Firearms & Military Bring Strong Prices at Two Cady Auction Gallery Events

Article & photos by Cady Auction Gallery

Cady Auction Gallery is still showing strong sales for Firearms and Militaria. They have held 8 gun & military related auctions in 2013 at their auction facility in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, with the latest being held July 13th and August 10th. Both auctions featured guns from antiques to modern, a variety of ammunition and military items from the Civil War to Vietnam. The demand for quality items has continued to be strong. Anyone considering consigning their property to be sold, can check all the prices realized for Cady Auction's past sales by visiting their website.

The Minocqua Independence Day Weekend Antiques Show - Wisconsin's Northwoods Gem

Article & photos by Brian Maloney

When you hear the word Minocqua, you instantly think of Wisconsin's beautiful Northwoods. For over a century, tourists have been coming to the area to fish, boat, golf, or just plain relax. And for the past nineteen years, tourists and locals alike have been coming to what has become one of northern Wisconsin's finest antique events - the Minocqua Independence Day Weekend Antiques Show. The show's promoters, Carol Zache and Judy Fuchsen of C & J Promotions, have done a terrific job of organizing antiques events all over the area, and now oversee a successful show in the nearby city of Boulder Junction, as well as a second summer show right here in Minocqua.

Here's an interesting Arts & Crafts desk from Indian Creek Antiques - given as a premium with the purchase of a set of World Book Encyclopedias, asking price $650. 262-363-7338

Out & About

I know most of us have busy lives, but try to take a few minutes out of your day and check on your elderly friends and neighbors during this late season heat wave. It surprises me at how many elderly do not have air conditioning. Tia asked her Great Grandpa on this visit when did he get his first air conditioning, he replied that is my first one. He has had it for some years now, but as a kid when I would stay up north with my grandparents for the summers, there was no air conditioning. Air conditioning was hoping there was a breeze that would blow in your window that night. Tia is a big history buff, not just about life history but of world history. She loves asking any and all kinds of questions.

The first day we visited Grandpa & Cathy it was 92 degrees. Tia washed Cathy's car, Brandon helped Cathy figure out her new car, and Kenzy cleaned the garage out. When we all finished our jobs, we went inside to cool down. Grandpa told Tia some of his old stories, like how he had to walk 3 miles to school in snow & about some of his jobs he had as a young man. Brandon and Kenzy talked to Cathy about school and hockey. Later that same day we ate KFC chicken, biscuits, and potato wedges for dinner with him and Cathy. The second day we visited, Great Grandpa gave us girls some of our Great Grandmas jewelry & Brandon an old belt buckle and tie clip. It was nice to see Great Grandpa and Cathy and we hope to see them again later this year.

Dealers Shine at 19th Annual Minocqua Antiques Show

Article & Photos by Brian Maloney

One of the translations of the Native American word Minocqua is “a pleasant place”, and that it surely is. The surrounding area is known as Wisconsin’s Lakeland district. Over 3,200 lakes dot the area - one of the highest concentrations of lakes in the world. Oneida County, where Minocqua is located, itself has an amazing 1,100 lakes within its borders.

Summer is wonderful but short here in the Northwoods, and the town’s population of just under 5,000 swells to many times that with vacationers. The Minocqua Antiques Show certainly gets into the Northwoods spirit too, with many of the dealers focusing on the primitive, country, and sporting antiques that would be perfect additions to any vacation home.

LeAnn Swiggum of J & L Antiques is one of those dealers, specializing in rustic furniture and accessories. “This is always among our best shows, sales-wise,” said Swiggum, “and a lot of those sales are from customers that have bought from us here year-after-year.”

Judy’s Antiques continued the Northwoods theme, with lodge furniture galore, plus some funky “outsider art” from noted Appalachian folk artist Randy Tobias. And primitives were all you’d find at first-time exhibitor The Farmer’s Daughter, their display filled with choice American country pieces.

Sporting collectibles more your thing? Look no further than Perennial Antiques, who always has a few vintage sporting pieces mixed in with their inventory of “up north” & cottage furnishings. One of them was easily the largest piece of the show: a vintage 14’ wooden rowboat ($1,450) made by The Arctic Fisherman - the Wisconsin company better known for making the Beaver Dam tip-up.

