Zurko Promotions Hosts Second Show for New Berrien Springs, Michigan Location

Dealer Barb Loveland of Grand Rapids took a break to catch a snooze on her Herman Miller lounge chair and ottoman – while reading a book featuring the famous furniture maker! The set could be purchased for $2,500. Barbaraloveland@gmail.com

Many shoppers stopped to admire the 22" tall metal statue offered for $195 by Lowell Cender of Goshen, Indiana. (574)-534-1366.

The dealer and visitor turnout at the July 14th show was “a bit on the light side” according to show promoter Bob Zurko, he’s still “energized about the Berrien Springs, Michigan market.”

Dealers and visitors gave high marks to the new show which premiered with one event last year at the Youth Fairgrounds at Berrien Springs, about 35 miles north of South Bend, Indiana. Zurko stated “It’s a challenge to build all my markets,” adding “dealers have said they want this show to grow, with many saying they’ll return for the last event for this year on Sunday, September 15th.”

Beloit Auction & Realty - A Wisconsin Auction Institution for More Than Thirty Years

Auctioneer Rich Ranft with the very-rough but all original 1927 Chevrolet Capitol sedan. The two-owner vehicle had only 12,000 miles on the odometer, and sold for $1,850.

A $2,200 bid won this 86-piece Reed & Barton Francis I Sterling flatware set.

Quality and Variety - the two things folks expect when they attend a Beloit Auction & Realty sale. They most certainly weren't disappointed at their July 31st evening event, where attendees got the chance to bid on an unusual antique automobile, some choice 19th and 20th century furniture, a humongous pipe collection, and much more. Beloit Auction & Realty, located just west of the downtown business district, has built a loyal following in their thirty-plus years in the business, conducting weekly Wednesday night sales at their dedicated auction gallery, plus numerous on-site real estate and specialty auctions.

Dated 1924 Beaux Arts des Modes color fashion plates, 180 in all sold for - $525.

Best of the furniture: this Victorian walnut cylinder-front secretary/desk that sold for $750.

Auctioneer Bill Perkins, Jr. chums it up with an old black bear cub taxidermy piece that later sold for $275.

Out & About

School has started for some areas, be sure to slow down for the school zones and watch for those morning buses. It seems summer went incredibly fast this year. I'm not sure if it was because the kids are older now, or the fact that the girls would take turns coming to work with me. Tia came the most often, she has been writing a book, and likes to work on new notes for her binder and types up her story on her computer. Kenzy says the book is so good, that she wanted Tia to finish it so that she could know what happens next. Of course, (the rest of us) are not allowed to read it yet. Sometimes, I think she just likes the peace and quiet. Kenzy loves music while she does chores or anything, so sometimes it gets loud in the house. Both girls have been busy this summer now that Kenzy is on high school hockey. They work out two to three times a week, along with two nights of hockey practices and one weekly goalie camp.

Tia attends everything, as she is Kenzy's biggest fan and now the "Team Manager", she is perfect for the job. The other parents love having someone who is so responsible and that loves to keep things organized.

Grandpa & Grandma took Brandon to see some of his families history. They took him to a Civilian Conservation Corps camp at Polack Lake in Rapid River, Michigan. Brandon's Great Grandpa (Bob's father) worked there back in the 1930's. This was a camp where he would stay after he had walked 10 miles of his 20 mile journey. Here he was able to warm up & get something to eat after being in -18° weather. The next morning he would get up to walk the rest of his 10 mile journey to the actual C.C.C. camp. Brandon enjoyed hearing & being able to physically see the history to go with the story.

Wednesday Night Fun at Beloit Auction & Realty's Weekly Consignment Auction

Article & Photos by Brian Maloney

For lots of area antique enthusiasts, Wednesday evenings just wouldn't be the same without the weekly United Country Beloit consignment auction. You never know what you'll find on any given Wednesday. One week might feature contemporary furnishings, the next tools or vintage jewelry. And one sale each month is reserved for the best antique & collectible consignments - like this July 31st sale I attended.

Many in the crowd came for a look at one of the sale's featured items: a 1927 Chevrolet Capitol sedan with only 12,000 miles on the odometer. "The car has had only two owners over its nearly ninety year life," said auctioneer Rich Ranft. That second owner, who'd purchased it in 1970, brought the vehicle to the auction along with a full family history which he related to Ranft.

