lot 1126, a Magnificent Cased Civil War Presentation Model 1850 Staff & Field Officer Sword with Silver Figural Hilt.

Once again, RIAC is proud to bring to public auction the most impressive and rare 20th century military arms available. Included in this group is a World War II M1918A2 Browning Automatic Rifle (Lot 506); an impressive and encyclopedic collection of 1903 Rifles such as TWO 1903 Rod Bayonets and sniper rifles, one being Lot 1857; and an extraordinary Documented Experimental Springfield Model 1903 Sniper Rifle with Winchester A5 Scope. Of note is the historic collection of renowned German military arms, in particular P-38's from the Chuck and Sharon Lindley Collection. Talk about impressive! Here is a true student, nay a professor, who amassed the most impressive German military pistol collection we have ever seen. This is evident in his encyclopedic grouping of P-38 Pistols which includes every serial number block, every production code, and every manufacturer. His P-38's only scratch the surface as the collection also contains ultra-rare Lugers, PP's, and related ephemera.

From the earliest of matchlock and wheellock firearms to 16th century armor to the most modern sporting and Class III weapons, this sale is sure to have something for every level of firearms buyer. For more information on any of the above items, or to learn more about the other 2700+ items in this sale, please visit www.rockislandauction.com or call 1-800-238-8022.

Florida – The old saying that every season has a reason, seems to be spot on when it comes to people looking to purchase antiques and collectibles. The Asheford Institute of Antiques (AIA), a professional-level, distance learning program on antiques and appraising, recently released the results of an in depth survey it conducted on market trends in the antique business, which it compiled from students and former graduates.

The primary focus of the survey was to gauge interest in current trends of antiques and collectibles, based on sales and requests for particular items. And while no measurable scientific practices were employed, and the survey was informal in nature, the results were still quite interesting, said the schools publications Director, Tony Drew. "What we found was that there was a real generational shift in the marketplace, things that tended to "trend" upwards in a truly noticeable fashion, were much more the domain of younger buyers. Whereas items that seemed to have little or no Internet "buzz," remained fairly stable in their position of relative interest to potential customers, and were more often purchased by older buyers." In other words, said Drew, "Younger consumers seemed to be setting the trends as to what was hot and what was not – some what unusual occurrence in the world of antiques."

Don Kirpatrick, a 20-something dealer in the Northeast who participated in the school survey, said that while he still looks at everything when attending auctions for inventory, he now concentrates more heavily on items like Art Deco, and early primitives. "My clientele is primarily younger-hipster folks who want things from these periods, they're not looking for mid-Victorian pieces that are heavily decorated..." Staffers from the school who conducted the survey said this was a common theme they found when asking about what was selling. "Younger dealers had very different items and inventory when compared to older dealers," said Shirley Huey, one of the staffers who helped complete the survey, "Not only were they different in inventory, but in their marketing approaches as well."

Charles Green, current Director of the Institute, also noted that while 20 years ago most antiques stores often had a "little bit of everything," today's dealers tend to concentrate on items based on generational interest. "I think what we're finding, said Green, "is that bricks and mortar antique businesses are beginning to be more representative of what you see in online stores... a far greater degree of specialization is taking place, and the age of both the dealer and the customer seems to have something to do with that."

Green went on to stress that while the survey was by no means scientific, it still pointed out interesting trends within the today's antiques marketplace.

For readers seeking more information about the survey or the schools antiques and appraisal course, they can be contacted at: (877) 444-4508 or visit their web site at; www.asheford.com. The Midwest Antique & Art Show and The Collector's Eye

Customers expect to be impressed at the Midwest Antique and Art Show in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and the same expectation will be especially true for this Spring's Sunday, April 7th show. It is NOT your routine midwest antiques show where customers grow accustomed to the typical...glass, china, and oak offerings. The Midwest show prides itself in providing unique objects for the buying public. It is at this show where customers encounter objects usually only seen in magazines or reserved for the East or West coast audiences. It is difficult to describe the range of objects that are sold. Certainly significant pieces of art, furniture, sculptural weathervane, period textiles, carvings, cabin-themed accessories, Navajo weavings, paintings and a vast array of other interesting objects are hustled out the door to waiting vehicles with most patrons returning for additional purchases.

The Collector's Eye Show has an eager customer base that look forward to the show's diversity and emphasis on late 19th to mid 20th century, high-end collectibles and antiques representing advertising, country store, toys, jewelry, early holiday, mid 20th century furniture and accessories and much more. The Collector's Eye and the Midwest Antique and Art Show strongly compliment one another and provide shoppers with an expansive and ever-changing, quality shopping opportunity.

The shows are in the same Expo Center Building at the Hawkeye Downs fairgrounds located in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, at 4400 6th Street S.W., and a single $8 admission allows the customer access to both shows. The Midwest Show has 66 vendors and the Collector's Eye has 44 so the $8 entrance fee allows access to two shows and 110 dealers. Additionally, Hawkeye Downs has no parking fee! The show admission is a direct result of Hawkeye Downs facility costs which have escalated significantly in the last year. It may be helpful to contrast some other regional shows who may offer a lesser admission but also offer 1/2 as many dealers and, as a result, many fewer purchasing opportunities. Economy of scale makes the combined Midwest and Collector's Eye shows a bargain. Consider how far you would have to travel outside Iowa to find a comparable show with such a wide and varied selection of quality antiques, art and collectibles? Answer: a real, real long way...!

Please join us for our 27th year and 53rd show on Sunday, April 7th, 2013. The shows begin at 10 a.m., and last until 4 p.m. Come witness this special event, join the long lines waiting at the doors prior to 10 a.m., and see what the buzz and longevity of these shows is all about. Enthusiastic customers support quality shows and these two shows have a very loyal customer base.

Want to see photos of the Fall Midwest and Collector's Eye show's dealer booths? Go to www.mwan-tiqueshow.com, click photos and then click the respective show logo to see the booths or like us on Facebook. Sometimes pictures are truly worth a thousand words. We look forward to your visit Sunday, April 7th.

support for Big Brothers Big Sisters. The antique show is a benefit for Big Brothers Big Sisters, the nation's premier youth mentoring organization. Proceeds from the antique show will benefit children who are matched with a caring adult mentor through Big Brothers Big Sisters. It costs approximately $1,000 to recruit one adult volunteer, match them with one child and support them for one year. Last year the antique show raised over $10,000 for Big Brothers Big Sisters' mentoring programs. This year the goal is even higher because of the increasing need for children to be matched with caring adult mentors.

The antique show is generously sponsored by 1150 WHBY, KZ 104.3, Festival Foods, Liberty Hall Banquet & Conference Center, Coalesce Marketing & Design and Jeff Cherney, M.D./Women's Health Specialists.