Jewelry collectors surely weren’t disappointed with the selection at the show either. At the booth of Sunshine Treasures, shoppers found a wide array of fine jewelry ranging from 19th century garnet bracelets and shell cameo brooches to stylish Art Deco pieces. Somewhere in Time made quite a jewelry-splash too, with their display of period Czech Art Deco and Art Nouveau necklaces and earrings.

It’s always worth a trip to the Northwoods just for the Minocqua Antiques Show. But of course, there’s so much more to do in the area. Minocqua is the perfect place for a weekend getaway or a summer family vacation. Just go to Minocqua’s website www.minocqua.org, where you can request a free visitor’s guide. C & J Promotions actually does two shows here in Minocqua each summer, plus a show in the nearby town of Boulder Junction. Carol Zache, the “C” of C & J Promotions, certainly knows the area well. She’s lived in Minocqua her entire life, with her ancestors settling here over a century ago. C & J Promotions can be contacted at 715-588-3665. And as always, keep an eye out for all of their upcoming show listings in the Auction Action Antique News!

Furnishings at Iowa’s Garriott Antiques ranged from this Mid-Century trio ($85 to $95) to this Old Hickory rocking chair, asking price $375. 217-795-4811

More rustic furniture from Garriott Antiques: the riced at $225, the hickory & Formica motel vanity at $450. 217-795-4811

Highlights at Pamela Ewig Antiques included this folk art corner shelf (20” x 36”, $550) and through-tenon Arts & Crafts library table, the surface measuring 21” x 39” - $275. 262-965-5869

Great look to this well-worn folk art rocking horse from J & L Antiques, price tag $185. 608-249-3796

Sunshine Treasures is best known for its huge selection of fine jewelry, but also brought along this wonderful Limoges porcelain fish service ($1,800) and set of 12 circa 1900 Royal Doulton/ Bailey, Banks, & Biddle plates - $1,275. 414-463-1796

Judy Fuchsen of Judy’s Antiques & Collectibles relaxes at a 6’ rustic dining table ($1,895) surrounded by six matching Old Hickory side chairs - $495 each. 630-258-5577

It was all-hands-on-deck when a lucky shopper snagged this massive relief-carved western-themed plaque rescued from Shawano, Wisconsin’s defunct L & L Ranch.

Primitives are always the focus at J & L Antiques, among the inventory this two-drawer dry sink ($495) and blind-front kitchen cupboard in old mustard paint - $565. 608-249-3796

Set of 12 matching Wedgwood Sterling goblets with gold-wash interior, from Sunshine Treasures - $489 each. 414-463-1796

I found this bright yellow primitive cupboard & flour bin at Homecoming Hill Antiques - 48" wide and priced at $645. 262-949-5481

From Indian Creek Antiques, a stylish Wildfowler canvasback drake decoy - price tag $235. 262-363-7338

Judy's Antiques & Collectibles displayed this trio of folk art pieces by Appalachian outsider artist Randy Tobias: the signs priced at $265 each, the patriotic boots at $85. 630-258-5577

From American Heritage, a 44" wide jelly cupboard with eight punched-tin panels ($395) topped with period copperware priced from $45 to $65. 715-588-3665

My toy favorite at American Heritage: this mint-condition Japanese Marionette Theatre windup with celluloid figures - $1,600. 715-588-3665

Two painted primitives from Crooked Ladder Antiques: the 48" tall corner cupboard priced at $395, the 24" wide washstand in pale blue also at $395. 920-327-2387

Somewhere in Time brought their impressive array of high-end 1920s Czech jewelry, hidden away in a warehouse for 80 years. Here are a few of necklace examples, with most priced from $300 to $600. 708-579-3749

There were plenty of handmade 1920s Czech fashion earrings as well at Somewhere in Time, with most priced from $90 to $165 a pair. 708-579-3749

Noted Chicago collector Jo Addie of Somewhere in Time with an unusual Art Nouveau copper & art glass cigar lighter, asking price $235. 708-579-3749

A choice group of period Art Deco leather purses awaited at Somewhere in Time, including this great Egyptian-themed example. 708-579-3749

There was plenty of period advertising to choose from at Homecoming Hill Antiques, like this folky & early Wisconsin "City Limits" tin sign - 24" long & priced at $525. 262-949-5481

The Farmer's Daughter lived up to their slogan "Primitives & Nothing Else," bringing finds including this 38"-wide meal bin with traces of old red paint ($325) and rustic tabletop desk - $98. 715-845-8388