"The original owner bought the car new from the Chevrolet dealer in Leaf River, Illinois in 1927. He told us of riding to town with his father on the buckboard to look at new cars. This Chevrolet dealer had one just like this one. His father drove it, and they decide to buy an identical one. The money was paid and the order was placed to the factory by phone that day. The next day they returned on the buckboard, riding to Janesville in the dealer's car where they received a tour of the factory, picking up the car at the end of the line to drive home."

The car was used until 1939, stored and used again for a short period in 1945. "Rough" is the best word I could find to describe the car; but with a great story, low miles, plus its original owner's manual and some spare parts was still a nice buy at $1,850.

Furniture was another of the evening's big draws. Most did quite well pricewise, the best of the bunch a restored 19th century walnut cylinder-front secretary/desk that sold for $750. Other furniture highlights included a vintage Jacobean-style oak dining suite that surprised many by bringing $725, and an oak side-by-side secretary that fetched $675.

And that huge smoking pipe collection? It was sold in two large lots, with the first bringing $1,200, the second $500. Other auction highlights ranged from a large Reed & Barton Sterling flatware set selling for $2,200 to a lot of vintage fashion jewelry (including Miriam Haskell pieces) that made $800. All of the 300-plus lots were on their way home with new owners within a few hours, thanks to the efficient Beloit Auction staff.

Some other prices:

- Lexington Palmer House mahogany bedroom suite - $550.
- 27-piece Alvin Sterling flatware set - $485.
- Vintage Polarine porcelain advertising thermometer - $425.
- Weeden toy steam engine with accessory - $375.
- P. Buckley Moss original watercolor "Solitary Soul" - $270.
- Country walnut & cherry chest, refinished - $250.

Beloit Auction & Realty has been serving southern Wisconsin's auction needs for more than thirty years, conducting weekly Wednesday evening auctions at their dedicated auction facility in downtown Beloit. And while classic Chevy sedans don't cross the block here every week, there's always something interesting at every Beloit Auction & Realty sale. They also conduct many real estate and business liquidation auctions, plus specialty auctions at their sister facility in nearby Avalon, Wisconsin. They can be reached at 877-364-1965.

Be sure to bookmark their website too, www.beloitauktion.com, for the latest information on all their upcoming auctions. Many of their antique and collectible auctions can be previewed online as well. You can leave an absentee bid, or bid in "real time" on auction night if you want. And as always, keep an eye out for all of their upcoming auctions in the Auction Action Antique News!

Book Description

The closure of the era of chemical imaging coincided with the turn of the 21st century: now is the perfect time to review what photography has been, consider what it is now, and contemplate what it will become. With contributions from 20 collectors and scholars, the collections in this book range from 1840–1940, including camera obscuras and cyanotypes to autochromes, stereoscopes, daguerreotypes. Also included are American tintypes and ambrotypes, the miniature and intricate stanhopes, magic lanterns and other optical toys, megalithoscopes, and zoetropes, and many more. Each collector has written a meticulous study to introduce their photographic passion, and with over 500 images (most never before published) of cameras and photographs alike, the truly marvelous nature of the camera and the miraculous technologies that enabled them are revealed. The transcendence and “wonder of wonders!” that is ever present within photography can still be honestly and freshly felt today. Dealers Embrace New Berrien Springs, MI Show

Article & Photos by Jack Kelly

You bet I'll be back," said dealer Larry Simpson of Niles, Mich., as he attached a "sold" tag on 4' long Civil War musketoon tagged at $650. Many people stopped to admire his 30" long "cabin shaped" primitive toolbox priced at $225, which he said was "one of most unusual I've ever seen."

Another primitive container, an 1850s sewing box with hand carved decorations and metal corners, was offered for $85 by Paul Funk of Funks Junk, Waldron, Mich. Movie and advertising poster collectors had a choice of eight different 1940s cardboard movie posters from the the Quincy, Mich., Our Theater priced at $12 each.

What one visitor called "serious antiques" were offered by Roger Fletcher of Blanchard, Mich. A Qing dynasty 15" tall bronze statue was priced at $4,500, while an 18" carved wood 1800s Kenya mask could be displayed for $300. The dealer said other items in his booth were priced at $15 and up.