Two very different wall-hanging handi-crafts from Gwen LeFevre Antiques: the 22" wide carved spoon-rack priced at $169, the 10" dyed-hickory Ho-Chunk wall basket at $79. 715-442-2086

Want to venture a guess as to what this brass instrument is? From Brass Candlestick Antiques, it's a Japanese scribe's traveling pen & ink-holder, asking price $48. 920-478-3223

Thirsty? How 'bout this circa 1940s Shenley Black Label Whiskey back-bar bank from Brass Candlestick Antiques, price tag 139. 920-478-3223

Biggest piece at the show? Most certainly this vintage Arctic Fisherman wooden rowboat displayed by Perennial Antiques, asking price $1,450. 715-277-3043

An extra-primitive bucket bench & shelf displayed by The Farmer's Daughter ($495), topped by an early dough trough - $245. 715-845-8388

Stop by Terry Wandsnider's Brass Candlestick Antiques and he'll give you some quick tips on dating copperware - like the differences in construction between these 1830s and 1930s tankards. 920-478-3223

Hopi Kachinas: History, Legends, and Art

Buy This Book

Price: $49.99

Ron Pecina and Bob Pecina

Book Details

ISBN: 9780764344299 • Size: 8 1/2" x 11" • Illustrations: 155 color images

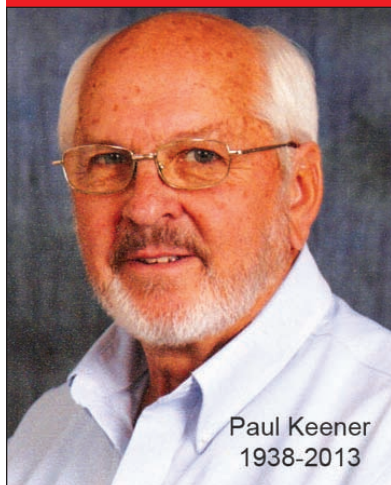

Pages: 192 • Availability: Mar 2013 • Binding: Hard Cover

Book Description: The Hopi Indian's rich culture and exciting religious ceremonies continue to thrive. However, outsiders have limited opportunity to witness the exciting Katsina dances and ceremonies of the Hopi, save through the well-known and much prized kachina dolls the Katsina spiritually inform. Presenting work from a select set of recognizable Hopi artists, this book relates the detailed history and culture of the Hopis in tandem with their creative efforts to showcase that framework: from remarkable paintings to the kachina sculptures and dolls that manifest as physical representations of the Katsinam, the Hopis' spiritual beings. These pieces complement the Pecina's studious and informative narrative of chronological vignettes and text based on a careful selection of events in Hopi history, oral teachings of great cultural significance, and legends of the Katsinam. Hopi Kachinas presents a clear and meticulous portrait of the Hopis beliefs, history, legends, their Katsina celebrations, and the personas of the Katsinam. This book illuminates the stage of study for scholars, and is vital for students of the Hopi culture.

Simmons & Company Announces Incredible 3-Day Auction for “Mr. Keen Kutter”- Paul Keener Estate, Carlisle, PA. *

Sept. 19, 20, 21, Richmond, MO

Paul Keener
1938-2013

Simmons & Company Auctioneers, Inc. is indeed proud to conduct this incredible auction. Paul Keener, a dear friend and fellow collector, went home to be with His Lord, earlier this year. A Charter Member of The Hardware Companies Collectors Klub, (THCKK), he served as President three terms, and on the board in various capacities. He made the trip to Missouri from Pennsylvania every year for every Klub Auction, as well as coming back for dozens of others over the years. He commented many times that he especially enjoyed the fellowship with the friends he'd collected, not just buying at the auctions. His collection is HUGE. Paul traveled extensively in the Mid-Atlantic and North Eastern states, and was a familiar face at all the major (and most of the minor) shows, flea markets and extravaganzas and acquainted with hundreds of antique shop owners and collectors throughout the region, known simply as Mr. Keen Kutter or that “Keen Kutter” man!!! He asked us to conduct the dispersal of his collection at public auction so that serious collectors would have the opportunity to enjoy these items as much as he did. There will be something of interest for all collectors, from newbies to seasoned vets. Due to the sheer quantity of items, it will be a bonanza for dealers as well. Bob says, “If Simmons made it and if you're looking for it, Paul's collection will probably have it!!!”

ECS Keen Kutter Shears
-Scissors Display

There is an incredible array of items, with many, many rare items and a whole raft of extremely scarce, seldom seen items....some are so hard-to-find, that we haven't even seen them in our 33 years of doing specialty auctions. Auction includes the extremely rare and desirable Gibson Turkey Call with Simmons Hdwe. as sole agent, (this is an early wooden box call) and some really scarce wooden Fishing Plugs. There are three-

History has been made! The Federal Trade Commission and the Professional Show Managers Association (PSMA) have jointly taken a giant step in educating the public about fraud in the world of antiques and collectibles and the Wisconsin Antique Dealers Association, dedicated to honesty and authenticity in the trade of antiques, has joined the effort!

A yearlong crusade, led by Nancy Johnson and Dordy Fontinel, board members of the Professional Show Managers Association, has resulted in the printing and mass distribution of hundreds of thousands of colorful informative bookmarks. Titled “Antiques, How to Shop Wisely”, the educational pieces give bullet points of information to be considered when shopping for antiques.

“When shopping for antiques and collectibles, ask the dealer. How long have you been in business? How do you know any item is genuine, not a fake or reproduction? What are your criteria for identifying the item? Will you give me a written guarantee that the item is authentic? What is your return policy?”

In addition, Johnson and Fontinel were successful in their request that Consumer Information on Safely Shopping for Antiques and Collectibles be added to the FTC website. The two women spent nearly six months working with the FTC on the specific information that is now available. The recently posted article may be accessed by visiting the FTC.gov website or simply googling FTC antiques.

When PSMA President Nancy Johnson wrote an article in the Association’s Winter 2007 newsletter entitled “When Did It Become OK To Cheat Someone?”, a commentary on our world’s complacency about being defrauded, show promoter Dordy Fontinel responded and began a dialogue with Johnson about the problem of fakes and fraud in the world of antiques and collectibles. This dialogue resulted in Fontinel speaking with Sen. John Warner, subsequent meetings with his staff and the Federal Trade Commission.

Last June, Fontinel and Johnson met with Jeanne Bumpus, Director of Congressional Affairs at the FTC, and members of the planning and information division of the FTC. Their goal was to have Antiques & Collectibles recognized as “consumer items” and to encourage the FTC to take note of the rampant fraud, which is taking place under the guise of “Antiques”. The FTC agreed and the process began. Knowingly selling a fake is criminal fraud in most states.

PSMA also feels that the bookmarks will provide a convenient opportunity for anyone interested in educating the buying public and fighting the cause. PSMA encourages show promoters, dealers, shop and mall managers, club members, and auctioneers to get involved, therefore PSMA is offering the bookmarks at their cost.

The battle has just begun! Now that the FTC has issued an Alert that selling an antique or collectible item that is not authentic is Fraud, Fontinel and Johnson feel more consumer protection will occur on the state and local level. Such fraud can be reported directly on the Federal Trade Commission site at: <http://www.ftc.gov/bcp/index.shtml> . Choose the tab "File A Complaint."

These informative bookmarks are given to attendees of the Wisconsin Antique Dealers Association shows held in Waukesha each October & February.
(See www.wisconsinantiquedealers.com)

Or, to order bookmarks in quantity, send a check made payable to PSMA to the PSMA Offices, Attn: FTC Project, P.O. Box 30, Bloomfield CT 06002. The cost of the bookmarks, including Priority Mail, is $25 per 1000 or a single package of 200 for $10. (PSMA is a non-profit trade association of consumer show managers, with the majority of its members in the Antiques & Collectible fields.)

Lake Geneva Antique Mall Celebrates Its 25th Anniversary In Business

article by Lydia Reynolds

Lake Geneva Antique Mall celebrates its twenty-fifth business anniversary this year. In the Spring, owner Scott Lancour, hosted a catered open house to mark this milestone. Dealers, employees and customers had a chance to meet and mingle and reminisce.

In February 1988, with only twenty-five dealers, uncertain expectations and a leaky roof, Scott opened. Within weeks dealers packed the remaining booths, there were plenty of eager shoppers and soon the roof was replaced.

"I thought Lake Geneva would be a good place for an antique mall," Scott recalls, "but I didn't expect it to be full-time as quickly as it did."