Still other early antiques were shown by Darren Bianco of Granger, Ind., including an 1830s French cavalry steel breast plate priced at $550, a 16th century Indo-Persian oval shield tagged $1,200 and an 1800s British cavalry officer breast plate priced at $650.

It was a family outing for Phil and Kay Garrison and daughter Melinda who traveled from Plymouth, Ind. They showed off a Victorian woven basket tagged at $37.50 that looked right at home on top of a painted white 1870s Eastlake style commode which was offered for $125. Many stopped to admire the 1997 contemporary sterling silver bracelet marked "Tiffany" that could grace your wrist for $145.

Collectors of designer furniture checked out the pair of 1970s Herman Miller Eames chaise lounge chairs with matching ottoman. Dealer Barb Loveland of Grand Rapids, Mich., priced the set at $2,500. Loveland's boothmate, Linda Powell, also of Grand Rapids, showed a 1930s picnic basket containing a silver plate sandwich box, salt and pepper box and Bunsen burner that could be displayed -- or used -- for $350.

Howard Busse of Anvil Antiques, of St. Joseph, Mich., pointed out a "12-inch tall salesman sample axe" priced at $125. Weller pottery collectors were wowed by his early 1900s bird design pitcher that could be taken home for $125.

Traveling from Mt. Prospect, Ill., Sylvia Giannini caught jewelry collectors' eyes with a long string display of 100 earrings that could be purchased for $10 per pair and worn at the show. A 1950s seed-bead decorated 1950s purse in a "rare yellow color" could decorate your arm for $85.

Ray Mellinder of Sunset Junque of South Haven, Mich., spread out in a grassy outside booth to show 30" tall letters spelling "YMCA" for $100 while a smaller set spelling "HOME" was priced at $40. Mellinder said his Lake Michigan shop 5 miles north of South Haven contained many thousands of architectural and eclectic items priced at $5 and up, with a "free Sunset Junque T-shirt awarded to buyers if their pile of purchases is big enough."

Hundreds of glass pieces filled the booth of Jim Cooper, of Modern Times Antiques, Grand Haven, Mich. The dealer called attention to "a very unusual color yellow butter print" design four-piece Pyrex bowl set offered for $130. Ice cream parlor collectors checked out his 1940s Carnation malted milk glass container with tin lid priced at $175, while a 1950s Nesbitt's Hot Fudge electric pot could be displayed, or used, for $65.

A long line of 1800s oil lamps filled the top shelf display of Bill and Juanita Wallis of Stevensville, Mich. The early lighting devices were priced from $48 to $195 each. An unusual deco shaped 1930s cast metal advertising ashtray was tagged at $35.

One shopper was happy as he left the fairgrounds after "making a purchase for a friend." Bill Norton, a breweriana collector from Augusta, Mich., showed off a wood Miller beer sign he bought for a buddy. Norton said he collects pre-prohibition items from the old T.M. Norton Brewing Co., in Anderson, Ind., adding, "I made some great buys at the show but nothing for my collection -- maybe in September".

The Berrien Springs Show was one of four different markets that were run by Zurko Promotions on the same weekend. The busy promoter said there are events held 40 weekends per year run by his firm, with "the biggest and best" at Grays Lake, Ill.

The next Berrien Springs show is scheduled for Sept. 15. For more information: call 715-526-9769 or visit www.zurkopromotions.com.

American Cut Glass Association

The American Cut Glass Association is devoted to the study and research of American Brilliant Cut Glass. The Brilliant Period lasted from approximately 1876 to around 1914. The Association offers a number of member benefits including a newsletter published 10 times a year, an annual convention, regional chapters, and Brilliant Weekends - special events held by ACGA chapters.

The ACGA's website homepage consists of some cut glass illustrations, a welcoming statement, bulletin board and navigation menu. This menu, serving as a site map, does an excellent job of directing first time visitors to the various sections on the website.

Divided into five columns, there is a column of features on the American Cut Glass Association, itself, including their history, organization, code of ethics, endowment fund and gifts & Acquisitions fund. another column offers segments on member benefits while a third column features information and photos of examples of Brilliant Cut Glass. The fourth and fifth column comprise information on the ACGA Store and contact information.