Twenty-five years ago Ronald Reagan was president. Gas pumped for .91 cents a gallon. Sterling silver stood at $6.00 per ounce, gold $437.00. Tom Clancy, Lee Iococca and Dean Koontz were hot reads. Lockerbie, Scotland, combed through PanAm wreckage of interminable terrorism, while Yellowstone battled wildfires. On television, improbably inventive MacGuyver thrilled fans; at the movies Rainman stormed Vegas and Die Hard wouldn't. August 8, 1988, the lights went on at Wrigley Field, it's first ever night game. And Lake Geneva had no store entirely dedicated to antique fanciers.

With its Mid-western town atmosphere, the Mall is as comfortable with the wealthy patron as the green beginner. Scott's mom, Connie, handles bookkeeping, assisting customers with deft kindness and her charming laugh. Dad Bernie, expertly mends finds and puts finishing touches to pieces ready to display. At times their grandchildren help, gaining valuable skills. Scott welcomes the computer savvy of son, Blaine, for the Lake Geneva Antique Mall.

"In 1988, Country Living Magazine was a major influence in what people bought, how they decorated," Scott reflects. "Now it's internet and blog driven."

In recent years, the collectible market has felt the downturn. Roseville and Weller, once highly desirable, have seen a drop off. Dolls and toys in general are down. Collectors no longer amass hundreds of a particular genre, but shoppers are returning. Scott sees newer buyers purchase strictly to decorate with or use. "They're drawn to vintage office and commercial furniture, often repurposed. The pop-culture memorabilia appeals to them."

Business is steady as easy-going Scott takes calls, acquires a china set and works with buyers. Mall dealers are in and out, tending booths. Classical music drifts overhead unobtrusively.

Mall employees are capable and friendly. Jim, with a childhood steeped in the antiques business, has worked here twenty years. A Mall dealer within the first couple years, Jim states, "Before this mall opened, the only antique-shopping in Lake Geneva was a few scattered houses with a room or two of antiques. The Mall filled a niche in this area." Speaking modestly of his background, he admits knowing "a bit about antiques in general".

Ginger, full-time since 2000, plunged into the antiquing world in 1994. At heart an archeologist, she loves being surrounded by the past. "Changes? Days of the purist collector are gone.

People now mix antique and modern." She downplays her expertise in pottery and jewelry. Fearless with power tools, Ginger has a thorough command of wood and furniture and Scott relies on her abilities.

Jeanie's antiquing credentials go back twenty years, the past eight with Lake Geneva Antique Mall. Her forte includes textiles, china and small primitives, appreciating "old things had a former life. There are fewer impulse purchases now, but good, unique things will always sell." She attributes the success of Lake Geneva Antique Mall to "hard work, great staff," she quipped, smiling, "REAL antiques and good dealers. Dealers have to work harder than they used to."

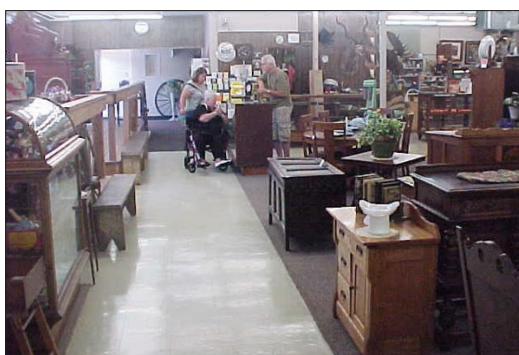

Long-time customer Dean, declares, "Quality abounds here-no junky stuff." Once a collector of farm machinery, he now looks for more manageable pieces. "Have patience," he promised, "it may not be here today, but keep checking - it'll be here."

A look around the Mall confirms his opinion. Booths are clean and orderly. Unusual advertising signs, art, primitives, delicate china, precious metals. Mid-century Modern keeps pace with impressive Victorian, mission-style and Arts and Crafts. Lighting reflects the gleam of rifles and rhinestones.

Scott's outlook is on the future of antiques. He says, "We adapt to changing times and trends." The irony of using 21st Century technology to market the past is on display. "People photograph items with their smart phones and share it with friends before making purchases," Scott explains. "We've started a TWITTER account along with our Facebook page. We're planning to link these to other websites. Pinterest for one."

If it's been a while since you visited, now is the perfect opportunity. Acquiring vintage isn't simply buying something; you're saving a memory. The past may be prologue, but at Lake Geneva Antique Mall it's also past-perfect!

Lake Geneva Antique Mall is located at 829 Williams Street in Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. We are open 7 days a week from 10am to 5pm and can be reached at 262-248-6345. You can also follow us on twitter at LGAntiqueMall or on facebook, you can also email lgam@genevaonline.com

Florida – The old saying that every season has a reason, seems to be spot on when it comes to people looking to purchase antiques and collectibles. The Asheford Institute of Antiques (AIA), a professional-level, distance learning program on antiques and appraising, recently released the results of an in depth survey it conducted on market trends in the antique business, which it compiled from students and former graduates.

The primary focus of the survey was to gauge interest in current trends of antiques and collectibles, based on sales and requests for particular items. And while no measurable scientific practices were employed, and the survey was informal in nature, the results were still quite interesting, said the schools publications Director, Tony Drew. "What we found was that there was a real generational shift in the marketplace, things that tended to "trend" upwards in a truly noticeable fashion, were much more the domain of younger buyers. Whereas items that seemed to have little or no Internet "buzz," remained fairly stable in their position of relative interest to potential customers, and were more often purchased by older buyers." In other words, said Drew, "Younger consumers seemed to be setting the trends as to what was hot and what was not – some what unusual occurrence in the world of antiques."

Don Kirpatrick, a 20-something dealer in the Northeast who participated in the school survey, said that while he still looks at everything when attending auctions for inventory, he now concentrates more heavily on items like Art Deco, and early primitives. "My clientele is primarily younger-hipster folks who want things from these periods, they're not looking for mid-Victorian pieces that are heavily decorated..." Staffers from the school who conducted the survey said this was a common theme they found when asking about what was selling. "Younger dealers had very different items and inventory when compared to older dealers," said Shirley Huey, one of the staffers who helped complete the survey, "Not only were they different in inventory, but in their marketing approaches as well."

Charles Green, current Director of the Institute, also noted that while 20 years ago most antiques stores often had a "little bit of everything," today's dealers tend to concentrate on items based on generational interest. "I think what we're finding, said Green, "is that bricks and mortar antique businesses are beginning to be more representative of what you see in online stores... a far greater degree of specialization is taking place, and the age of both the dealer and the customer seems to have something to do with that."

Green went on to stress that while the survey was by no means scientific, it still pointed out interesting trends within the today's antiques marketplace.

62nd Fall Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association Show ~ Features 58 Dealers From 7 States

Gas is expensive! Time is dear! Collectors know the real cost of an antiques road trip these days. Solution? Make one stop on October 4 & 5 and visit 58 dealers at the upcoming Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association Show in Waukesha. In addition to WADA member exhibitors, there will be a record number of non-member participants, many from Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and Minnesota who rarely exhibit in Wisconsin. Here collectors will find a wide variety of antiques offerings from 7 states all under one roof.

Gathering for their 62nd consecutive autumn show, many of the most respected dealers in the Midwest will offer fresh-to-market wares. Authenticity, condition and rarity are the guidelines for merchandise exhibited by their carefully-chosen antiques professionals.

The Wisconsin Antiques Dealers Association (called W.A.D.A. by many) was formed in 1948, making it the oldest, continually-functioning State antiques organization in America. Their not-for-profit group is dedicated to preserving Wisconsin's heritage and to providing ongoing education for their dealers and the general public - thus their free exhibit, "Antique Firefighting Memorabilia", a mere 142 years after the October, 1871 Peshtigo & Chicago fires that changed Wisconsin's great timberlands forever.

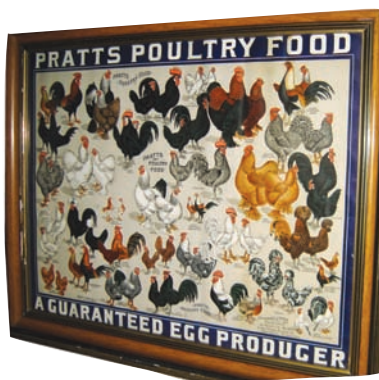

Finding insurance companies that understand antiques collections can often be a challenge. As a public service a representative from the Antiques and Collectibles National Association, Davidson, North Carolina, will be on hand to answer insurance questions for collectors and dealers alike.

The Waukesha County Expo Center's Forum Building, 1000 Northview Road, Waukesha, WI 53188, is the home of this event. Show hours are Friday, 11-9 and Saturday, 10-5. In addition to the good food customers have come to expect, a Friday Night Fish Fry has been added to the menu so bring your appetite! Admission of $6.00 funds scholarships for high school students as well as grants to Wisconsin historic and heritage groups.
